intended Great Expectations to be twice as long but constraints imposed by the management of All the Year Round limited the novel's length. The novel is collected and dense with a conciseness unusual for Dickens. According to G. K. Chesterton, Dickens penned Great Expectations in the afternoon of his life and fame. It was the penultimate novel Dickens completed preceding Our Mutual Friend. It is set among the marshes of Kent and in London in the early to mid 1800s. The novel contains some of Dickens' most memorable scenes including its opening in a graveyard when the young orphan Pip is accosted by the escaped convict Abel Magwitch. Great Expectations is a graphic book full of extreme imagery: poverty, prison ships, the hulks, barriers and chains, and fights to the death. Upon its release, Thomas Carlyle spoke of All that Pip's nonsense. Later, George Bernard Shaw praised the novel as All of one piece and consistently truthful. Dickens felt Great Expectations was his best work, calling it a very fine idea and was very sensitive to compliments from his friends. Bulwer, who has been as I think you know extraordinarily taken by the book, Great Expectations has a colourful cast that has entered popular culture: the capricious Miss Havisham, the cold and beautiful Estella, Joe the kind and generous blacksmith, the dry and sycophantic Uncle Pumblechook, Mr Jaggers, Wemmick with his dual personality, and the eloquent and wise friend Herbert Pocket. Throughout the narrative, typical Dickensian themes emerge: wealth and poverty, love and rejection, and the eventual triumph of good over evil. Great Expectations has become very popular and is now taught as a classic in many English classes. It has been translated into many languages and adapted many times in film and other media.
