Marketing Booze To Blacks:

Marketing Booze to Blacks George A. Hacker, Ronald Collins, Michael F. Jacobson, 1987-01-01 Beer wine and liquor manufacturers aggressively seek to maximize sales of their products to blacks despite public health and safety problems associated with those products Rather than act to protect the public from the over promotion of alcohol government has set few effective constraints on the sales stratagems of alcoholic beverage producers who advertise their brands to young people and who routinely promote regular daily drinking and appeal to the psychological needs of alcohol abusers Although blacks overall consume less alcohol per capita than whites drinking in the black community results in disproportionately high rates of certain alcohol related problems such as cirrhosis of the liver esophageal cancer and violent crime and accidents But the black population is being targeted for increased consumption Advertising and other marketing practices directed at blacks are examined The alcohol industry s varied public relations and public service activities which have been implemented ostensibly to promote goodwill in the black community result in economic dependence that effectively prevents black media and civic organizations from taking energetic actions against alcohol problems Recommendations are made to help decrease the economic dependence of these organizations on the alcohol industry BJV An African-centered Model of Prevention for African-American Youth at High Risk Lawford L. Goddard, 1993 The Food and Drink Police Thomas DiLorenzo, 2018-01-18 Written in a lively engaging style The Food and Drink Police is a thoroughgoing examination and critique of the efforts of government agencies and private organizations including the Center for Science in the Public Interest Mothers Against Drunk Driving the Bureau of Alcohol Tobacco and Firearms and the Food and Drug Administration to regulate the dietary habits and choices of private citizens Irreverent yet always informed the authors analyze the ideological motivations spurious science and assaults on freedom that underlie the activities of these groups General readers nutritionists and scientists in general doctors and government policymakers will find this indispensable reading Chapters such as Eat Drink and Keel Over Lasagna Egg Rolls and Popcorn Can Kill discuss the evils of multicultural cuisine and coffee and the good news about junk food In care for a Drink and None for the Road the authors provide an in depth look at Prohibition 1990s style Glow in the Dark Eggs or Anal Leakage Pick Your Poison provocatively fuels the current debate on fake fats and irradiated beef In The Pleasure Police David Shaw quotes the psychologist and advocate of defensive eating Dr Stephen Gullo as advising his thin obsessed patients to drink tomato juice before ordering in restaurants tomato juice after al is a natural appetite suppressant To which Shaw adds I assume he also advises his clients to masturbate before making love James T Bennett and Thomas J DiLorenzo expose this sort of convoluted advice in The Food and Drink Police a timely and important contribution to the cultural debate on government and private choice The African American Experience Arvarh E. Strickland, Robert E. Weems Jr., 2000-11-30 Compared to the early decades of the 20th century when scholarly writing on African Americans was limited to a few titles on slavery Reconstruction and African American migration the last thirty years have witnessed an explosion of works on the African American experience With the Civil Rights and Black Power movements of the 1960s came an increasing demand for the study and teaching of African American history followed by the publication of increasing numbers of titles on African American life and history This volume provides a comprehensive bibliographical and analytical guide to this growing body of literature as well as an analysis of how the study of African Americans has changed through educational and agency internship programs can promote awareness to your clients special needs concerning substance abuse Alcohol Use Abuse Among Latinos will help you provide all of your Latino clients with efficient and culture friendly services for resisting or overcoming the abuse of alcohol tobacco or other drugs Desegregating the Dollar Robert E. Weems,1998-02-01 Capitalism and slavery stand as the two economic phenomena that have most clearly defined the United States Yet despite African Americans nearly 500 billion annual spending power surprisingly little attention has been devoted to the ways U S businesses have courted black dollars in post slavery America Robert E Weems Jr presents the first fully integrated history of black consumerism over the course of the last century The World War I era Great Migration of African Americans from the rural South to northern and southern cities stimulated initial corporate interest in blacks as consumers A generation later as black urbanization intensified during World War II and its aftermath the notion of a distinct profitable African American consumer market gained greater currency Moreover black socioeconomic gains resulting from the Civil Rights movement which itself featured such consumer justice protests as the Montgomery Bus Boycott further enhanced the status and influence of African American shoppers Unwilling to settle for facile answers Weems explores the role of black entrepreneurs who promoted the importance of the African American consumer market to U S corporations Their actions ironically set the stage for the ongoing destruction of black owned business While the extent of educational employment and residential desegregation remains debatable African American consumer dollars have by any standard been fully incorporated into the U S economy Desegregating the Dollar takes us through the blaxploitation film industry the vast market for black personal care products and the insidious exploitation of black urban misery by liquor and cigarette advertisers Robert E Weems Jr has given us the definitive account of the complicated relationship between African Americans capitalism and consumerism Resources in Education ,1988 Tobacco Issues United States. Congress. House. Committee on Energy and Commerce. Subcommittee on Transportation and Hazardous Materials,1989 The Concept of Race in Natural and Social Science E. Nathaniel Gates,2014-05-01 Explores the concept of race The term race which originally denoted genealogical or class identity has in the comparatively brief span of 300 years taken on an entirely new meaning In the wake of the Enlightenment it came to be applied to social groups This ideological transformation coupled with a dogmatic insistence that the groups so designated were natural and not socially created gave birth to the modern notion of races as genetically distinct entities The results of this view were the encoding of race and racial hierarchies in law literature and culture How racial categories facilitate social control The articles in the series demonstrate that the classification of humans according to selected physical characteristics was an arbitrary decision that was not based on valid scientific method They also examine the impact of colonialism on the propagation of the concept and note that racial categorization is a powerful social force that is often used to promote the interests of dominant social groups Finally the collection surveys how laws based on race have been enacted around the world to deny power to minority groups A multidisciplinary resource This collection of outstanding articles brings multiple perspectives to bear on race theory and draws on a wider range of periodicals than even the largest library usually holds Even if all the articles were available on campus chances are that a student would have to track them down in several libraries and microfilm collections Providing of course that no journals were reserved for graduate students out for binding or simply missing This convenient set saves students substantial time and effort by making available all the key articles in one reliable source Authoritative commentary The series editor has put together a balanced selection of the most significant works accompanied by expert commentary A general introduction gives important background information and outlines fundamental issues current scholarship and scholarly controversies Introductions to individual volumes put the articles in context and draw attention to germinal ideas and major shifts in the field After reading the material even a beginning student will have an excellent grasp of the basics of the subject Public Health Reports ,1994 The Challenge of Participatory Research Phyllis Ann Langton,1995
