Marcus Wallenberg:

Marcus Wallenberg Torgny Torgnysson Segerstedt, Sven Rydberg, Robert Skole, 1982      Marcus Wallenberg 1864-1943 Torsten Gårdlund, 1976      Neutrality's Empire Per Högselius, David Nilsson, Hanna Vikström, 2025-10-01

Reconciling Sweden's reputation for political neutrality and scientific prestige alongside its involvement in extractivist colonial projects exposes uncomfortable overlaps between these seemingly disparate ventures. In this illuminating reappraisal of the intersections between Swedish colonialism and its industrial history, Neutrality's Empire explores how Swedish actors ranging from diplomats and business leaders to missionaries, geologists, and engineers leveraged Sweden's global standing to access valuable mineral resources across Africa and Asia. In doing so, this book presents a historical narrative which clarifies Sweden's entanglement with the forces of globalization, colonialism, and climate change.      Safehaven Martin Lorenz-Meyer, 2007. A detailed study of the development and collapse of the Safehaven Program initiated by the Federal Economic Administration, advocated by Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau and reluctantly supported by Britain and France, that focused on averting post World War II German aggression by investigating and confiscating German assets in neutral countries. Provided by publisher.

Rethinking Corporate Governance Sven-Erik Sjöstrand, 2016-05-27. Rethinking Corporate Governance's extensive and insightful empirical investigation offers a radically new approach to corporate governance. This ground-breaking volume describes and analyzes the key nature-based and actor-based forces that ultimately determine corporate governance processes and long-term corporate paths. Generally, such forces work in complex and intricate interplays that to a large extent vary among corporations. A theory of shareholder governance is developed and integrated into the established and more comprehensive theory of corporate governance to create a revised theory of the corporation-firm. The new possibilities that this creates for explaining how processes develop and ultimately influence corporate paths are presented in depth. Featuring conclusions based on an empirical material that is both rich and exclusive, the book also contains extensive non-anonymized materials from authentic corporate governance processes. A general conclusion is that actions taken by individuals have a special status among those forces as they not only generate impact in themselves but also involve interpretations of the possible effects of all the other forces. Among those actions, the ones taken by the shareholders stand out as particularly decisive both for the governance processes as such and for how corporations develop over time. Offering a degree of openness, detail, and realism that is hard to find in any other case-based study, this innovative and enlightening volume is essential for both academics and practitioners involved in corporate governance, corporate strategy, and the theory of the firm.

Creating Nordic Capitalism Susanna Fellman, Martin Jes Iversen, Hans Sjögren, Lars Thue, 2017-09-16. Creating Nordic Capitalism illuminates how the economies of five small North European countries—Denmark, Finland, Norway, Iceland, and Sweden—became so competitive during the twentieth century. Through rigorous analysis, the authors propose and describe the defining features of Nordic capitalism.      The Dual State Eric forest management for tropical and subtropical plantations William Ladrach,2013-01-01 Global demand for forest products is increasing daily This implies an incremental pressure on tropical and subtropical forests to supply wood products Natural forests continue to supply wood although their capacity is decreasing steadily We are depending more and more on forest plantations to satisfy industrial needs for solid wood as well as pulpwood Fortunately the warm climates have an enormous potential to produce wood fiber when the production is based on applied science By selecting the appropriate species for given sites and the use of the principles of silviculture and genetic improvement tree plantations can often produce more than 50 m<sup>3</sup> ha year Because of their capacity for rapid growth the tropical and subtropical regions have a great advantage over the temperate regions William Ladrach has dedicated more than 40 years to the research and management of forest plantations in various parts of the world principally in Central and South America This book Applied Forest Management for Tropical and Subtropical Plantations provides a guide to future forest production It is a guide to applied forestry and covers subjects from viewpoints of the biological ecological economic and industrial sciences This work is of great value to foresters students industrial managers researchers and others who work in equatorial countries It will have a strong and positive impact on the establishment of tree plantations during the coming decades Mergers and

Acquisitions Helén Anderson, Virpi Havila, Fredrik Nilsson,2013 A merger or an acquisition is usually a challenging endeavor which aims to create value for the owner However stakeholder theory shows how such a narrow and one sided focus is detrimental to value creation in general not only for other stakeholders within and outside the organization but also for the owner This book shows how different stakeholders internal and external may play a critical role during a merger or an acquisition process It builds on empirical examples that illustrate how various stakeholders play active roles throughout the different phases and ultimately affect the outcome and the value formation process of the merger or the acquisition

In The Shadow Of The Nobel Prize Gosta Gahrton, 2024-10-11 In the Shadow of the Nobel Prize presents researchers that have been instrumental in the modern development of medicine focusing on the fields of clinical hematology cancer research and transplantation Gosta Gahrton tells stories of meetings with researchers that he thinks have been worthy of the Nobel Prize but who have not received it without revealing anything that has been discussed in the Nobel committee of which he was a member for 10 years thus obeying the 50 year secrecy rule He also describes encounters with researchers that themselves think they are worthy of the prize and of those that complain about not having received it His judgment is personal and relates to a development of which he was a participant His point is that the most important researchers in the world are more important for mankind than those who receive most attention in the media like soccer players and pop singers This should in his opinion be changed the great discoveries and the discoverers should receive more media visibility This book contrasts with most books about the Nobel Prizes that tell stories about those who have got the prize The book is at the same time an autobiography i.e. the narrative is about those scientists that the author has met known and valued personally as part of his own scientific journey
