Senior Tour:

The Senior Tour Steve Hershey, 1992 Since its inception in 1980 the PGA Senior Tour has become one of the fastest growing sports enterprises in the world Now comes an illustrated profile of the most popular successful and interesting players on the Senior PGA Tour With golf tips from the players this is the perfect gift for Father's Day 99 photographs 11 in color Yachting, 1994-07 The Golden Era of Golf Al Barkow, 2025-06-25 The Golden Era of Golf chronicles the rise of the sport in America from 1950 to the present by one of the most prolific and respected golf writers today Until now no one has made the point directly and unequivocally that the game invented by ancient Scots would not have reached its present stature in the world of sports if Americans had never gotten hold of it Is this to say that Al Barkow is in The Golden Era of Golf being a narrow minded American flag waving jingoist Not at all In detailing how America expanded on the old Scots game Barkow does not deny that the United States more or less fell into certain advantages that led to its dominion over the game there is the geography the luck of not having to endure the physical devastation of two world wars and a naturally broader economic strength Still Barkow also makes it clear that there were and there remains certain especially American characteristics a singular energy and enthusiasm for participation in and observation of games for melding sports with business for technological and industrial innovation and by all means democratic traditions that turned what had been and would probably have remained an insular parochial past time into a game played by millions around the world America has been golf's great nurturing force and Barkow details why and how it happened The history of American golf is not exactly a varnished treatment a mindless glorification full of nationalist ardor which is in keeping with the author's well established reputation developed over the past 37 years as a golf journalist magazine editor historian and television commentator as someone who looks with a sharp and candid eye at the game Barkow has points of view and takes positions on affairs and personalities that impact on every aspect of golf Is the United States Golf Association in its restrictions on equipment playing ostrich to inevitable technological innovation Hasn't it always And hasn't the association always been hypocritical in its definition of amateurism Was the Ryder Cup ever really a demonstration of pure hands across the sea good fellowship Why did it take so long for the members of the Augusta National Golf Club to invite a black to play in its vaunted Masters tournament Barkow was one of the first journalists to research in depth and write about how blacks were excluded from mainstream American golf for most of this century Here he expands on an element of history which is intrinsic to the larger American experience and which led to the coming of Tiger Woods How good has television been for golf and when and by whom did this most powerful of mediums get involved in the game Is Greg Norman's celebrity and personal wealth an example or the result of modern day image making that gives greater value to impressions of greatness than the reality of actual performance Although some curmudgeon emerges in this chronicle of golf what also comes through and on a larger note is the author's passion for the game itself Its demands on each player's will determination and both inherent and developed physical skills are so penetrating and the satisfaction that comes from just coming close to fulfillment so great that the manipulations of the golf operators administrators agents some of its players et al become mere sidebars This is golf history with a certain perspective that arises from someone who has lived intimately with the game as a player and writer for at least half the century that is covered and in particular the last half on which there is the greater emphasis It runs the gamut from feisty albeit well considered criticism to an evocation of the human drama that is finally the most vivid expression of any activity man takes on
