The Sensuous Cinema of Wong Kar-wai Gary

Bettinson, 2025-03-20 The widely acclaimed films of Wong Kar wai are characterized by their sumptuous yet complex visual and sonic style Bettinson argues that Wong s films from Days of Being Wild and Chungking Express to In the Mood for Love and The Grandmaster are permeated by an aesthetic of sensuousness and disturbance achieved through techniques such as narrative disruptions jarring cuts the blocking of facial access and other complex strategies The effect is to jolt the viewer out of complete aesthetic absorption This tenth anniversary edition of The Sensuous Cinema of Wong Kar wai includes a substantial new afterword bringing the story of Wong s career up to date including reflections on the mainland Chinese drama Blossoms Shanghai Bettinson revisits and extends the arguments of the first edition surveys the recent key debates on Wong s filmmaking and introduces fresh lines of critical investigation Gary Bettinson s Sensuous Cinema of Wong Kar wai is a major step forward in our understanding of this director Bettinson scrutinizes Wong s unique place in world film culture his unusual production methods and his debts to several cinematic traditions both Asian and European A close examination of Wong s style shows in unprecedented depth how these lyrical apparently loosely constructed films are underpinned by a strong formal and emotional coherence The result is an unequaled study of a filmmaker whose work from As Tears Go By to The Grandmaster has redefined contemporary cinema David Bordwell University of Wisconsin Madison Seldom has the sensuous been subjected to such a scientifically rigorous and yet moving account as Gary Bettinson s analysis of Wong Kar wai Chapter by chapter the logic of specific choices underpinning Wong s cinema produces a sense of revelation perfectly complementing the intense pleasures of watching the films In this second edition Bettinson focuses on the actor s work a stroke of genius for understanding an oeuvre where body language and gesture are so crucial Chris Berry King s College London In this essential study of acclaimed filmmaker Wong Kar wai Gary Bettinson exquisitely captures the director s cinematic sensorium and digs deep below a seductive visual surface to uncover a creative roughness that disturbs narrative and generic expectations Three cheers for this updated edition Gina Marchetti author of Citing China Politics Postmodernism and World Cinema

The Mind-Game Film Thomas Elsaesser,2021-03-28 This book represents the culmination of Thomas Elsaesser s intense and passionate thinking about the Hollywood mind game film from the previous two decades In order to answer what the mind game film is why they exist and how they function Elsaesser maps the industrial institutional challenges and constraints facing Hollywood and the broader philosophic horizon within which American cinema thrives today He demonstrates how the Persistence of Hollywood continues as it has adapted to include new twists and turns as well as revisions of past concerns as film moves through the 21st century Through examples such as Minority Report Mulholland Drive Source Code and Back to the Future Elsaesser explores how mind game films challenge us and play games with our perception of reality creating skepticism and self doubt He also highlights the mind game film s tendency to intervene in a complex fashion in the political moment by questioning the dominant power s intent to program both body and mind alike Prescient and compelling The Mind Game Film will appeal to students scholars and enthusiasts of media studies film studies philosophy and politics

Houseful The Golden Years of Hindi Cinema Saiaam Z U,2012 Published in the year 2012 Housefull The Golden Age Of Hindi Cinema is a collection of short essays that document some of the groundbreaking film releases during the 1950s and 60s Summary Of The Book Housefull The Golden Age of Hindi Cinema is a collection of short essays that provide insights into the best films in Hindi Cinema during the 1950s and 60s This book starts off with a foreword by Mahesh Bhatt followed by a brief introduction by Salam The readers are provided with little known facts on the lives of actors directors composers lyricists and producers during this golden age This book has been divided into 11 parts most of which examine the lives of some of the greatest directors during the 50s and 60s which include Guru Dutt Bimal Roy B R Chopra Shakti Samanta Raj Kapoor Mehboob Khan V Shantaram and the Anands There is a rather incongruous portion placed between these sections called Period Films 1952 1960 Each section starts off with a brief introduction by a renowned figure in the Hindi film industry followed by a series of write ups on films Only landmark films by a particular director have been included An example of this is Bimal Roy whose hit movies such as Devdas Madhumati Sujata Bandini and Do Bigha Zameen have been added in this book Each essay begins with some brief information about the movie such as the director writers lyricist lead actors and the cinematographer which is followed by the movie s synopsis

Additionally the readers are given insights into how a particular movie came into being as well as behind the scenes stories sans any gossip The writer of that particular section then gives their take on where the movie scores and what contributed to its success This book consists of contributions from some of the most renowned figures such as Vijay Lokapally Anuj Kumar and Suresh Kohli This book takes the readers back in time when the eminent Mangeshkar sisters sang together and the time Gulzar was prevented from singing his own song Housefull The Golden Age of Hindi Cinema helps the readers understand how Indian cinematic history has evolved from films such as Mughal e Azam and Sholay to Tare Zameen Par and Lagaan About Ziya Us Salam Ziya Us Salam is an author and journalist Salam is a film critic and renowned journalist He currently serves as the Deputy Editor for The Hindu s Metroplus He has been writing about Indian cinema regularly making his contributions to several anthologies

Making Sense of Mind-Game Films Simin Nina Littschwager, 2019-06-27 Mind game films and other complex narratives have been a prominent phenomenon of the cinematic landscape during the period 1990 2010 when films like The Sixth Sense Memento Fight Club and Source Code became critical and commercial successes often acquiring a cult status with audiences With their multiple story lines unreliable narrators ambiguous twist endings and paradoxical worlds these films challenge traditional ways of narrative comprehension and in many cases require and reward multiple viewings But how can we make sense of films that don t always make sense the way we are used to While most scholarship has treated these complex films as narrative puzzles that audiences solve with their cognitive skills Making Sense of Mind Game Films offers a fresh perspective by suggesting that they appeal to the body and the senses in equal measures Mind game films tell stories about crises between body mind and world and about embodied forms of knowing and subjective ways of being in the world Through compelling in depth case studies of popular mind game films the book explores how these complex narratives take their embodied spectators with them into such crises The puzzling effect generated by these films stems from a conflict between what we think and what we experience between what we know and what we feel to be true and between what we see and what we sense

From the Shadows of My Mind Mike Hoare, 2021-07-07 From the Shadows of my Mind is a novel about the meaning of life set against the issues of class in society and never giving up on what you desire Rick Marshall after leaving school in the 1960s joins a company based in Deenbridge his local town offering work in protecting the natural environment Disadvantaged by a working class background he doubts whether he can ever have a relationship with the classy daughter of one of the firm s wealthy directors Will his indecision cost him the woman he wants and will a mistake from the past come back to haunt him Sometimes fate and the future have their own plans to shape and control your destiny

Cinema, Memory, Modernity Russell J.A. Kilbourn, 2013-10-18 Since its inception cinema has evolved into not merely a reflection but an indispensable index of human experience especially our experience of time s passage of the present moment and most importantly perhaps of the past in both collective and individual terms In this volume Kilbourn provides a comparative theorization of the representation of memory in both mainstream Hollywood and international art cinema within an increasingly transnational context of production and reception Focusing on European North and South American and Asian films Kilbourn reads cinema as providing the viewer with not only the content and form of memory but also with its own directions for use the required codes and conventions for understanding and implementing this crucial prosthetic technology an art of memory for the twentieth century and beyond American Literature in Transition, 1920-1930 Ichiro Takayoshi, 2017-12-28 American Literature in Transition 1920 1930 examines the dynamic interactions between social and literary fields during the so called Jazz Age It situates the era's place in the incremental evolution of American literature throughout the twentieth century Essays from preeminent critics and historians analyze many overlapping aspects of American letters in the 1920s and re-evaluate an astonishingly diverse group of authors Expansive in scope and daring in its mixture of eclectic methods this book extends the most exciting advances made in the last several decades in the fields of modernist studies ethnic literatures African American literature gender studies transnational studies and the history of the book It examines how the world of literature intersected with other arts such as cinema jazz and theater and explores the print culture in transition with a focus on new publishing houses trends in advertising readership and obscenity laws Remixing Wong Kar-wai Giorgio Biancorosso, 2024-11-08 Like his fellow filmmakers Stanley Kubrick Quentin Tarantino and Sofia Coppola Wong Kar wai crafts the soundtracks of his films by jettisoning original scores in favor of commercial recordings In Remixing Wong Kar wai Giorgio Biancorosso examines the combinatorial practice at the heart of Wong's cinema to retheorize musical borrowing appropriation and repurposing Wong's irrepressible penchant for poaching music from other films whether old Chinese melodramas Hollywood blockbusters or European art films subsumes familiar music under his own brand of cinema As Wong combs through musical and cinematic archives and splices disparate music together exceedingly well known music loses its previous associations and acquires an infinite new constellation of meanings in his films Drawing on Claude Lévi Strauss's concept of bricolage Biancorosso contends that Wong's borrowing is akin to a practice of creative destruction in which Wong becomes a bricoleur who remixes music at hand to create new and complete self-sustaining statements By outlining Wong's modus operandi of indiscriminate borrowing and remixing Biancorosso prompts readers to reconsider the significance of transforming preexisting music into new compositions for film and beyond Horror Video Games Bernard Perron, 2014-01-10 In this in-depth critical and theoretical analysis of the horror genre in video games 14 essays explore the cultural underpinnings of horror's allure for gamers and the evolution of survival themes The techniques and story effects of specific games such as Resident Evil Call of Cthulhu and Silent Hill are examined individually Sound Design is the New Score Danijela Kulezic-Wilson, 2019-11-01 The practice of blurring the line between score and sound design has transformed contemporary film soundscape by challenging not only the long-established hierarchical relationships between dialogue music and sound effects but also the modes of perception shaped by classical soundtrack practices The methods of this new trend rely on the language of contemporary popular and art music producing soundtracks in which it is difficult to tell the difference between score and ambient sound where pieces of electroacoustic music are merged with diegetic sound sound effects are absorbed into the score or treated as music and diegetic sound is treated as musique concrète In Sound Design is the New Score Kulezic Wilson explores theoretical aesthetic and sensuous dimensions of this new trend providing a multifaceted portrait of a practice which recognizes the interconnectedness of all soundtrack elements and emphasizes their inherent musicality The aesthetic concerns of this practice are illuminated through the concept of the aesthetics of reticence which rejects classical narrative and scoring conventions and uses integrated soundtrack strategies to create the space for mystery in art and for individuality in the cinematic experience The book's emphasis on sensuous and musical aspects of this practice informed by the feminist discourse on the erotics of art challenges popular notions about sensory cinema demonstrating that the sensuousness of film form and its soundscapes is more sophisticated than simply being the result of excessive sensory stimulation facilitated by the use of digital technology or the intensified aesthetics it inspires The discussion is supported by a wide range of case studies from American Independent Asian Australian and European cinemas including films by Shane Carruth Claire Denis Hou Hsiao Hsien Harmony Korine David Michod Gus Van Sant and Peter Strickland

Movie Monsters of the Deep Faith Roswell, 2024-07-30 Is there a shark movie that is scarier than Jaws What is the sneaky secret hidden in the Loch Ness monster's name How did the Gill man in Creature from the Black Lagoon become a romantic hero Do mermaids count as sea monsters What terrifying sea creature was discovered to really exist and just what on earth is a globster From Kraken to kaiju Open Water to The Shallows monsters of the deep have fascinated and horrified us for centuries There's even a name for the fear of deep bodies of water thalassophobia Humans have a natural fear of predators in the water and yet we just can't stop thinking about them There are a lot of deep water monster movies out there good bad strange and so bad it's good This book has collected some of the best worst and most interesting out there to tell you about If you ever wanted to know your crocodile from your Cthulhu and find out how they make the monsters come alive whether you like your monsters in the ocean or in lakes based on real animals or totally made up with fins or tentacles one head or five if you love your movie monsters of the deep then this book was written for you

Somatic Cinema Luke Hockley, 2013-10-30 Films can hold personal psychological meanings that are often at odds with their narratives Examining the intersections between mental health and the cinema Somatic Cinema represents the cutting edge of film theory evaluating the significance of this phenomenon both in therapy and in the everyday world Luke Hockley draws on the insights of phenomenological and Jungian film theory and applies them alongside more established psychoanalytic approaches The result is to combine the idea of affective bodily experience with unconscious processes as a means to explore a new ontology of the cinema The emphasis is therefore shifted from pure intellectual insight to greater inclusion of personally constructed meanings and experiences Several key concepts are developed and explored throughout the book These include The idea of the Third Image occupying the intersubjective space between viewer and screen and therapist and client The concept of the Cinematic Frame as opposed to the Film Frame the container of the psychological relationship between viewer and screen The use of the Cinematic Experience to encapsulate the somatic expression of unconscious effects that develop while a film is viewed and which are central to the creation of personal psychological meanings With a focus on examining why we develop a personal relationship with films Somatic Cinema is ideal for academics and students of film studies media studies and analytical psychology Place of Breath in Cinema

Davina Quinlivan,2014-02-11 This study considers the locus of the breathing body in the film experience and its implications for the study of embodiment in film and sensuous spectatorship Cinematic Corpographies Eileen Rositzka,2018-05-22

Writing on the relationship between war and cinema has largely been dominated by an emphasis on optics and weaponised vision However as this analysis of the Hollywood war film will show a wider sensory field is powerfully evoked in this genre Contouring war cinema as representing a somatic experience of space the study applies a term recently developed by Derek Gregory within the theoretical framework of Critical Geography What he calls corpography implies a constant re mapping of landscape through the soldier s body These assumptions can be used as a connection between already established theories of cartographic film narration and ideas of neo phenomenological film experience as they also entail the involvement of the spectator s body in sensuously grasping what is staged as a mediated experience of war While cinematic codes of war have long been oriented almost exclusively to the visual the notion of corpography can help to reframe the concept of film genre in terms of expressive movement patterns and genre memory avoiding reverting to the usual taxonomies of generic texts

Savage Theory Rachel O. Moore,2000 An ambitious and original work which uses early film theory anthropological insights and avant garde film to explore the relation of cinema to ritual healing The Utopia of Film Christopher

Pavsek,2013-01-15 Exploring the work of three visionary auteurs deeply invested in the political possibilities of film The Films of Krzysztof Kieslowski Joseph Kickasola,2004-06-22 Perhaps the greatest European director of the last 30 years

Krzysztof Kieslowski created a remarkable body of work in a relatively short period of time His films are loved around the world for their dramatic power and consummate artistry Kieslowski s cinematic style stands apart in several important respects his mastery of abstract imagery his innovative use of sound and his deliberate circumvention of standard cinematic codes Unlike many other art directors who often fail to rise above commentary on the medium itself Kieslowski uses these stylistic liberties to explore his philosophical concerns fate God suffering and love Through close analysis of films like The Decalogue The Double Life of Veronique Blue White and Red Joe Kickasola identifies the unique qualities and artistic legacy of this great director

Zombie Culture Shawn McIntosh,Marc Leverette,2008-02-15 Why have zombies resonated so pervasively in the popular imagination and in media especially films Why have they proved to be one of the most versatile and popular monster types in the growing video game industry What makes zombies such widespread symbols of horror and dread and how have portrayals of zombies in movies changed and evolved to fit contemporary fears anxieties and social issues Zombies have held a unique place in film and popular culture throughout most of the 20th century Rare in that this enduring monster type originated in non European folk culture rather than the Gothic tradition from which monsters like vampires and werewolves have emerged zombies have in many ways superseded these Gothic monsters in popular entertainment and the public imagination and have increasingly been used in discussions ranging from the philosophy of mind to computer lingo to the business press Zombie Culture brings together scholars from a variety of fields including cinema studies popular culture and video game studies who have examined the living dead through a variety of lenses By looking at how portrayals of zombies have evolved from their folkloric roots and entered popular culture readers will gain deeper insights into what zombies mean in terms of the public psyche how they represent societal fears and how their evolving portrayals continue to reflect underlying beliefs of The Other contagion and death
