Market Power Vertical Linkages And Government Policy:

Market Power, Vertical Linkages, and Government Policy Ishak Haji Omar, 1994 Problems of agricultural marketing have long been of concern to policy makers especially in determining the relative roles to be played by the private and public sectors in improving market performance This book is a comprehensive evaluation of the fish trade in Peninsular Malaysia a business fraught with risks and uncertainties It draws upon various economic theories and statistical tools to establish the market characteristics of the trade of a highly heterogeneous commodity in a multi market distribution system Intriguing features of the fish trade are identified some of which are at divergence with the conventional wisdom In the study attention is first focused on the industrial structure framework with special emphasis on and modifications to concepts that are of importance to fish marketing Then the structural features of the fish trade and its market conduct are established and government and co operative intervention schemes evaluated The final chapter synthesizes the findings across the board to gauge the overall competitiveness of the fish industry and makes policy suggestions for improving market performance

Small-scale Fisheries Management Robert S. Pomeroy, Neil Andrew, 2011 This book contains 12 chapters on the development management marketing effects of climatic change and poverty reduction in small scale fisheries in developing countries and rural areas

Assessment, management and future directions for coastal fisheries in Asian countries Silvestre, G. et al, 2003-12-08 In Asia the fisheries sector is important in terms of food security livelihoods and foreign exchange earnings However as in many parts of the world there are signs that capture fisheries are fully exploited or overfished Management of fisheries in the region is often hampered by lack of information on the status of fisheries in terms of biological social economic policy and governance aspects This regional project documents an alarming decline on coastal fishery resources based on historic research surveys in South and Southeast Asia Socio economic analyses and policy reviews highlight the importance of the fisheries sector but also the challenges facing it Potential interventions to improve fisheries management in the countries are outlined and defined with environmental socioeconomic and institutional objectives

Port, Maritime and Hinterland Development in Southeast Asia (UUM Press) Ahmad Bashawir Abdul Ghani, 2014-10-01 This book addresses myriad of issues and challenges in the field of port maritime and hinterland development in Southeast Asia from multidisciplinary perspectives Instead of focusing on only certain aspects of the maritime discipline the book presents a range of different viewpoint from business and management historical development geography law and others Although the book is made in the form of an edited book readers will benefit and gain knowledge on many important issues in the field of port maritime and hinterland development in Southeast Asia This book will also be beneficial to all parties in this area including policy and decision makers government officials port authorities port operators or terminal operators maritime related service providers such as freight forwarders in port ship agents navigation officers customs brokers stevedores and other port users shippers passengers and carriers This book is also catered for those involved in maritime research or students who take maritime subject or to the public who are interested in maritime issues The contributors of this book are experts from diverse backgrounds with extensive experience in the fields of port maritime and hinterland development This is because we believe that maritime studies are intertwined with many aspects of life from environmental management to disputes at the sea which will affect the maritime trade industry Hence issues in this book are also various However the emphasis is on the development of port maritime and hinterland sector in Southeast Asia

Organised Retailing and Agri-Business N. Chandrasekhara Rao,R. Radhakrishna,Ram Kumar Mishra,Venkata Reddy Kata,2015-10-07 This book examines the performance of organized retail chains supplying the agri input and output services in terms of achieving their objective of utilising collective bargaining power in the marketing of their agricultural produce integrating empirical experience from India and other selected developing countries The scenario of marketing for agricultural products has been undergoing rapid changes with the rise of organised retailing the Indian term for supermarkets a process that is likely to accelerate in years to come with India being on the threshold of a supermarket revolution In fact India is referred to as the final frontier in the development of supermarkets The growth of supermarkets in India is faster than that in China which is also witnessing an exponential growth as part of the third wave of supermarket diffusion The book investigates the links between organised retailing and farmers and farming in India Apart from raising issues of equity inclusion and problems in policy framework it also discusses policy interventions that are essential in order to make the development of organised retailing more inclusive and beneficial to the farming community and agricultural sector The book further serves as a guide for policy makers helping them to select the right kind of interventions to balance growth with equity as market forces penetrate deeper into the agricultural marketing space Measuring Capacity in

Fisheries Sean Pascoe,D. F. Gréboval,2003-01-01 This Fisheries Technical paper contains some selected originally presented at the FAO Technical Consultation on the Measurement of Fishing Capacity held in Mexico City in 1999 The 23 papers are presented in four parts The first part includes papers addressing theoretical considerations and definitions of capacity The 2nd part presents case studies outlining the existing practice in some member countries The 3rd section includes papers that outline alternative methods for deriving output based measures of capacity In particular the papers describe the data envelopment analysis and peak to peak techniques The methods are applied to a number of fisheries for examples purposes The last section contains papers that outline alternative methods for assessing input based measures of capacity These include estimation of fishing power hold capacity and bioeconomic modelling to determine optimal fleet sizes The
