Biography Catherine N. Parke, 2020-10-28 Catherine Parke explores biography through detailed examinations of Samuel Johnson Virginia Woolf Langston Hughes Gertrude Stein and other masters of the genre. Leonard Bernstein and Washington, DC Daniel Abraham, Alicia Kopstein-Penk, Andrew H. Weaver, 2020 Composer conductor activist and icon of twentieth-century America Leonard Bernstein 1918-90 had a rich association with Washington DC. Although he never lived there the US capital was the site of some of the most important moments in his life and work as he engaged with the nation's struggles and triumphs. By examining Bernstein through the lens of DC this book offers new insights into his life and music from the 1940s through the 1980s including his role in building DC's artistic landscape his political diplomatic aims his works that received premieres and other early performances in DC and his relationships with the nation's liberal and conservative political elites. The collection also contributes new perspectives on twentieth-century American history, government, and culture, helping to elucidate the political function of music in American democracy. The essays in Leonard Bernstein and Washington DC, all newly written by leading authorities, situate this important American cultural figure in the seat of United States government. The result is a fresh new angle on Leonard Bernstein, American politics, and American culture in the second half of the twentieth century. Daniel Abraham is Professor of Music at American University. Alicia Kopfstein Penk is Adjunct Professorial Lecturer at American University, and Andrew H. Weaver is Professor of Musicology at The Catholic University of America.

Medieval Franciscan Approaches to the Virgin Mary, 2019-08-12. This volume offers a sample of the many ways that medieval Franciscans wrote, represented in art, and preached about the model of models of the medieval religious experience, the Virgin Mary. This is an extremely valuable collection of essays that highlight the significant role the Franciscans played in developing Mariology in the Middle Ages. Beginning with Francis Clare and Anthony, a number of significant theologians, spiritual writers, preachers, and artists are presented in their attempt to capture the significance and meaning of the Virgin Mary in the context of the late Middle Ages within the Franciscan movement. Contributors are Luciano Bertazzo, Michael W. Blastic, Rachel Fulton Brown, Leah Marie Buturain, Marzia Ceschia, Holly Flora Alessia Francone, J. Isaac Goff, Darrelyn Gunzburg, Mary Beth Ingham, Christiaan Kappes, Steven J. McMichael, Pacelli Millane, Kimberly Rivers, Filippo Sedda, and Christopher J. Shorrock.

The Religious History of American Women, Catherine A. Brekus, 2009-11-13. More than a generation after the rise of women's history alongside the feminist movement, it is still difficult, observes Catherine Brekus, to locate women in histories of American religion. Mary Dyer, a Quaker who was hanged for heresy; Lizzie Robinson, a former slave and laundress who sold Bibles door to door; Sally Priesand, a Reform rabbi; Estela Ruiz, who saw a vision of the Virgin Mary: how do these women's stories change our understanding of American religious history and American women's history? In this provocative collection of twelve essays, contributors explore how considering the religious history of American women can transform our dominant historical narratives. Covering a variety of topics, including Mormonism, the women's rights movement, Judaism, witchcraft, trials, the civil rights movement, Catholicism, everyday religious life, Puritanism, African American women's activism, and the Enlightenment, the volume enhances our understanding of both religious history and women's history. Taken together, these essays sound the call for a new, more inclusive history.

Pack,2025-04-30 Protestant Christian historiography has persistently erased unmarried childless women from the story of faith in Australia When women are mentioned they are judged according to a heteronormative maternalist framework built upon the ideology of separate spheres This paradigm creates a lopsided picture whereby women are celebrated for their social and moral influence but are absent from rational intellectual discourse This book asks the question why have unmarried women who devoted themselves to social justice activism motivated by their Christian faith been erased from the pages of Australian religious histories It does this through biographies of two unmarried women each engaged in very different work aimed at creating a more just and equitable Australia Queer Omissions uses biographical case studies of two unmarried childless women Frances Levvy 1831 1924 and Constance Duncan 1896 1970 to critique the writing of Protestant religious histories in Australia asking why those outside a heteronormative framework have been relegated to the margins Motivated by their faith Duncan and Levvy engaged in social justice activism that left an indelible mark on Australian society Yet they remain absent from the histories of their own faith communities Queer Omissions seeks to tell a bigger story of women who chafed against their contracted sphere yet motivated by their faith impacted their world for good In doing so it uniquely expands the categories of those who see themselves in the story finding hope in the process This book will be of great interest to scholars of religion gender and sexuality as well as people of faith trying to understand and reclaim their place in the story     Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1993 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70     American Book Publishing Record ,2001     Canadiana ,1991
