The Children in Our Lives Jane Adan, 1991-01-01 I was born at midnight That means I can see ghosts when they want to be invisible writes fourth grader David demonstrating a child s capacity for making sense of personal experience The Children in Our Lives explores this capacity as well as how adult misperceptions of children s experiences affect those children It invites dialogue between teachers parents other caregivers and the general public who value children for their own sakes Adan looks for disparities between a child s experience and the adult s interpretation of that experience In questioning middle class nurturance she focuses on connections between experience and interpretation based on dominant traditional or mainstream values She argues that force of habit as well as a preoccupation with public image predisposes adults to embrace the abstractions that distort perception Consequently children are impaired as adults are in their ability to generate communities that are grounded in a creative concern for all human beings
