Real Mother A Novel:

The Russian Revolutionary Novel Richard Freeborn, 1985-02-28 Professor Freeborn s book is an attempt to identify and define the evolution of a particular kind of novel in Russian and Soviet literature the revolutionary novel This genre is a uniquely Russian phenomenon and one that is of central importance in Russian literature. The study begins with a consideration of Turgenev's masterpiece Fathers and Children and traces the evolution of the revolutionary novel through to its most important development a century later in Pasternak's Doctor Zhivago and the emergence of a dissident literature in the Soviet Union Professor Freeborn examines the particular phases of the genre's development and in particular the development after 1917 the early fiction which explored the relationship between revolution and instinct such as Pil nyak s The Naked Year the first attempts at mythmaking in Leonov's The Badgers and Furmanov's Chapayev the next phase in which novelists turned to the investigation of ideas exemplified most notably by Zamyatin's We the resumption of the classical approach in such works as Olesha's Envy which explore the interaction between the individual and society and finally the appearance of the revolutionary epic in Gorky's The Life of Klim Samgin Sholokhov's Quiet Flows the Don and Alexey Tolstoy s The Road to Calvary Professor Freeborn also examines the way this kind of novel has undergone change in response to revolutionary change and he shows how an important feature of this process has been the implicit assumption that the revolutionary novel is distinguished by its right to pass an objective independent judgement on revolution and the revolutionary image of man This is a comprehensive and challenging study of a uniquely Russian tradition of writing which draws on a great range of novels many of them little known in the West As with other titles in this series all quotations have been translated CliffsNotes on Kidd's The Secret Life of Bees Susan Van Kirk, 2010-02-04 The original CliffsNotes study quides offer expert commentary on major themes plots characters literary devices and historical background In CliffsNotes on Kidd's The Secret Life of Bees you explore the rural South in the Civil Rights era of the 1960s where a young girl named Lily Owens is growing up unwanted and unloved Escaping her home she begins a journey of self discovery and learns about racial prejudice Taken in by a community of strong African American sisters she gains strength knowledge and self forgiveness before finally confronting the injustice of the law and the wrath of her callous father This study guide which carefully walks you through Lily's learning to love herself living within a community of strong independent women and to trust her own instincts and mature into a young lady who believes in herself provides summaries and critical analyses of each chapter of the novel You ll also explore the life and background of the author Sue Monk Kidd Other features that help you study include An overview of the novel A list of characters including analyses of major characters A character map that graphically illustrates the relationships among the characters Analyses of major themes and symbols A glossary of important terms and phrases from the novel Classic literature or modern day treasure you ll understand it all with expert information and insight from CliffsNotes study guides Kinship as Fiction Anindita Majumdar, Yoko Taguchi, 2024-10-25 Bringing together emerging ethnographies on kinship in South Asia this book explores the idea of kinship as fiction in intimate relationships Fictions and fictive kinship within anthropology are contested ideas Increasingly research suggests the idea of intimate relationships has to extend beyond the biological assumption of kinship relations The idea of fiction is also not free from the biological imagination or the persistent dichotomy of nature culture nurture nature This edited volume resurrects the idea of fiction and fictive ness to understand how intimate relationships may use these particular labels translate into practices or create an experiential understanding around relationships The chapters in this book reengage the idea of fiction by exploring the ambiguity within household relationships the process of making and engaging with a craft and skill and the intricacies of making children through IVF and third party involvement They challenge societal norms of marriage and being married by reframing shared substances and the relationality they carry and by remembering deceased ties through acts of resurrection Through vivid illustrations of life and living in South Asia each chapter contributes to an understanding of how fiction and reality are mutually creating each other This book will be beneficial to students academics and scholars of anthropology particularly those interested in kinship and the sociology of the family The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Contemporary South Asia Transcultural Migration in the Novels of Hédi Bouraoui Elizabeth Sabiston, 2020-11-09 In Transcultural Migration in the Novels of H di Bouraoui A New Ulysses Elizabeth Sabiston analyses the dominant theme of transcultural migration or immigration in H di Bouraoui's fiction His protagonists reflect his passion for endless travel and are Ulysses figures for the postmodern age Their travels enable them to explore the Otherness of the Other to understand and migrate into them Bouraoui's World Literature is rooted in the travers es of his characters across a number of clearly differentiated regions which nonetheless share a common humanity The ancient migrations of Ulvsses fuelled by violence and war are paralleled to the modern displacements of entire cultures and even nations Bouraoui s works bridge cultures past and present but they also require the invention of language to convey a postmodern world in flux The Story of Valentine and His Brother. [A Novel.] Mrs. Oliphant (Margaret),1875 Narratives of Motherhood and Mothering in Fiction and Life Writing Helena Wahlström Henriksson, Anna Williams, Margaretha Fahlgren, 2023-03-16 This open access volume offers original essays on how motherhood and mothering are represented in contemporary fiction and life writing across several national contexts Providing a broad range of perspectives in terms of geopolitical places thematic concerns and theoretical and interdisciplinary approaches it demonstrates the significance of literary narratives for understanding and critiquing motherhood and mothering as social phenomena and subjective experiences The chapters contextualize motherhood and mothering in terms of their particular national and cultural location and analyze narratives about mothers who are firmly placed in one national context as well as those who are in in between positions due to migrant experiences The contributions foreground and link together the themes central to the volume embodied experience and maternal embodiment notions of what is normal or natural or not about motherhood maternal health and illness mother
