Law, Marriage, and Society in the Later Middle Ages Charles Donahue, Jr., 2008-03-17 This is a study of marriage litigation with some reference to sexual offenses in the archiepiscopal court of York 1300-1500 and the episcopal courts of Ely 1374-1381, Paris 1384-1387, Cambrai 1438-1453, and Brussels 1448-1459. All these courts were for the most part correctly applying the late medieval canon law of marriage, but statistical analysis of the cases and results confirms that there were substantial differences both in the types of cases the courts heard and the results they reached. Marriages in England in the later middle ages were often under the control of the parties to the marriage, whereas those in northern France and southern Netherlands were often under the control of the parties' families and social superiors. Within this broad generalization, the book brings to light patterns of late medieval men and women manipulating each other and the courts to produce extraordinarily varied results.
