Readings In Adult Development And Aging:

Readings in Adult Development and Aging Klaus Warner Schaie, James Geiwitz, 1982-01-01      Adult Development and Aging Klaus Warner Schaie, Sherry L. Willis, 1986      An Update on Adult Development Theory: New Ways of Thinking About the Life Course M. Carolyn Clark, Rosemary S. Caffarella, 2011-10-13 Our approach to adult learners and the learning process is shaped by our knowledge of how adults change and develop across the life span This issue of New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education reviews the latest work in adult developmental theory in the biological psychological sociocultural and integrated domains and explores the implications of this work for adult education Chapters examine how gender and sexual orientation affect our sense of self explore spiritual development and theories of aging and offer a way of understanding development in terms of how people use narrative to organize and make meaning of their experiences This is the 84th issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Adult and Continuing Development

Adult Development & Aging Susan Krauss Whitbourne, 2001 This undergraduate text takes a comprehensive approach to adult development and aging It is based on the author's extensive experience in teaching and research within the field Its major theme is that individuals can take an active role in their aging process and make it both rich and successful Evenly balanced between biological social cognitive and personality theories it focuses upon successful aging Students will gain a positive approach to the field along with many suggestions for ways that they can incorporate major concepts into their own professional and personal development An online instructor's manual test bank and powerpoint slide set provides a variety of supplemental materials for instructors ranging from novice to experienced      Adult Development and Aging Bert Hayslip, Paul E. Panek, 1993 Conveys an understanding of the ongoing process of adult ageing and development The coverage ranges from basic topics such as theory and research to high interest current issues such as minority ageing elder abuse dual career marriages industrial gerontology and single parenthood      Contemporary Perspectives on Adult Development and Aging Alicia Skinner Cook, 1983 Abstract A college textbook addresses modern views concerning societal and cultural factors practices and policies concerning a variety of aspects that are encountered in adult development and aging process Following an introductory section on developmental theory age norms and expectations the remaining 10 chapters of the text are grouped among 4 principal themes 1 family and work as primary roles of adulthood 2 continuity and changes with respect to intelligence learning creativity adult sexuality mental and physical health issues longevity death and dying 3 cultural variations and issues during aging covering various ethnic groups and 4 mechanisms for enhancing the adult years including the US government's role in quality of life improvement The developmental stages of early middle and late adulthood are each considered within each of the topics addressed      Social Structure and Aging K. Warner Schaie, Carmi Schooler, 2013-05-13 This volume presents a systematic examination of the impact of social structures on individual behaviors and on their development in adulthood and old age These papers and responses attempt to improve the reciprocal relationship between changes in social macro and micro structures and the process of psychological development in relation to issues of human aging Using and combining concepts and data from various fields this research promotes a better understanding of the effects of demographic patterns and social structures on the psychological development of adults

Adult Development and Aging John W. Santrock,1985 Human Development D. A. Louw,1998 Aging and Adult Development in the Developing World Frank E. Eyetsemitan,James T. Gire,2003-02-28 Most studies of human development in developing societies have focused on the childhood stage and in a few cases exploration has extended up to adolescence since this age group represents about half the population in developing societies The developed world however is experiencing a surge in the elderly population and this has spurred its study There is growing recognition that studies are needed in order to understand aging in all contexts and to discover how the experience may differ in developing and developed societies In this book the authors discuss the appropriateness or inappropriateness of applying Western theories and perspectives to studies of aging in the developing world The present study critically examines the major theories in the area of aging and adult development covering such domains as the physical psychological and social aspects of aging death and dying and social and public policies Applying the concepts of individualism and collectivism as well as the global and environmental dimensions of the developing world the authors have earmarked the theories that seem suitable only to the developed world and those that appear to be universally relevant Adult Development and Aging William J. Hoyer,John M. Rybash,Paul Roodin,1999 This edition offers a clear account of the salient issues and concerns that dominate the field of adult development Gender differences and race ethnic diversity are discussed in their relation to all major topics There is also new coverage on the impact of religion and spirituality Human Development in Adulthood Lewis R. Aiken,2005-12-21 Human Development in Adulthood is a comprehensive multidisciplinary overview of adult development in a number of areas both personal and societal from mental and physical health to economic and social conditions Variables including race gender economic status and political and religious affiliation are considered in the discussion of such human issues as love and marital relations economic concerns including employment and living conditions violence in its various forms including crime and war aging and death The numerous illustrations chapter summaries and glossary will prove especially useful to students Humor and Aging Lucille Nahemow,Kathleen A. McCluskey-Fawcett,Paul E. McGhee,2013-09-24 Humor and Aging deals with humor throughout the life span although primary attention is given to humor about and by the elderly The book contains theoretical and review material from infancy to old age and includes empirical studies of death and dying in both our own and other societies The book is divided into four parts Part I considers theoretical models of humor development across the life span and discusses physiological psychological and sociological processes Part II deals with ways of considering humor and aging from different vantage points These include 1 humor about people of different ages 2 humor for people of different ages and 3 humor by people of different ages Part III addresses the grim subject of death and dying and how it lends itself to humorous treatment in our own and other societies Part IV contains brief empirical reports Since scientific research in humor and aging is only beginning it seems important to discuss pilot work in hopes that others will follow Finally an epilogue by Loeb and Wood presents a compelling theoretical approach     The SAGE Encyclopedia of Lifespan Human Development Marc H. Bornstein, 2018-01-15 Lifespan human development is the study of all aspects of biological physical cognitive socioemotional and contextual development from conception to the end of life In approximately 800 signed articles by experts from a wide diversity of fields The SAGE Encyclopedia of Lifespan Human Development explores all individual and situational factors related to human development across the lifespan Some of the broad thematic areas will include Adolescence and Emerging Adulthood Aging Behavioral and Developmental Disorders Cognitive Development Community and Culture Early and Middle Childhood Education through the Lifespan Genetics and Biology Gender and Sexuality Life Events Mental Health through the Lifespan Research Methods in Lifespan Development Speech and Language Across the Lifespan Theories and Models of Development This five volume encyclopedia promises to be an authoritative discipline defining work for students and researchers seeking to become familiar with various approaches theories and empirical findings about human development broadly construed as well as past and current research     Adult Development and Aging David F. Hulstsch, Francine Deutsch, 1981     Resources in Education ,1996     Aging Lewis R. Aiken, 1995 The aging process is a complex sometimes mysterious evolution we will all experience In this interdisciplinary text author Lewis R Aiken acquaints you with the elements and effects influencing people in the later stages of life Beginning with an historical overview of gerontology Aiken discusses both pragmatic and philosophical concerns within the field Factors impacting the process and results of aging are carefully outlined and explicated these address such areas as biology psychology sociology economics and politics The interpersonal variability of the older population is stressed throughout the book recognizing gender ethnic racial and cultural differences Each chapter concludes with a thorough review of the material covered a series of questions and activities designed to enhance the learning experience and a list of suggested readings that expand on the topics being discussed Clearly written authoritative rich in information and integration of research material in a wide range of disciplines Aging An Introduction to Gerontology is valuable for undergraduate certificate and community college programs in gerontology as well as graduate courses in applied professional disciplines The book makes a contribution to the field it is a praiseworthy effort and it has substantive merit It reveals competence good grasp of the subject matter and a very good integration of research material in a wide range of disciplines The information is generally very much up to date and relevant It constitutes the right introduction for people interested to learn about the field of gerontology The text is lucid clearly written and easy to read It is definitely well attuned to its targeted audience It introduces technical terminology with all the proper caveats and facilitates its comprehension with a glossary Abraham Monk School of Social Work Columbia University This is a basic textbook of human gerontology that comprehensively covers aging and the aged with a special emphasis on the psychology of aging The purpose is to review what is known about aging and older adulthood the methods by which this information is obtained and to provide practical guidelines for dealing with the problems of an aged population The author meets these goals very well This book is written for undergraduate and graduate students Even geriatricians in training will find this a lucid exposition of human gerontology This book s well organized chapters are clearly illustrated There are boxes that highlight concepts and a list of further readings in addition to well cited references At the end of each chapter there are questions and exercises This textbook is a welcome addition to the field It is very well written and organized Both teachers and students will enjoy using this textbook Rating 98 Doody s Health Sciences Book Review Journal Aging is rich in information and integration of research material in a wide range of disciplines and valuable for undergraduate certificate and community college programs in gerontology and as well graduate courses in applied professional disciplines Turning Pages

The Journey of Adulthood Helen L. Bee,1992 This best selling book discusses the aspects of successful aging covering growth and development from young adulthood to old age and the impact that culture gender and individual differences have on these processes Its conversational and positive tone keeps readers interested in the subject matter as it encourages them to apply the concepts of the book to their own lives It presents research findings theories and models from the fields of developmental psychology social psychology health psychology sociology and others to discuss topics of prevention compensation gains and losses For psychologists sociologists and gerontologists interested in a valuable resource for information about the aging process

The Aging Dimension Matilda White Riley,Joseph D. Matarazzo,Andrew Baum,2024-05-10 Originally published in 1987 this volume and the working conference that preceded it broke new ground in addressing the complex topic of aging health and behavior Taking a bio behavioral approach to a range of topics contributors to this book advanced their disciplines This volume as well as searching for important interfaces between behavior and health also added the dynamic aspect of aging Cells organ systems and whole human beings all change as they move through life linking health in varied and intricate ways to changes in behavior patterns social structures and cultural values and norms
