Reading Hollywood Spaces And Meanings In American Film:

Reading Hollywood Deborah Thomas, 2019-07-25 This book examines the treatment of space and narrative in a selection of classic films including My Darling Clementine, It's a Wonderful Life and Vertigo. Deborah Thomas employs a variety of arguments in exploring the reading of space and its meaning in Hollywood cinema and film generally. Topics covered include the importance of space in defining genre such as the necessity of an urban landscape for a gangster film to be a gangster film, the ambiguity of offscreen space and spectatorship, how an audience reads an unseen but inferred setting, and the use of spatially disruptive cinematic techniques such as flashback to construct meaning. Spaces Mapped and Monstrous Nick Jones, 2020-04-21 Digital 3D has become a core feature of the twenty-first century visual landscape. Yet 3D cinema is a contradictory media form producing spaces that are highly regimented and exhaustively detailed; it simultaneously relies upon distortions of vision and space that are inherently strange. Spaces Mapped and Monstrous explores the paradoxical nature of 3D cinema to offer a critical analysis of an inescapable part of contemporary culture. Considering 3D's distinctive visual qualities and its connections to wider digital systems, Nick Jones situates the production and exhibition of 3D cinema within a web of aesthetic, technological, and historical contexts. He examines 3D's relationship with computer interfaces, virtual reality, and digital networks, as well as tracing its lineage to predigital models of visual organization. Jones emphasizes that 3D is not only a technology used in films but also a tool for producing, controlling, and distorting space within systems of surveillance, corporatization, and militarization. The book features detailed analysis of a wide range of films, including Avatar (2009), Goodbye to Language (2014), Love (2015), and Clash of the Titans (2010), demonstrating that 3D is not merely an augmentation of 2D cinema but that it has its own unique properties. Spaces Mapped and Monstrous brings together media archaeology, digital theory, and textual analysis to provide a new account of the importance of 3D to visual culture today. The Language and Style of Film Criticism Andrew Klevan, Alex Clayton, 2011-04-26 The Language and Style of Film Criticism brings together original essays from an international range of academics and film critics, highlighting the achievements, complexities, and potential of film criticism. In recent years, in contrast to the theoretical, historical, and cultural study of film, film criticism has been relatively marginalised, especially within the academy. This book highlights the distinctiveness of film criticism and addresses ways in which it can take a more central place within the academy and develop in dynamic ways outside it. The Language and Style of Film Criticism is essential reading for academics, teachers, students, and journalists who wish to understand and appreciate the language and style of film criticism. Italian Neorealism Mark Shiel, 2006-03-17 Italian Neorealism: Rebuilding the Cinematic City is a valuable introduction to one of the most influential of film movements. Exploring the roots and causes of neorealism, particularly the effects of the Second World War, as well as its politics and style, Mark Shiel examines the portrayal of the city and the legacy left by filmmakers such as Rossellini, De Sica, and Visconti. Films studied include Rome, Open City (1945), Paisan (1946), The Bicycle Thief (1948), and Umberto D. (1952).

Documentary Paul Ward, 2006-03-17 In using case studies such as Touching the Void 2003 and the films of Nick Broomfield this timely introduction to the growing field of documentary explores the definition and understanding of the form as well as the relationship between documentary and drama specifically the notion of reconstruction and reenactment Paul Ward also discusses animated documentaries the fertile genre of comedy and feature length contemporary works that have achieved widespread cinematic release

The Western Genre John Saunders, 2019-09-10 The Western Genre From Lordsburg to Big Whiskey offers close readings of the definitive American film movement as represented by such leading exponents as John Ford Howard Hawks and Sam Peckinpah In his consideration of such iconic motifs as the Outlaw Hero and the Lone Rider John Saunders traces the development of perennial aspects of the genre its continuity and importantly its change Representations of morality and masculinity are also foregrounded in consideration of the genre's major stars John Wayne and Clint Eastwood and such films as Shane Rio Bravo The Wild Bunch and Unforgiven

Film Editing Valerie Orpen, 2019-07-25 Film Editing provides an introduction to the craft of editing in the non silent film In clear and accessible language Valerie Orpen considers editing as an expressive strategy rather than a mere technique She reveals that editing can be approached and studied in a similar way to other aspects of film Traditionally studies on editing or montage tend to focus on silent cinema yet this book claims that an examination of editing should also consider the role of the soundtrack The aim of Film Editing is to examine the way in which editing can make meaning The book addresses editing as part of a wider context and as a crucial element of the overarching design and vision of a film Consequently this book incorporates other parameters such as mise en scene framing sound genre history and performance By examining a number of mainstream and art films such as Godard's A bout de souffle Hitchcock's Rear Window and Scorsese's Raging Bull Film Editing seeks to dispel the notion that editing is necessarily polarized as continuity versus discontinuity

Elaine Chan, 2019-11-27 This book is a scholarly investigation of the historical development and contemporary transformation of film noir in today's Hong Kong Focusing on the evolvement of cinematic narratives aesthetics and techniques the author balances a deep reading of the multiple filmic plots with a discussion of the cinematic portrayals of gender romance identities and power relations Nuancing the prototypical cinematic form and tragic sense of classical film noir the recent Hong Kong cinema turns around the classical generic role of film noir at the turn of the century to convey very different messages joy hope or love This book examines how the mainstream cinema or pre and post Hong Kong cinema in particular applies a peculiar strategy that makes room for the audience to enjoy a pleasure giving process of reflexivity and also critique the mainstream ideology With new analytical approaches and angles this book breaks new ground in offering transcultural and cross genre analyses on the cinema and its impact in local and international markets This book is the first major scholarly investigation of the historical development and contemporary transformation of film noir in today's Hong Kong Focusing on the evolvement of cinematic narratives aesthetics and techniques the author balances a deep reading of the multiple filmic plots with a refreshing discussion of the cinematic portrayals of gender romance identities and power relations This book also revisits conceptual categories developed by Foucault Lacan Derrida and Butler      Style and Meaning John Gibbs, Douglas Pye, 2005-08-06 With a common focus on the decisions made by filmmakers the essays in this collection explore different aspects of the relationship between textual detail and broader conceptual frameworks These texts reflect not only those areas of film history which have traditionally been explored through mise en scene criticism but also areas such as the avant garde and television drama which have not tended to receive such detailed investigation In these ways the book conducts a series of dialogues with issues in film study which are specifically provoked by close analysis      Film Genre Barry Keith Grant, 2019-07-25 This is a concise evaluation of film genre discussing genre theory and sample analyses of the western science fiction the musical horror comedy and the thriller It introduces the topic in an accessible way and includes sections on the principles of studying and understanding the idea of genre genre and popular culture the narrative and stylistic conventions of specific genres the relations of genres to culture and history race gender sexuality class and national identity and the complex relations between genre and authorship Case studies include 42nd Street Pennies from Heaven Red River All That Heaven Allows Night of the Living Dead Die Hard Little Big Man Blue Steel and Posse      Seeing Fictions in Film George M. Wilson, 2011-10-27 What happens when we view a movie Do we actually see the fiction and if so how Literary fiction is recounted by a voice of some sort the narrator George M Wilson explores the strategies of cinematic narration and argues that this prompts viewers to imagine seeing and hearing events in the fictional world      From Tinseltown to Bordertown Celestino Deleyto, 2017-04-03 Close readings that look for the real Los Angeles in a selection of contemporary movies Los Angeles is a global metropolis whose history and social narrative is linked to one of its top exports cinema L A appears on screen more than almost any city since Hollywood and is home to the American film industry Historically conversations of social and racial homogeneity have dominated the construction of Los Angeles as a cosmopolitan city with Hollywood films largely contributing to this image At the same time the city is also known for its steady immigration social inequalities and exclusionary urban practices not dissimilar to any other borderland in the world The Spanish names and sounds within the city are paradoxical in relation to the striking invisibility of its Hispanic residents at many economic social and political levels given their vast numbers Additionally the impact of the 1992 Los Angeles riots left the city raw yet brought about changing discourses and provided Hollywood with the opportunity to rebrand its hometown by projecting to the world a new image in which social uniformity is challenged by diversity It is for this reason that author Celestino Deleyto decided to take a closer look at how the quintessential cinematic city contributes to the ongoing creation of its own representation on the screen From Tinseltown to Bordertown Los Angeles on Film starts from the theoretical premise that place matters Deleyto sees film as predominantly a spatial system and argues that the space of film and the space of reality are closely intertwined in complex ways and that we should acknowledge the potential of cinema to intervene in the historical process of the construction of urban space as well as its ability to record place The author asks to what extent this is also the city that is being constructed by contemporary movies From Tinseltown to Bordertown offers a unique combination of urban cultural and border theory as well as the author's direct observation and experience of the city's social and human geography with close readings of a selection of films such as Falling Down White Men Can't Jump and Collateral Through these textual analyses Deleyto tries to situate filmic narratives of Los Angeles within the city itself and find a sense of the real place in their fictional fabrications While in a certain sense Los Angeles movies continue to exist within the rather exclusive boundaries of Tinseltown the special borderliness of the city is becoming more and more evident in cinematic stories Deleyto's monograph is a fascinating case study on one of the United States most enigmatic cities Film scholars with an interest in history and place will appreciate this book

Religion and Film Melanie Wright, 2006-10-27 From silent films to contemporary blockbusters religion has always proved a popular theme for the cinema However all too often religion and film are discussed from narrowly confessional perspectives with the result that the field has long been dominated by the question of a film's fidelity to a religious text or worldview or its value as a tool in ministry and mission Religion and Film An Introduction seeks to redress this balance and argues for a new holistic approach to the subject that draws on work from cultural studies religious studies and film studies alike Wright argues that the meanings of a film are not encoded by its textual organisation but are bound up with its interpretation by viewers in specific contexts Focusing on religiously diverse films like The Ten Commandments La Passion de Jeanne d'Arc Kadosh Lagaan My Son the Fanatic Keeping the Faith The Wicker Man and Mel Gibson's The Passion of The Christ the author looks at varied screen representations of religion at films shaped by strong convictions about the place of religion in society and at the roles that audiences play as consumers of film The book will have strong appeal to students as well as general readers interested in all aspects of the inter relationship of religion and the cinema
