Louis de Malave, 1983 Modern Architecture in Mexico City Kathryn E. O'Rourke, 2017-02-10 Mexico City became one of the centers of architectural modernism in the Americas in the first half of the twentieth century Invigorated by insights drawn from the first published histories of Mexican colonial architecture which suggested that Mexico possessed a distinctive architecture and culture beginning in the 1920s a new generation of architects created profoundly visual modern buildings intended to convey Mexico's unique cultural character By midcentury these architects and their students had rewritten the country's architectural history and transformed the capital into a metropolis where new buildings that evoked pre conquest colonial and International Style architecture coexisted Through an exploration of schools a university campus a government ministry a workers park and houses for Diego

Rivera and Luis Barragan Kathryn O Rourke offers a new interpretation of modern architecture in the Mexican capital showing close links between design evolving understandings of national architectural history folk art and social reform This book demonstrates why creating a distinctively Mexican architecture captivated architects whose work was formally dissimilar and how that concern became central to the profession Contemporary Architects Muriel Emanuel,2016-01-23

Exploring Materiality and Connectivity in Anthropology and Beyond Philipp Schorch,Martin Saxer,Marlen Elders,2020-03-30 Exploring Materiality and Connectivity in Anthropology and Beyond provides a new look at the old anthropological concern with materiality and connectivity It understands materiality not as defined property of some thing nor does it take connectivity as merely a relation between discrete entities Somewhat akin to Heisenberg s uncertainty principle it sees materiality and connectivity as two interrelated modes in which an entity is or more precisely is becoming in the world The question thus is how these two modes of becoming relate and fold into each other Throughout the four year research process that led to this book the authors approached this question not just from a theoretical perspective taking the suggestion of thinking through things literally and methodologically seriously the first two workshops were dedicated to practical hands on exercises working with things From these workshops a series of installations emerged straddling the boundaries of art and academia These installations served as artistic academic interventions during the final symposium and are featured alongside the other academic contributions to this volume Throughout this process two main themes emerged and structure Part II Movement and Growth and Part III Dissolution and Traces of the present volume respectively Part I Conceptual Grounds consists of two chapters offering conceptual takes on things and ties one from anthropology and one from archaeology As interrelated modes of becoming materiality and connectivity make it necessary to coalesce things and ties into thing ties an insight toward which the chapters and interventions came from different sides and one in which the initial proposition of the editors still shines through Throughout the pages of this volume we invite the reader to travel beyond imaginaries of a universe of separate planets united by connections and to venture with us instead into the thicket of thing ties in which we live Clip, Stamp, Fold Beatriz Colomina,2021-04-29 An explosion of little architectural magazines in the 1960s and 1970s instigated a radical transformation in architectural culture as the magazines acted as a site of innovation and debate Clip Stamp Fold takes stock of seventy little magazines from this period The book brings together a remarkable range of documents and original research which the project has produced during its continuous travels over the last four years starting with the exhibition at the Storefront in November 2006 The book features transcripts from the Small Talks events in which editors and designers were invited to discuss their magazines a stocktaking of over 100 significant issues that tracks the changing density and progression of the little magazine phenomenon transcripts of more than forty interviews with magazine editors and designers from all over the world a selection of magazine facsimiles and a fold out poster that offers a mosaic image of more than 1 200 covers examined during the research Mathias Goeritz Jennifer

Josten,2018-01-01 The first major work in English on Mathias Goeritz 1915 1990 this book illuminates the artist s pivotal role within the landscape of twentieth century modernism Goeritz became recognized as an abstract sculptor after arriving in Mexico from Germany by way of Spain in 1949 His call to integrate abstract forms into civic and religious architecture outlined in his Emotional Architecture manifesto had a transformative impact on midcentury Mexican art and design While best known for the experimental museum El Eco and his collaborations with the architect Luis Barrag n including the brightly colored towers of Satellite City Goeritz also shaped the Bauhaus inspired curriculum at Guadalajara s School of Architecture and the iconic Cultural Program of Mexico City s 1968 Olympic Games Josten addresses the Cold War implications of these and other initiatives that pitted Goeritz an advocate of internationalist abstraction against Diego Rivera and David Alfaro Siqueiros ardent defenders of the realist style that prevailed in official Mexican art during the postrevolutionary period Exploring Goeritz s dialogues with leading figures among the Parisian and New York avant gardes such as Yves Klein and Philip Johnson Josten shows how Goeritz s approach to modernism which was highly attuned to politics and place formed part of a global enterprise

Burian,2010-06-28 Since the mid 1970s there has been an extraordinary renewal of interest in early modern architecture both as a way of gaining insight into contemporary architectural culture and as a reaction to neoconservative postmodernism This book undertakes a critical reappraisal of the notion of modernity in Mexican architecture and its influence on a generation of Mexican architects whose works spanned the 1920s through the 1960s Nine essays by noted architects and architectural historians cover a range of topics from broad based critical commentaries to discussions of individual architects and buildings Among the latter are the architects Enrique del Moral Juan O Gorman Carlos Obreg n Santacilia Juan Segura Mario Pani and the campus and stadium of the Ciudad Universitaria in Mexico City Relatively little has been published in English regarding this era in Mexican architecture Thus Modernity and the Architecture of Mexico will play a groundbreaking role in making the underlying assumptions ideological and political constructs and specific architect s agendas known to a wide audience in the humanities Likewise it should inspire greater appreciation for this undervalued body of works as an important contribution to the modern movement      About Streets Gregory Marinic,Pablo Meninato,2025-08-24 Focusing on the street as a socio spatial catalyst this book fosters a comprehensive conversation on the past present and future of streets and public space While the street is commonly associated with urban form or the metropolitan context of social dynamics and design practices this interdisciplinary anthology highlights that urban design challenges are global multidimensional and transcalar This critical survey of the city collects a broad scope of practices and phenomena in urbanism architecture activism and participatory design Individual chapters examine the histories theories geographies architecture and design of streets offering essential reading for scholars professionals students and enthusiasts of urbanism urban design architecture landscape architecture planning geography sociology anthropology cultural studies economics and the arts Over 50 chapters authored by an international and diverse group of leading academics theorists historians and practitioners expand the discourse on streets and public space     The Territories of Identity Soumyen Bandyopadhyay,Guillermo Garma Montiel,2013-11-20 The expedited globalised process of exchange and new forms of cultural production have transformed old established notions of identity calling into question their conceptual foundations This book explores the spatial and representational dimension of this phenomenon by addressing how the reshaping of the key themes of place architecture and memory are altering the nature as well as our understanding of identity Cutting across boundaries the book drives discussion of identity beyond the well worn concern for its loss within a globalised context and importantly provides links between identity place memory and representation in architecture Examining a range of case studies from Australia Germany India Japan Mexico Poland Puerto Rico Turkey and Singapore as well as with contributions cutting across geographical and temporal boundaries this volume addresses such issues as architecture technology place and memory critical issues in the monitoring and mapping of identity shift within a rapidly globalising context With contributions from renowned authors in the field including Nicholas Temple Patsy Hely Robert Brown Liane Lefaivre John Hendrix Ana Souto Fiona MacLaren Stephen Walker Nezar AlSayyad Andrzej Piotrowski Catherine Ettinger Luz Marie Rodr guez and Raymond Quek this book presents fresh insights and diverse perspectives on the evolving question of identity and globalisation     Hotel Mexico George F. Flaherty,2016-08-16 In 1968 Mexico prepared to host the Olympic games amid growing civil unrest The spectacular sports facilities and urban redevelopment projects built by the government in Mexico City mirrored the country s rapid but uneven modernization In the same year a street savvy democratization movement led by students emerged in the city Throughout the summer the 68 Movement staged protests underscoring a widespread sense of political disenfranchisement Just ten days before the Olympics began nearly three hundred student protestors were massacred by the military in a plaza at the core of a new public housing complex In spite of institutional denial and censorship the 1968 massacre remains a touchstone in contemporary Mexican culture thanks to the public memory work of survivors and Mexico s leftist intelligentsia In this highly original study of the afterlives of the 68 Movement George F Flaherty explores how urban spaces material but also literary photographic and cinematic became an archive of 1968 providing a framework for de facto modes of justice for years to come

Constructing Identity in Contemporary Architecture Peter Herrle,Stephanus Schmitz,2009 The global spread of uniform modes of production and cultural values has been accompanied by a dissemination of stereotypes of modern architecture styles almost everywhere around the globe Paradoxically the reverse process has also emerged In some countries the elites feel the necessity to counterbalance the loss of identity and defend their own cultures against the intruding forces of globalization What started as a defensive notion has developed into a more progressive attempt to re create what has allegedly been lost This trend is being strongly expressed in discourses about architecture in countries of the South Who are the actors feeling compelled to construct new identities How are these new identities in architecture created in various parts of the world And which are the ingredients borrowed from various historical and ethnic traditions and other sources These and other questions are discussed in five case studies from different parts of the world written by renowned scholars from Brazil Mexico Egypt India and Singapore

Architecture in Development Aggregate Architectural History Collaborative, 2022-04-25 This extensive text investigates how architects planners and other related experts responded to the contexts and discourses of development after World War II Development theory did not manifest itself in tracts of economic and political theory alone It manifested itself in every sphere of expression where economic predicaments might be seen to impinge on cultural factors Architecture appears in development discourse as a terrain between culture and economics in that practitioners took on the mantle of modernist expression while also acquiring government contracts and immersing themselves in bureaucratic processes This book considers how for a brief period architects planners structural engineers and various practitioners of the built environment employed themselves in designing all the intimate spheres of life but from a consolidated space of expertise Seen in these terms development was to cite Arturo Escobar an immense design project itself one that requires radical disassembly and rethinking beyond the umbrella terms of global modernism and colonial modernities which risk erasing the sinews of conflict encountered in globalizing and modernizing architecture Encompassing countries as diverse as Israel Ghana Greece Belgium France India Mexico the United States Venezuela the Philippines South Korea Sierra Leone Singapore Turkey Cyprus Iraq Zambia and Canada the set of essays in this book cannot be considered exhaustive nor a field guide in the traditional sense Instead it offers theoretical reflections from the field based on extensive archival research This book sets out to examine the arrays of power resources technologies networking and knowledge that cluster around the term development and the manner in which architects and planners negotiated these thickets in their multiple capacities as knowledge experts as technicians as negotiators and as occasional authorities on settlements space domesticity education health and every other field where arguments for development were made

Participation in Art and Architecture Martino Stierli, Mechtild Widrich, 2015-10-16 Does participatory art and architecture shape social reality or is it shaped by it Shifting the ground of this debate which tends to assume one or other direction of influence this innovative book explores the inherently dialectic relationship between society and the built environment At the same time it strives for a historically conscious discussion of a very contemporary issue Chapters rethink the top down model of participation and audience activation of high modernism from Alexander Dorner s immersive museum to Mies van der Rohe s room s for play investigate participation in spaces under political pressure from exhibitions in bombed out buildings in besieged Sarajevo 1992 5 to the art and organizing of revolution in Egypt 2012 13 draw historical parallels between modes of participation and the exercise of power that are seldom compared with one another from sites of occupation in 1968 Mexico and 2011 Spain

finally creating links between cartography and feminism and between tourism and internet surveillance With these juxtapositions of the aesthetic and the everyday and the built and the mediated new questions arise is space formed once and for all or is it the changeable product of changeable patterns of use Does the aesthetic always correspond to the political or might an aesthetically authoritarian space be conducive to social justice In exploring these questions this book looks at how participants themselves exert power rather than being victimised or liberated from it
