Marguerite Duras Revisited:

Marguerite Duras Revisited Marilyn R. Schuster, 1993 French writer Duras is best known for her novel The Lover This study of Duras's fiction and films sets five decades of her work in the context of her life and culture tracing the evolution of narrative strategies and themes and proposing a feminist reading of her work Annotation copyright Book Memory and Mourning Jennifer Rebecca Burriss, 2002 Revisioning Duras James S. Williams, 2000-12-01 The extraordinary range complexity and power of Marguerite Duras novelist dramatist film maker essayist has been justly recognised Yet in the years following her death in 1996 there has been an increasing tendency to consecrate her work particularly by those critics who approach it primarily in biographical terms The British and American specialists featured in this interdisciplinary collection aim to resurrect the Duras corpus in all its forms by submitting it theoretically to three main areas of enquiry By establishing how far Duras's work questions and redefines the parameters of literary and cinematic form as well as the categories of race and ethnicity homosexuality and heterosexuality fantasy and violence the contributors to this volume revision Duras's work in the widest sense of the term Critical Essays on Marguerite Duras Bettina Liebowitz Knapp, 1998 The full range of literary traditions comes to life in the Twayne Critical Essays Series Volume editors have carefully selected critical essays that represent the full spectrum of controversies trends and methodologies relating to each author's work Essays include writings from the author's native country and abroad with interpretations from the time they were writing through the present day Each volume includes An introduction providing the reader with a lucid overview of criticism from its beginnings illuminating controversies evaluating approaches and sorting out the schools of thought The most influential reviews and the best reprinted scholarly essays A section devoted exclusively to reviews and reactions by the subject's contemporaries Original essays new translations and revisions commissioned especially for the series Previously unpublished materials such as interviews lost letters and manuscript fragments A bibliography of the subject's writings and interviews A name and subject index Duras, Writing, and the Ethical Martin Crowley, 2000 Careful textual analysis shows the particular fragile nature of this engagement as well as the intricate textures of Duras's work this leads to a striking new model of the relation between the literary text and the ethical life of its readers which will be of importance not only to specialists in French Studies but to all those interested in ethical criticism and modern literary studies BOOK JACKET Marguerite Duras Lives On Janine Ricouart, 1998-12-23 Marguerite Duras Lives On is a collection of essays published in English by the Duras Society between the fall of 1989 and spring 1993 and includes various critical schools of Durassian Scholars Organized by genres this book includes an essay on Duras's theater five essays on her films several essays on her novels and also an essay on feminist theory dealing with issues of the female voice and identity in Duras's work The forward is written by Anne Marie Alonzo who is a poet fiction writer playwright literary critic and editor publisher of Trois a leading review and publishing house in Qu bec Reader's Guide to Women's Studies Eleanor Amico, 1998-03-20 The Reader's Guide to Women's Studies is a searching and analytical description of the most prominent and influential works written in the now universal field of women's studies. Some 200 scholars have contributed to the project which adopts a multi-layered approach allowing for comprehensive treatment of its subject matter. Entries range from very broad themes such as Health General Works to entries on specific individuals or more focused topics such as Doctors. Gendered Resistance Valérie Baisnée, 2023-04-24 Four major women's autobiographies of the twentieth century are discussed together here for the first time. Valérie Baisnée reinterprets the autobiographical writing of Simone de Beauvoir, Maya Angelou, Janet Frame and Marguerite Duras, finding some striking similarities in these women's resistance to a conservative order. Deploying a variety of theoretical approaches from linguistic to Marxist, Baisnée endeavours to break the restrictive patterns of author-centred studies to go beyond simple oppositions between truth and fiction and to dispense with the facile interpretation of these texts as confessional. For Valérie Baisnée, autobiography is meant to represent not the true but the official version of a life signed by the author herself and revered as hagiography by the public. Instead of analysing women's autobiographies as confessional, it is possible to see this mode of discourse as a means to counteract the effect of exposure of women's private lives. By revealing their past, however painful it may be, the four autobiographers studied in this book also enhance their present strength and therefore underline the political nature of the autobiography. Stolen Limelight Margaret E. Gray, 2022-05-15 Who has not in a favored moment stolen the limelight, whether inadvertently or by design? The implications of such an act of display, its illicitness, its verve, its vertiginous reversal of power, its subversiveness are explored in this book. Narrative crafting and management of such scenarios are studied across canonical novels by Gide, Colette, Mauriac and Duras as well as by African Francophone writer Oyono and detective novelist Japrisot. As manipulated within narrative acts of display, position a viewer or reader from whom response from veneration or desire to repugnance or horror is solicited, but this study demonstrates that display can also work subversively, destabilising and displacing such a privileged spectator. As strategies of displacement, these scenarios ultimately neutralise and even occult the very subject they so energetically appear to solicit. Powered by gendered tensions, this dynamic of display as displacement works toward purposes of struggle, resistance or repression.

The Facts on File Companion to the World Novel Michael Sollars, Arbolina Llamas Jennings, 2008 Womb Fantasies Caroline Rupperecht, 2013-08-31 Womb Fantasies examines the womb, an invisible and mysterious space invested with allegorical significance as a metaphorical space in postwar cinematic and literary texts grappling with the trauma of post-holocaust, postmodern existence. In addition, it examines the representation of visible spaces in the texts in terms of their attribution with womb-like qualities. The framing of the study, historically within the postwar era, begins with a discussion of Eero Saarinen's Womb Chair in the context of the Cold War's need for safety in light of the threat of nuclear destruction and ranges over films such as Marguerite Duras and Alan Resnais' film Hiroshima mon amour and Duras' novel The Vice Consul, exploring the ways that such cultural texts fantasize the womb as a response to trauma defined as the compulsive need to return to the site of loss a place envisioned as both a secure space and a prison The womb fantasy is linked to the desire to recreate an identity that is new and original but ahistorical Avant-garde Orientalism David LeHardy Sweet,2017-01-20 This study explores the work of Western avant garde writers who traveled to and wrote about Asia and North Africa Though exoticist in outlook many of these writers were also anti colonialist and thus avoided some of the pitfalls of academic orientalism by assuming an aesthetics of diversity while employing strategies of provocation and reciprocity As a survey of works on travel including essays novels poems and plays the book challenges or modifies many postcolonial assumptions about Western writers on the Orient from the French Surrealists to the American Beats and even transnational authors of the new millennium Through a synthesis of avant garde postcolonial and travel literature theories Avant garde Orientalism works in the best tradition of comparative literary study to identify and analyze a distinct category of world literature

Revisiting the Nomadic Subject Maria Tamboukou, 2021-10-27 This book follows the stories of forcefully displaced women and raises the question of whether we can still use the figuration of the nomadic subject in feminist theories and politics This question is examined in the light of the ongoing global crises of mobility and severe border practices In recounting their stories migrant and refugee women appear in the world as who they are unique and unrepeatable human beings and not as what they are objectified refugees victims or stateless subjects Women s stories leave traces of their will to rewrite their exclusion from oppressive regimes defend their choice of civil and patriarchal disobedience grasp their passage claim their right to have rights and affirm their determination for new beginnings What emerges from the encounter between theoretical abstractions and women s lived experiences is the need to decolonize feminist theories and make cartographies of mobility assemblages wherein nomadism is a component of entangled relations and not a category or a figuration of a subject position These stories that have now been collected transcribed and analysed they have created a rich archive of uprooted women s experiences and have brought forward a wide range of new ideas that will be presented and discussed in the book Decolonizing feminist theory Mobility assemblages and geographies of nomadism The art of listening to fragmented narratives and the labour of translation Crossing borders and inhabiting borderlands Radical solitude and radical hope Feminist genealogies of labour under conditions of forced displacement The force of political narratives through the figure of Antigone Education for hope Imagining the non nomad 4 narrated stories will also be presented in full interwoven in the theoretical discussions of the book thus opening up a dialogic space between theoretical reflections and diffractions and narratives of lived experiences

Revisiting the Jewish Question Elisabeth Roudinesco, 2014-03-10 What does it mean to be Jewish What is an anti Semite Why does the enigmatic identity of the men who founded the first monotheistic religion arouse such passions We need to return to the Jewish question We need first to distinguish between the anti Judaism of medieval times which persecuted the Jews and the anti Judaism of the Enlightenment which emancipated them while being critical of their religion It is a mistake to confuse the two and see everyone from Voltaire to Hitler as anti Semitic in the same way Then we need to focus on the development of anti Semitism in Europe especially Vienna and Paris where the Zionist idea was born Finally we need to investigate the reception of Zionism both in the Arab countries and within the Diaspora Re examining the Jewish question in the light of these distinctions and investigations Roudinesco shows that there is a permanent tension between the figures of the universal Jew and the territorial Jew Freud and Jung split partly over this issue which gained added intensity after the creation of the State of Israel in 1948 and the Eichmann trial in 1961 Finally Roudinesco turns to the Holocaust deniers who started to suggest that the Jews had invented the genocide that befell their people and to the increasing number of intellectual and literary figures who have been accused of anti Semitism This thorough re examination of the Jewish question will be of interest to students and scholars of modern history and contemporary thought and to a wide readership interested in anti-Semitism and the history of the Jews

Gay and Lesbian Literature Since World War II Sonya L Jones, 2014-05-22 Gay and Lesbian Literature Since World War II chronicles the multifaceted explosion of gay and lesbian writing that has taken place in the second half of the twentieth century. Encompassing a wide range of subject matter and a balance of gay and lesbian concerns, it includes work by established scholars as well as young theoreticians and archivists who have initiated new areas of investigation. The contributors' examinations of this rich literary period make it easy to view the half century from 1948 to 1998 as the Queer Renaissance. Included in Gay and Lesbian Literature Since World War II are critical and social analyses of literary movements, novels, short fiction, periodicals, and poetry, as well as a look at the challenges of establishing a repository for lesbian cultural history. Specific chapters in this groundbreaking work trace the development of gay poetry in America after World War II, examine how AIDS is represented in the first four Latino novels to deal with the subject matter, and chronicle the birth of lesbian feminist publishing in the 1970s, showing how it created a flourishing gay literature in the 1980s and 1990s. Other chapters outline the history of The Ladder from its initial publication in 1956 as the official vehicle of the Daughters of Bilitis to its final issue as a privately published literary magazine in 1972; examine Baldwin's 1962 novel Another Country and discuss the complicated critical history of this work and its relation to Baldwin's literary reputation; racial, sexual, and political factors are taken into account; chart how Other Voices, Other Rooms by Truman Capote, and The House of Breath by William Goyen reveal contradictory genderings of male homosexuality, suggesting an absence of a unified model of mid-twentieth-century male homosexuality; argue that the 1976 novel Lover by Bertha Harris can be considered an exemplary novel within discussions of both postmodern fiction and lesbian theory. The author calls for Harris to be added to the group of writers such as Wittig, Anzaldá, Lorde, and Winterson who are discussed within the context of a postmodern lesbian narrative; examine the short fiction of Canadian lesbian novelist Jane Rule in an effort to shed light on lesbian creative practice in the homophobic climate of postwar North America; argue for an understanding of Dale Peck's novel Martin and John as an attempt to link two apparently different processes of import to contemporary male subjects through examination of the novel alongside selected passages from Nietzsche and Freud; focus on the pragmatic issues of developing and maintaining accessible research venues from which to cultivate the study of racial and cultural diversity in lesbian lives. Document the history of the Lesbian Herstory Archives, one of the first lesbian-specific collections in the world, from its birth in the early 1970s to the present.

Revisiting the French Resistance in Cinema, Literature, Bande Dessinée, and Television (1942-2012) Christophe Corbin, 2019-05-03 Revisiting the French Resistance in Cinema, Literature, Bande Dessinée, and Television 1942-2012 examines how fictional works have contributed to shaping the image of the French Resistance and offers a key to understanding France's national psyche. Christophe Corbin explores themes including the making of the myth of an honorable country united against a common enemy, comedies gently poking fun at it, and fictional works debunking it straightforwardly, the invisibility and resurfacing of women in films and novels as well as contemporary depictions of the Resistance on television Case studies include sometimes forgotten or lesser known works such as Aragon s wartime poetry early films such as Le P re tranquille or Casablanca inspired Fortunat iconic films and novels such as Le Silence de la mer or La Grande Vadrouille but also contemporary fictional works such as Effroyables jardins and Un H ros tr s discret or the popular TV series Un Village fran ais It will be of interest to scholars and students in cultural studies film studies French studies history and media studies

Scanning the Hypnograph Nathaniel Wallace, 2016-09-07 Nathaniel Wallace s Scanning the Hypnograph chronicles a contemporary genre that exploits sleep s evocative dimensions While dreams sleeping nudes and other facets of the dormant state were popular with artists of the early twentieth century and long before sleep experiences have given rise to an even wider range of postmodern artwork Scanning the Hypnograph first assesses the modernist framework wherein the sleeping subject typically enjoys firm psychic grounding As postmodernism begins subjective space is fragmented the representation of sleep reflecting the trend Among other topics this book demonstrates how portrayals of dormant individuals can reveal imprints of the self Gender issues are taken up as well Mainstream heterosexual representations are considered along with depictions of gay lesbian and androgynous sleepers
