Space and Time in Artistic Practice and Aesthetics Sarah Lippert, 2017-06-30 When the Enlightenment thinker Gotthold Ephraim Lessing wrote his treatise Laocoon An Essay on the Limits of Painting and Poetry in 1766 he outlined the strengths and weaknesses of each art Painting was assigned to the realm of space poetry to the realm of time Space and Time in Artistic Practice and Aesthetics explores how artists since the eighteenth century up to the present day have grappled with the consequences of Lessing's theory and those that it spawned As the book reveals many artists have been and continue to be influenced by Lessing-like theories which have percolated into the art education and art criticism Artists from Jean Raoux to Willem de Kooning and Frances Bacon and art critics such as Clement Greenberg have felt the weight of Lessing's theories in their modes of creation whether consciously or not Should we sound the death knell for the theories of Lessing and his kind Or will conceptions of temporality spatiality and artistic competition continue to unfold This book the first to consider how Lessing's writings connect to visual art's production brings these questions to the fore

Bibliotherapy Arleen McCarty Hynes, 2019-03-13 The recognition that literature can be a healing tool is as old as Aristotle's discussion of catharsis In bibliotherapy an individual reads or listens to a work of literature specifically for its therapeutic value But until now a real professional tool was lacking This handbook the first of its kind is designed to teach both professionals and laypersons how to use the whole spectrum of literature from poetry to science fiction to promote greater self knowledge to renew the spirit and in general to aid in the healing process Beginning with an explanation of the theoretical basis for bibliotherapy the authors then provide a comprehensive overview of the procedures and goals of the discipline The material is presented in such a way that the process may be adapted to the particular educational or psychological approach favored by the practitioner for the therapeutic treatment of individuals who have been abused or are chemically dependent physically disabled emotionally disturbed hospitalized in correctional institutions or simply facing difficult or stressful life situations The authors also offer insights for using bibliotherapy to promote the healthy growth and development of children and to provide psychological help and guidance to adults and the aging Case studies from practice and training experiences illustrate the principles of bibliotherapy in addition the authors include end of chapter study questions for persons involved in therapy and self help and practicum guides for professionals Taken together these materials comprise a unique and invaluable reference work in a new and significant field
