Real Bullets:

Bullet Proof Matt Croucher GC, 2009-10-13 AFGHANISTAN FEBRUARY 2008 in an out of control dangerous country torn apart by war littered with Taliban guerrilla forces and thousands of miles from home Lance Corporal Matt Croucher a Royal Marine with 40 Commando accidentally activates a grenade whilst on a covert patrol behind enemy lines With only a split second to react Croucher's instincts kick in and he throws himself beside the grenade reasoning that saving the lives of his three comrades was worth the likelihood of losing his own Miraculously and against all the odds Croucher survived and mere hours later was taking part in a gun battle against local insurgent fighters demonstrating a raw unique courage and devotion to military duty that would later see him awarded the George Cross a distinction bestowed only on those who perform acts of the greatest heroism or of the most conspicuous courage in circumstances of extreme danger Croucher's George Cross would make him famous around the world But his story is much more than just one heroic act in isolation His is a life of bullets blood and loyalty and of lives saved and lives taken From a young marine aged 19 when he was one of the first 200 Allied soldiers to invade Iraq back in 2003 as part of an elite force of British Marines and US Special Forces through to his second tour of duty in 2004 when he suffered a fractured skull following a roadside bomb attack only to return to action just a week later and then being thrust into hellish Afghanistan Croucher has seen vicious fighting intense gun battles roadside ambushes and witnessed the death and injury of close colleagues on an almost daily basis This is his incredible story a searing vivid non stop account of one man's heroism and courage under fire in the most gruelling combat environment since the Second World War

The Bounds of Defense Bradley Jay Strawser, 2023 Liberal conceptions of the moral justification for war have become dominant since the publication of Michael Walzer's Just Unjust Wars in 1977 This dominance is seen across all contemporary manifestations of just war theory from international relations and diplomatic discourse from the minds and proclamations of military commanders and governmental leaders to the everyday political assertions and philosophical rationalization of most individuals Similarly rights based accounts of the moral justification of individual defensive killing have been dominant since at least Judith J Thomson's work on the issue in the early Seventies Over the past two decades however these already rich fields of research just war theory and the ethics of defensive harm have each experienced significant and sustained resurgence adaptation of Frankenstein by Mary Shelley to debunk the common farcical movie monster interpretation by returning to Shelley's original serious commentary on the Industrial Revolution. However, after the night of the dress rehearsal, Victoria loses control over the production and her drama begins to take a strange course. On that night, the eight-year-old boy playing the part of Frankenstein's young brother disappears, and before a search can begin, a killer strikes. The Vineyard's police forces mobilize for an island-wide search. In the original story of Frankenstein, the boy is the first victim of the monster, and Victoria fears that a copycat killer is following her playscript. She determines to find the missing boy and track down the killer before more deaths occur. Along with familiar Island characters from her previous books, the author introduces a cast of new and often eccentric players.

Shooting Star, the seventh book in the Martha's Vineyard mystery series, explores the rich setting of the Island that author Cynthia Riggs knows well, from the rose-covered Dukes County jail on Edgartown's Main Street to the quaint ferry terminal in Oak Bluffs. It's a delightful read that both fans and newcomers to the series will be sure to enjoy.

SRM 2460/2461 Standard Bullets and Casings Project, Mystery Movie Series of 1930s Hollywood Ron Backer, 2012-08-01 This companion volume to Mystery Movie Series of 1940s Hollywood McFarland 2010 focuses on 22 series and 167 individual films primarily released during the 1930s. It was a decade that featured some of the most famous cinema detectives of all time, among them Charlie Chan, Nick and Nora Charles, Philo Vance, Nancy Drew, and such lesser-known but equally entertaining figures as Hildegarde Withers, Torchy Blane, Mr. Moto, Mr. Wong, and Brass Bancroft. Each mystery movie series is placed within its historical context, with emphasis on its source material and the changes or developments within the series over time. Also included are reviews of all the series films, analyzing the quality and cohesiveness of the mystery plotlines. For titles based on literary sources, a comparison between the film and the written work is provided.

On Bloody Sunday Julieann Campbell, 2022-01-20 SHORTLISTED FOR THE PEN HESSELL TILTMAN PRIZE

There have been many books written about the events of Bloody Sunday, however, none has wrenched the reader as violently back to those CS gas-choked streets, dumping them right in the heart of the screaming, running, shooting, and crying as Julieann Campbell's On Bloody Sunday. A powerful chronicle of one of the darkest episodes of modern times. Sunday Times Powerful and moving. The strength of this important new book lies in the artistry the author brings to the tasks of portraying both the community upon which the massacre was perpetrated and the individuals within it. Irish Times Meticulous. On Bloody Sunday possesses a veracity and cumulative power that sets it apart from previous accounts. Observer A momentous chronicle, timely and vital, which highlights that the burden of change rests as always upon the shoulders of those who suffered and yet have nurtured the desire that lessons be learned. Michael Mansfield QC, who represented a number of families during the Bloody Sunday Inquiry. It is a vital record of the time, the city, and its people, and more impressive still, it does so almost entirely in their own words: their heartbreak, their anger, their resilience, their humour. Julieann Campbell has given their voices, so long silenced, the dignity they deserve. It is a staggering achievement. Samas O'Reilly It's a wonderful book The technique used multiple voices speaking directly to us is very simple but it has a profound effect It puts us into the middle of the chaos of Bloody Sunday and keeps us there throughout the grief and anger that follow A wonderful wonderful book Jimmy McGovern BAFTA winning screenwriter creator of Sunday 2002 In January 1972 a peaceful civil rights march in Northern Ireland ended in bloodshed Troops from Britain s 1st Battalion Parachute Regiment opened fire on marchers leaving 13 dead and 15 wounded Seven of those killed were teenage boys The day became known as Bloody Sunday The events occurred in broad daylight and in the full glare of the press Within hours the British military informed the world that they had won an IRA gun battle This became the official narrative for decades until a family led campaign instigated one of the most complex inquiries in history In 2010 the victims of Bloody Sunday were fully exonerated when Lord Saville found that the majority of the victims were either shot in the back as they ran away or were helping someone in need The report made headlines all over the world While many buried the trauma of that day historian and campaigner Juliann Campbell whose teenage uncle was the first to be killed that day felt the need to keep recording these interviews and collecting rare and unpublished accounts aware of just how precious they were Fifty years on in this book survivors relatives eyewitnesses and politicians shine a light on the events of Bloody Sunday together for the first time As they tell their stories the tension confusion and anger build with an awful power ON BLOODY SUNDAY unfolds before us an extraordinary human drama as we experience one of the darkest moments in modern history and witness the true human cost of conflict documentary practices present realities that would otherwise be invisible or officially off limits In our digital era the prohibition and control of images has become nearly impossible to maintain Using carefully chosen case studies such as Krzysztof Wodiczko's video projections and public works in response to 9 11 and the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan the performance works of Coco Fusco and Regina Galindo and the practices of Israeli and Palestinian artists Apel posits that contemporary war images serve as mediating agents in social relations and as a source of protection or refuge for those robbed of formal or state sanctioned citizenship While never suggesting that documentary practices are objective translations of reality Apel shows that they are powerful polemical tools both for legitimizing war and for making its devastating effects visible In modern warfare and in the accompanying culture of war that capitalism produces as a permanent feature of modern society she asserts that the contest of images is as critical as the war on the ground
