word processing documents used in handling some of elder law's most complex concerns Handbook of LGBT Elders Debra A. Harley, Pamela B. Teaster, 2015-08-05 This groundbreaking resource presents a wealth of findings and perspectives previously unseen in the LGBT literature. Its focus on psychological, sociopolitical, and care delivery issues affecting LGBT elders reveals both the nuanced interplay between diverse sources of identity and multiple sources of stigma and discrimination. Specific chapters highlight challenges and resiliencies impacting subpopulations, e.g., racial groups, veterans, immigrants, examine employment and advocacy issues, discuss later life concerns in context, and offer guidelines for relevant ethical practice. Contributors represent a wide range of fields from psychiatry and gerontology to public health and public policy, reflecting the scope and needs of this diverse and complex population. Among the topics in the Handbook: Family relationships of older LGBT adults; The intersection of identities: race, age, sexuality, and care network; Bisexuality: an invisible community among LGBT elders; Implications of the Supreme Court ruling on same-sex marriage; No money, no work, and you're old; Disabilities among LGBT elders; responses of medicine, public health, rehabilitation, and social work. Handbook of LGBT Elders is an essential reference for mental health professionals, psychologists, and social workers who work with the LGBT community and the elderly, as well as researchers interested in the LGBT community and aging. New Developments in Home Care Services for the Elderly Lenard W. Kaye, 2013-11-19 This anthology responds to the recurring call for quality in home care service provision. It presents to agency administrators, managers, supervisors, and front-line service providers a set of the most up-to-date policy, program, and practice developments in the field. Each contributor to New Developments in Home Care Services for the Elderly explores issues of client/staff diversity and the challenges associated with working with clients grappling with disabling conditions. Contributors in New Developments in Home Care Services for the Elderly explore issues of client/staff diversity and the challenges associated with working with clients grappling with various disabling conditions. Topics addressed include alternative organizational models in home care; the importation of high technology services into the home; legal and ethical issues in home health care; counseling homebound clients and their families; clinical assessment tools and packages; case management and the home care client; home care entitlements and benefits; evaluating and monitoring the effectiveness of in-home care; marketing home health care services; home care service experiences in other countries. New Developments in Home Care Services for the elderly covers a continuum of care ranging from housekeeping services to self-care education, teaching, and training services to nursing and medically related services. Consequently, the information contained within this volume is of immediate relevance to a multidisciplinary audience having both direct field and indirect office service responsibilities in the home care organization. Social workers, nurses, business administrators, and public health professionals will find this an invaluable guide for providing effective home care services. Rural Health Care for the Elderly United States.
