Abstract

The South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation (SAARC) was established to enlighten self-interest based on a common desire to supersede conflict with cooperation, to displace mistrust with harmony, and to eradicate poverty with economic integration in this region. Nonetheless, it could not achieve these goals completely due to a lack of cooperation among member states. Specifically, SAARC has been crippled by the shadow of power politics between two nuclear powers: India and Pakistan. Its agendas, policies, and programs have remained unfulfilled as a result. The prospect of the rejuvenation of SAARC is not a Herculean matter. It could be achieved by introducing new ideas and plans; that is, restructuring within it or expanding its membership. In this regard, this article argues that SAARC can be rejuvenated by including China as a full member. China's presence in SAARC would maintain a balance of power in this region, it would also boost the South Asian economy through trade, investment, and infrastructural development.

South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation (SAARC) Rajshree Jetly,1995      Regionalism and Regional Security in South Asia Zahid Shahab Ahmed,2016-04-08 Zahid Shahab Ahmed evaluates the progress of the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation SAARC This study goes beyond economic integration to present a detailed appraisal of cooperation under the overarching themes of economic cooperation environmental security human welfare and cooperation in security matters According to the author SAARC is making progress in addressing the myriad of issues on its agenda The transition from agreements to actions and frequent interactions among the member states has boosted confidence The progress of SAARC is more evident in the less controversial areas of human security such as poverty alleviation health and safety human resources development and higher education Notwithstanding enthusiastic commitments reflected in agreements and action plans there is a gulf between rhetoric and implementation most notably in sensitive areas relating to traditional security In the light of the findings of this study the author proposes that greater cooperation in common human security areas has a potential to pave the way for a cooperation on issues of a contentious nature particularly terrorism      Nepal and Major Powers in the Himalayas Saroj Kumar Aryal,Manish Jung Pulami,2025-10-25 This book offers an unique analysis of small states in international relations from the perspective of Nepal which lies at a strategic geopolitical position between China and India This book argues that Nepal has been in a strategic position between the great powers for many centuries The departure point of the study has three broader premises The first is the increasing uncertainty of polarity and power distribution in world politics The second point is the understudied aspect of the role that small states play in international relations The final point emphasises the empirical offering that Nepal can provide to the understanding of the role of small states in great power politics Exploring the Nepalese way of great power management the authors provide a wider explanation of the position of small states as geopolitical actors in international relations An important perspective on the dynamics of China India in the changing world order this study will be of interest to researchers studying geopolitics international relations Asian studies and Global Affairs      SAARC Bajrang Lal Saini,2018      India and the Dynamics of World Politics: A Book on Indian Foreign Policy, Related Events and International Organizations Mishra,2010 India and the Dynamics of World Politics A Book on Indian Foreign Policy Related Events and International Organizations is a book on political science covering a wide range of issues concerning both national and international politics The book covers foreign policy topics such as development of Indian foreign policy and the challenges faced by it India s relations with other countries key international organizations etc It is useful for students studying political science and those preparing for competitive examinations      Conflicting Identities Rabindra Sen,Anindya Jyoti Majumdar,Bhagaban Behera,2019-06-26 In the era of globalization regionalism aims at a practical compromise between global governance and national aspirations

Attempts have been made by states in varying degrees to advance cooperation towards mutual benefit in different parts of the world. However, the very process of regional cooperation in a defined geographical area adopts unique ways and special characters to accommodate the particularities of the region and does not lead to similar consequences when compared with the processes in motion in other areas. This volume is the culmination of the brainstorming exercise of a National Seminar on Asian Regionalism in the Twenty First Century at the Department of International Relations, Jadavpur University, Kolkata. The task is to fulfil two main objectives: to join the debate on the efficacy of regionalism today and make a meaningful contribution to an understanding of the subject; and also to suggest ways of tiding over the problems faced by the countries in various regions or sub regions of the Asian continent in their attempts to advance towards the goal of regional cooperation and integration. The essays in this book are envisioned to benefit not only a wide community of scholars involved in teaching and research in general and the students of international relations in particular, but would also be of interest to any avid reader who intends to explore the patterns of contemporary world politics. Please note: Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India, Pakistan, Nepal, Bhutan, Bangladesh, and Sri Lanka.
