

An aerial photograph of a city grid, likely New York City, viewed from a high angle. A bright, circular light source, possibly the sun, is positioned in the upper left quadrant, casting a strong glow and creating a lens flare effect across the top of the image. The city streets form a dense, repeating pattern of lines and blocks, with the perspective slightly tilted. The overall color palette is dominated by the warm, golden-yellow tones of the sunlight and the greyish-brown of the urban landscape.
