The Separate Lives of Three Sisters Laparis Milena Lamoore, 2005-04-12 Three different young women three different sets of taste each young woman nurturing each full of adventure style creativity good times bad times and the future But all in all each has a life to live each has a place to live and each has a separate journey Please follow the lives of Samantha Robin and Cindy to see where life takes them Because not every single woman is the same EIGA Nick Deocampo, 2017-11-09 Nick Deocampo's continuing film saga investigates on its third volume how World War II affected the growth of cinema in the Philippines 1942-1945 Revealed in the book is a vast wealth of information about Japanese wartime manipulation of motion pictures that would only lead to the inglorious end of the colonial film cycle at war's conclusion This valuable construction of the country's wartime film history uncovers significant intellectual efforts made by Japanese film critics and film artists who formed the Propaganda Corps assigned to the country They conceived for Filipinos a national identity for their cinema even while this was wrapped in a fascist colonial and militaristic context Seventy years after the end of World War II Deocampo triumphs over trauma and forgetfulness as he revisits the wartime period and its cinema He provides a landmark contribution to historical memory as he uncovers one of the bleakest moments in Philippine film history Separate Lives Silvia Pettem, 2024-08-06 A pioneer woman educator in the male dominated world of nineteenth century academia Mary Rippon was the first female professor at the University of Colorado and is believed to have been the first woman in the United States to teach at a state university Mary received wide acclaim for her teaching but Victorian society forced her to lead two very separate lives Miss Rippon as she was always known was both a professional woman and a mother in an era when these two roles could not be combined To keep her job and provide for her family she hid her husband and child behind a Victorian veil of secrecy that spanned two continents Separate Lives reveals the full story of the conflicts between this extraordinary woman's public and private lives In January 1878 after several years of education in Germany France and Switzerland the soft spoken twenty seven year old was welcomed at the newly opened University of Colorado in the then small frontier town of Boulder The growth of her lengthy career paralleled the early growth of the university where she worked her way up from first female faculty member to the university's first female professor eventually chairing the Department of German Language and Literature The truth of Mary's separate lives was not disclosed until nearly a century later in 1976 when her elderly grandson revealed to a university librarian that he was Mary's descendant In 2006 Mary received a posthumous honorary degree from the University of Colorado and in 2020 a scholarship was endowed in her name Silvia Pettem's carefully researched biography weaves together the story of Mary's private life with her professional career not to tarnish Mary's well deserved reputation but rather to uncover the human side of a woman whose circumstances clashed with the mores of her times Adapting Chekhov J. Douglas Clayton, Yana Meerzon, 2012-10-02 This book considers the hundred years of re-writes of Anton Chekhov's work presenting a wide geographical landscape of Chekhovian influences in drama The volume examines the elusive quality of Chekhov's dramatic universe as an intricate mechanism an engine in which his enigmatic characters exist as the dramatic and psychological ciphers we have been decoding for a century and continue to do so Examining the practice and the theory of dramatic adaptation both as intermedial transformation from page to stage and as intramedial mutation from page to page the book presents adaptation as the emerging genre of drama theatre and film This trend marks the performative and social practices of the new millennium highlighting our epoch's need to engage with the history of dramatic forms and their evolution The collection demonstrates that adaptation as the practice of transformation and as a rethinking of habitual dramatic norms and genre definitions leads to the rejuvenation of existing dramatic and performative standards pioneering the creation of new traditions and expectations As the major mode of the storytelling imagination adaptation can build upon and drive the audience's horizons of expectations in theatre aesthetics Hence this volume investigates the original and transformative knowledge that the story of Chekhov's drama in mutations offers to scholars of drama and performance to students of modern literatures and cultures and to theatre practitioners worldwide

Offering an exciting account of the century-long process of literary modernization in China, the handbook's themes include Modernization of people and writing, Realism, Romanticism, and Modernist Aesthetics, Chinese literature on the stage and screen, Patriotism, war and revolution, Feminism, liberalism, and socialism, Literature of reform, reflection, and experimentation, Literature of Taiwan, Hong Kong, and new media. This handbook provides an integration of biographical narrative with textual analysis, maintaining a subtle balance between comprehensive overview and in-depth examination. As such, it is an essential reference guide for all students and scholars of Chinese literature.
