Sentenced to Prism Alan Dean Foster, 2021-07-27 One man struggles to survive on a hostile alien world in this thrilling adventure from the 1 New York Times bestselling author of Madrenga Some people are convinced they can do anything Evan Orgell is one of them So when his company president sends him off world to investigate a breakdown in communications from a small research station on a newly discovered planet he's all in The planet's resources could mean massive profits for the company and a successful mission could mean massive advancement for Evan Nothing ventured nothing gained Clad in a Mobile Hostile World suit Evan has no doubts about his safety until he lands on the world of Prism Though he's already dealt with thousands of theoretical extraterrestrial problems nothing prepares him for what he finds there Hungry invading lifeforms are everywhere Over two dozen highly trained people have been overwhelmed and killed some with their bones eaten from the inside out It's utter devastation Then while Evan searches for survivors his indestructible suit meets its match and he must face the bloodthirsty predators of Prism alone unprotected with only his wits to rely on Praise for Alan Dean Foster One of the most consistently inventive and fertile writers of science fiction and fantasy The Times London Alan Dean Foster is a master of creating alien worlds SFRevu.com Foster knows how to spin a yarn Starlog Alan Dean Foster is the modern day Renaissance writer as his abilities seem to have no genre boundaries Bookbrowser The American

Cyclopaedia George Ripley, Charles Anderson Dana, 1883 A Random Walk Through Fractal Dimensions Brian H. Kaye, 2008-07-11 Fractal geometry is revolutionizing the descriptive mathematics of applied materials systems Rather than presenting a mathematical treatise Brian Kaye demonstrates the power of fractal geometry in describing materials ranging from Swiss cheese to pyrolytic graphite Written from a practical point of view the author assiduously avoids the use of equations while introducing the reader to numerous interesting and challenging problems in subject areas ranging from geography to fine particle science The second edition of this successful book provides up to date literature coverage of the use of fractal geometry in all areas of science From reviews of the first edition no stone is left unturned in the quest for applications of fractal geometry to fine particle problems This book should provide hours of enjoyable reading to those wishing to become acquainted with the ideas of fractal geometry as applied to practical materials problems MRS Bulletin

The Caloris Network Nick Kanas, 2016-05-13 The year is 2130 The first ever expedition is sent to Mercury to search for the cause of an unknown source of electromagnetic radiation that can destroy space ships passing by the planet Thought to be inhospitable and lifeless the surface of Mercury provides startling surprises for the crew that endanger their lives and challenge their established notions of what it means to be a sentient being And some of the crew members have their own separate agendas The scientific appendix at the end of the book introduces readers to the wondrous world of Mercury and how it has been portrayed in literary fiction up to the present time The author then uses scientific literature to present a concept of life that is not based on carbon chemistry or the need for water There is also a discussion of consciousness based on electromagnetic wave theory References are provided for further reading Nick Kanas is an Emeritus Professor of Psychiatry at the University of California San Francisco where he directed the group therapy training program For over 20 years he conducted research on group therapy and for nearly 20 years after that he was the Principal Investigator of NASA funded research on astronauts and cosmonauts He is the co author of Space Psychology and Psychiatry which won the 2004 International Academy of Astronautics Life Science Book Award and the author of Humans in Space The Psychological Hurdles which won the 2016 International Academy of Astronautics Life Science Book Award Dr Kanas has presented talks on space psychology and on celestial mapping at several regional and Worldcon science fiction conventions A Fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society London he has been an amateur astronomer for over 50 years and is an avid reader of science fiction He is also the author of two non fiction books Star Maps History Artistry and Cartography and Solar System Maps From Antiquity to the Space Age and two science fiction novels The New Martians and The Protos Mandate all published by Springer

Imagining Outer Space Alexander C.T. Geppert, 2018-04-25 Imagining Outer Space makes a captivating advance into the cultural history of outer space and extraterrestrial life in the European imagination How was outer space conceived and communicated What promises of interplanetary expansion and cosmic colonization propelled the project of human spaceflight to the forefront of twentieth century modernity In what way has West European astroculture been affected by the continuous exploration of outer space Tracing the thriving interest in spatiality to early attempts at exploring imaginary worlds beyond our own the book analyzes contact points between science and fiction from a transdisciplinary perspective and examines sites and situations where utopian images and futuristic technologies contributed to the omnipresence of fantasmatic thought Bringing together state of the art work in this emerging field of historical research the volume breaks new ground in the historicization of the Space Age

Inmate Radicalisation and Recruitment in Prisons Clarke Jones, Raymund Narag, 2018-12-07 It is traditionally viewed that vulnerable inmates form captive audiences for violent terrorist offenders who in turn are destined to turn prisons into training grounds for militant activities all the while forming alliances with more hardened criminals to produce an even greater threat However there is limited empirical grounding to underpin these assertions Inmate Radicalisation and Recruitment in Prisons challenges existing perceptions about prison radicalisation Whilst not downplaying the seriousness of the prison radicalisation threat it seeks a more balanced interpretation of current discussion Drawing on original research in the Philippines and case studies from Australia the US Canada Indonesia the UK France the Netherlands and Belgium the authors posit an alternative view that suggests that the imprisonment of a terrorist may mark the beginning of physical disengagement and psychological de radicalisation Offering evidence based insights to help determine how best to house terrorist offenders this volume will appeal to students and researchers interested in fields such as Criminology and Criminal Justice Terrorism Prisons and Organised Crime
