informa company Women's Legal Landmarks Erika Rackley, Rosemary Auchmuty, 2018-12-27 Women's Legal Landmarks commemorates the centenary of women's admission in 1919 to the legal profession in the UK and Ireland by identifying key legal landmarks in women's legal history. Over 80 authors write about landmarks that represent a significant achievement or turning point in women's engagement with law and law reform. The landmarks cover a wide range of topics including matrimonial property, the right to vote, prostitution, surrogacy and assisted reproduction, rape, domestic violence, FGM, equal pay, abortion, image-based sexual abuse and the ordination of women bishops, as well as the life stories of women who were the first to undertake key legal roles and positions. Together, the landmarks offer a scholarly intervention in the recovery of women's lost history and in the development of methodology of feminist legal history, as well as a demonstration of women's agency and activism in the achievement of law reform and justice.

Biotechnology, Gestation, and the Law Elizabeth Chloe Romanis, 2024-11-23 We are all the result of gestation: the process of becoming before birth. The very nature of human gestation, however, has shifted and will continue to shift as a result of technology. Uterus transplantation and ectogestation and the novel modalities of gestation beyond sex and beyond bodies that they potentially make possible raise unique conceptual problems that have received little attention. Biotechnology, Gestation and the Law presents the first comprehensive ethico-legal analysis of the nature of gestation and of technologies enabling gestation, offering a concept analysis grounded in ontology, phenomenology, politics and law. The first three chapters develop a transdisciplinary approach for identifying and exploring the ethical issues raised by uterus transplantation and ectogestation. This addresses the ontological and legal confusion about what gestation is, how we should classify procreative technologies in relation to gestation, and why it is important to have precise classification. The remaining chapters use this framework to undertake a rigorous examination of pressing socio-legal implications of uterus transplantation and ectogestation: who has access to technologies enabling gestation and under what circumstances? Who is/are the parent/s when novel forms of gestation are used? How do these technologies disrupt our notions of reproductive biosex, and are they tools of emancipation from gendered roles? This book, and the original conceptual lens it sets out, forges a new direction for legal and social reform directed at addressing the harms of constructed gendered procreative and parenting roles. In speculating about future possibilities Elizabeth Chloe Romanis brings visibility to the oppressive propagation of biological essentialism that underpins the contemporary regulation of human procreation and considers how to address this issue now and into the future

Health Law's Kaleidoscope Belinda Bennett, 2008 This book deals with a number of themes including globalization health and regulation and how they occur in the contemporary legal health and ethical context It identifies the core values and concerns that inform current debates in health law and regulation and discusses how they will develop in the future

What is a Parent Andrew Bainham, Shelley Day Sclater, Martin Richards, 1999-07-01 This collection of essays is the product of a series of seminars held at the University of Cambridge in 1998 under the auspices of the newly formed Cambridge Socio Legal Group The book presents an interdisciplinary exploration of the nature of parenthood and its various manifestations in contemporary society It is divided into three sections dealing respectively with defining parenthood new issues in contemporary parenting and parenting post divorce Each contributor addresses the central question What is a Parent from the perspective of his or her own discipline thus bringing together ideas about parents derived from law sociology psychology biology and criminology Despite the familiar and apparently obvious answer to this question the notion of parent emerges from the analysis as a contested concept Definitions are various and fluid parenting practices are by no means fixed and ideologies which frame who parents are and what they do are subject to disruptions from several quarters In short the essays in this book show the ways in which parent like child is a term with a shifting meaning and parenthood refers to a fluid set of social practices which are historically and culturally situated Contributors Andrew Bainham Carol Brayne Stuart Bridge Rachel Cook Shelley Day Sclater Margaret Ely Loraine Gelsthorpe Susan Golombok Jack Goody Jonathan Herring Felicia Huppert Allison James Martin Johnson Bridget Lindley Mavis Maclean Juliet Mitchell Ros Pickford Martin Richards Wendy Solomou Candida Yates
