cannot understand their grown children's anxieties their discontentedness with life their unstable marriages and their inability to enjoy the benefits of the education and advantages they labored so hard for so many years to provide Storey understands and sympathizes with parents who have paid to educate their children out of their own spheres He saw it happen in his own family knew the disapproval of his father What else could my father think when nearing sixty he came home each day from the pit exhausted shattered by fatigue to find me a young man ideally physically equipped to do the job which now left him totally prostrated painting a picture of flowers or writing a poem about a cloud There was and there is no hope of reconciliation Hutchings supplements his thematic analysis of Storey's plays by interweaving into his text 90 percent of a major interview with the playwright the only such comprehensive interview in existence Storey who believes that readers ought to be chary of all interviews discusses alleged literary influences on his work the current state of British theatre and his reactions to critics He also provides insight into various productions and performances in his work Our Greatest Writers John Carrington, 2003 Carrington takes the reader on an exploration of English literary heritage by reading small digestible sections which form an ordered programme Meet all the major English writers who they were what they wrote their finest work and its significance War Representation in British Cinema and Television Kevin M.
