Garden Musings James K. Roush, 2009-04 In the first essay in Garden Musings this gardening writer states The evidence keeps racking up that I the Hoosier born offspring of several generations of farmers chose through ignorance to garden in a delightful area combining the world's worst soil and an exasperating climate all augmented by various man made and natural catastrophes such as tornadoes droughts prairie fires hail drenching rains ice storms late freezes boiling summers and seventy mile per hour winds Gardening with all the pressures of struggle between the environment wild animals and the gardener and particularly in the harsh Kansas weather is not for the faint hearted as demonstrated by the many essays in the book including Sweet Corn Pain Weather Wary Midden Misery and Soil Sorrows While the essays are full of useful personal observations about gardening style plant information and garden practices the author also turns his wry eye on tumbling a number of gardening tenets and institutions as he turns his attentions on composting lawn maintenance and landscape designers who work primarily in junipers Japanese barberry and Stella de Oro daylilies The timing and content of programming of the Home and Garden Television Network and the lack of availability of G rated gardening statues are other topics that don't escape this garden curmudgeon Gardeners searching for practical advice or simply for winter reading pleasure will all find fulfillment within these pages

Gardening in the Desert Mary Irish, 2016-10-01 Newcomers to the Southwest usually find that their favorite landscape plants aren't suited to the hot dry climate Many authors offer advice on adapting plants to the desert now Mary Irish tells how gardeners can better adapt themselves to the challenge Drawing on her experience with public horticulture in the Phoenix metropolitan area Irish explores the vexations and delights of desert gardening She offers practical advice on plants and gardening practices for anyone who lives in the Southwest from El Paso to Palm Springs Tucson to Las Vegas Irish encourages readers who may be new to the desert or desert dwellers who may be new to gardening to stop struggling against heat aridity and poor soils and instead learn to use and appreciate the wonderful and well adapted plants native to the desert She shares information and anecdotes about trees shrubs perennials agaves cacti and other plants that make gardening in the Southwest a unique experience and provides further information about plants from other desert regions that will easily adapt to the Southwest In addition to descriptions of plants Irish also offers tips on planting watering pruning and propagation For anyone who has struggled to maintain a patch of green or blighted at their water bill after unproductive irrigation the answer to an attractive landscape may be as close as the desert around you And for anyone who has bought a catalog guide to desert plants and not known which to choose this book can set you on the right path Mary Irish shows how to take heart in available plants of adaptable beauty in a book to enjoy while waiting for the next planting cycle     The Thrifty Gardener: How to create a stylish garden for next to nothing Alys Fowler,2018-11-05 Forget makeover culture and all your gardening preconceptions this is a witty wise and practical take on how to create a garden that suits you The Thrifty Gardener is about creating the garden of your dreams regardless of resources or limited space It will eliminate the intimidation factor and reveal the ins and outs of soil seeds sowing and growing At the heart of this book is a DIY ethic that says you don't always have to buy what you need you can make it take it or swap it with friends From making window boxes out of wine cases to creating your own stylish compost bin from bulking up perennials to finding plants for free this book is packed with offbeat projects for a new generation of gardeners     The Farmer's Vegetable, Fruit and Flower Garden Alec Sansterre,1903     Landscape for Living United States.
