The Post-colonial Studies Reader Bill Ashcroft, Gareth Griffiths, Helen Tiffin, 1995 The Post Colonial Studies Reader is the most comprehensive selection of key texts in post colonial theory and criticism yet compiled This collection covers a huge range of topics featuring nearly ninety of the discipline's most widely read works The Reader's 90 extracts are designed to introduce the major issues and debates in the field of post colonial literary studies This field itself however has become so varied that no collection of readings could encompass every voice which is now giving itself the name post colonial The editors in order to avoid a volume which is simply a critical canon have selected works representing arguments with which they do not necessarily agree but rather which above all stimulate discussion thought and further exploration Post colonial theory has occurred in all societies into which the imperial force of Europe has intruded though not always in the official form of theoretical text Like the description of any other field the term has come to mean many things but this volume hinges on one incontestable phenomenon the historical fact of colonialism and the palpable consequences to which this phenomenon gave rise The topic involves talk about experience of various kinds migration slavery suppression resistance representation difference race gender place and reaction to the European influence and about the fundamental experiences of speaking and writing by which all these come into being In compiling this reader the editors have sought to stimulate people to ask How might a genuinely post colonial literary enterprise proceed The fourteen sections include Issues and Debates Universality and Difference Textual Representation and Resistance Postmodernism and Post Colonialism Nationalism Hybridity Ethnicity and Indigeneity Feminism and Post Colonialism Language The Body and Performance History Place Education and Production and Consumption Contributors include many of the leading post colonial theorists and critics such as Franz Fanon Chinua Achebe Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak Ngugi wa Thiong'o Homi Bhabha Derek Walcott Edward Said and Trinh T Minh-ha in addition to a number of the discourse's newer voices The Post Colonial Studies Reader will prove an authoritative compilation representing an invaluable contribution to the study of post colonial theory and criticism

New World Myth Marie Vautier, 1998-01-06 There is an emphasis on de constructing de centring de stabilizing and especially de mythologizing in the study that illustrates New

World myth narrators questioning the past in the present and carrying out their original investigations of myth place and identity Underlining the fact that political realities are encoded in the language and narrative of the works Vautier argues that the reworkings of literary religious and historical myths and political ideologies in these novels are grounded in their shared situation of being in and of the New World     Joe Zuken, Citizen and Socialist Doug Smith,1990-01-01

scholarly debates on the concept of national cinema and builds on the rich formative efforts of Canadian cultural criticism that held dear the need for cultural autonomy

Marginal Groups and Mainstream American Culture Yolanda Estes, 2000 They are often portrayed as outsiders ethnic minorities the poor the disabled and so many others all living on the margins of mainstream society Countless previous studies have focused on their pain and powerlessness but that has done little more than sustain our preconceptions of marginalized groups Most accounts of marginalization approach the subject from a distance and tend to overemphasize the victimization of outsiders Taking a more intimate approach this book reveals the personal moral and social implications of marginalization by drawing upon the actual experiences of such individuals Multidisciplinary and multicultural Identity on the Margin addresses marginalization at a variety of social levels and within many different social phenomena going beyond familiar cases dealing with race ethnicity and gender to examine such outsiders as renegade children conservative Christians and the physically and mentally disabled And because women are especially subject to the effects of marginalization feminist concerns and the marginalization of sexual practices provide a common denominator for many of the essays From problems posed by complimentary racism to the status of gays in Tony Blair's England from the struggle of Native Americans to preserve their identities to the singular problems of single mothers Identity on the Margin takes in a broad spectrum of cases to provide theoretical analysis and ethical criticism of the mechanisms of identity formation at the edges of society In all of the cases the authors demonstrate the need for theory that initiates social change by considering the ethical implications of marginalization and criticizing its harmful effects Bringing together accounts of marginalization from many different disciplines and perspectives this collection addresses a broad audience in the humanities and social sciences It offers a basis for enhancing our understanding of this process and for working toward meaningful social change

Past the Last Post Ian Adam, Helen Tiffin, 1991 This book is an examination of two major literary movements which are often misleadingly conflated The post colonial differs from the post modern in its provenance in former British colonies and dominions in its historical reach extending from the time of Imperial dominance down to the contemporary in its critical commitment to context and in its development of an independent body of theory
