Becoming a Better Sports Coach Andreas Carlsson, 2021-09-20

Research on coaching education and development highlights repeatedly the difficulties of traditional coaching education to impact coaching practice. Practice seems to be disconnected from scientific theory with few coaches accessing the scientific literature as it too often is presented in dry academic tones. This volume sets out to provide an integration of theory and everyday practice that to date has not yet been published in the field of coaching science in a text easily used by sports coaches. In order to bridge this theory to practice gap, Becoming a Better Sports Coach: Development through Theory Application presents theory and science connected to practice in a way that makes it possible for coaches to test, evaluate, and improve upon their existing coaching practice. This hands-on approach sets out to improve coaches' cognition and raising self-awareness as well as improve coaches' learning using specific tools for behavioural feedback and reflection. Improving on self-reflective skills and eliciting feedback on the coach's own behaviour is how coaching practice is improved. What coaching practice includes and what is laid out for coaches in this new text is motivational climate, coaching behaviours, pedagogy, feedback, coach-athlete relationship; each in one chapter. Reflection and behavioural feedback are applied to each of these areas.

FAA General Aviation News, 1967

Southern California's World War II Aircraft Cory Graff, Patrick DeVine, 2016

The cities of Los Angeles and San Diego were boomtowns during World War II. California aviation companies designed many of the greatest combat aircraft of the era and bustling armies of women and men helped quickly churn them out by the thousands. An astounding 41 percent of all US warplanes came from California drawing boards during the war. These planes saw combat service everywhere from the deserts of North Africa to the frozen tundra of Alaska. Southern California planes were the first to bomb Japan. They turned the tide of the Battle of Midway and dropped paratroopers behind enemy lines on D Day. They flew tons of fuel, ammunition, and supplies over the treacherous Himalayan Mountains, relentlessly hunted enemy submarines and ships, and helped smash Nazi Germany's war-making industry with thousand-plane raids.
