Lucan's Egyptian Civil War Jonathan Tracy,2014-09-22

This book explores Lucan's highly original deployment of contradictory Greco Roman stereotypes about Egypt utopian vs xenophobic as a means of reflecting on the violent tensions within his own society conservatism vs Caesarism Lucan shows the two distinct facets of first century BC Egypt namely its ancient Pharaonic heritage and its latter day Hellenistic culture under the Ptolemies not only in spiritual conflict with one another via the opposed characters of Acoreus priest of old Memphis and the Alexandrian courtier Pothinus but also inextricably entangled with the corresponding factions of the Roman civil war and of Nero's Rome Dr Tracy also connects Lucan's portrayal of Egypt and the Nile to his critical engagement with Greco Roman discourse on natural science particularly the Naturales Quaestiones of his uncle Seneca the Younger Lastly he examines Lucan's attitude toward the value of cultural diversity within the increasingly monocultural environment of the Roman Mediterranean

The Unity of the Proslogion John Bayer,2021-09-20

Interpretations of Anselm's Proslogion range between the extremes of rationalism and fideism because of the challenge of unifying its philosophical and devotional aspects In this book Bayer argues that a monastic interpretation or an interpretation that takes seriously the intellectual significance of our existential commitments offers a powerful compromise Through an extensive study of Anselm's spirituality especially as it is manifested in his letters and homiletic works coupled with a profound study of Anselm's philosophy of language in the De grammatico and Monologion Bayer aims to reveal the Anselmian unity of life and thought and thereby also the harmony between faith and reason In this way he defends the Proslogion as a unified and probative argument

The Look of Van Dyck John Peacock,2017-07-05

Based on a close study of Van Dyck's Self portrait with a Sunflower this book examines the picture's context in the symbolic discourses of the period and in the artist's oeuvre The portrait is interpreted as a programmatic statement made in the ambience of the Caroline court after Van Dyck's appointment as Principal Painter of his view of the art of painting This statement formulated in appropriately visual terms characterizes painting as a way of looking and seeing a mode of vision In making such a claim the artist steps aside from the familiar debate about whether painting was a manual or an intellectual discipline and moves beyond any idea of it as simply a means of representing the external world the painter's definitive faculty of vision can reach further than those realities which present themselves to the eye John Peacock analyses the motif of looking the ways in which figures regard or disregard each other throughout Van Dyck's work and the images of the sunflower and the gold chain in this particular portrait to reveal what is essentially an idealist conception of pictorial art He contradicts previous opinions that the artist was pedestrian in his thinking by showing him to be familiar with a range of ideas current in contemporary Europe about painting and the role of the painter

Questioning Bodies in Shakespeare's Rome Maria Del Sapio Garbero, 2010 Ancient Rome has always been considered a compendium of City and World In the Renaissance an era of epistemic fractures when the clash between the new science Copernicus Galileo Vesalius Bacon etcetera and the authority of ancient texts produced the very notion of modernity the extended and expanding geography of ancient Rome becomes for Shakespeare and the Elizabethans a privileged arena in which to question the nature of bodies and the place they hold in a changing order of the universe Drawing on the rich scenario provided by Shakespeare's Rome and adopting an interdisciplinary perspective the authors of this volume address the way in which the different bodies of the earthly and heavenly spheres are re mapped in Shakespeare's time and in early modern European culture More precisely they investigate the way bodies are fashioned to suit or deconstruct a culturally articulated system of analogies between earth and heaven microcosm and macrocosm As a whole this collection brings to the fore a wide range of issues connected to the Renaissance re mapping of the world and the human It should interest not only Shakespeare scholars but all those working on the interaction between sciences and humanities
