Safer Childbirth A Critical History Of Maternity Care:

Safer Childbirth? Marjorie Tew, 2013-11-11 Since the first edition went to press in 1989 there have been many important developments concerning different aspects of maternity care To take account of these much needs to be added to this history Late 1989 saw the publication of the double volume set of studies Effective Care in Pregnancy and Childbirth in which all the then existing evidence on all the associated procedures was considered and evaluated by well informed and impartial authors representing many countries This informative collection has since been followed by a flow of single reports of new research findings about specific subjects within the field To incorporate the new material has involved in particular a considerable enlargement and rearrangement of the text and reference lists for Chapters 3 and 4 which deal with antenatal and intranatal care Then in 1990 the House of Commons Health Committee under its chairman Nicholas Winterton undertook a further enquiry into the maternity services in Britain A wide range of people concerned as providers or users of the service as well as researchers concerned to find out how well the service was meeting needs chose to submit testimonies written and oral These testimonies were all later published in six volumes which offered a most valuable depiction of the maternity service from many points of view

Safer Childbirth? Turkel, 1995-11-06 Based on her 12 year study of a free standing birth center Turkel analyzes the medical model of childbirth in contrast to the midwifery model In the medical model of birth women are defined as patients and birth takes place in hospitals where women have little if any control over their experience The midwifery model views birth as a healthy process where midwives act as teachers and guides for women during pregnancy and birth helping women and their families to shape and define their experience to meet their needs and expectations Under existing legal and cultural circumstances free standing birth centers face a dilemma They must continually accomodate the medical model while trying to maintain the midwifery model and give women an option to home birth or to hospital birth
