Representations Of Hiv And Aids Visibility Blue S:

Representations of HIV and AIDS Gabriele Griffin,2000 Gabriele Griffin argues that the explosion of HIV AIDS into highly visible cultural forms from movies theatre activist interventions and art from the late 1980s to the mid 1990s has been replaced by a retreat to artistic invisibility

Representations of HIV/AIDS in Contemporary Hispano-American and Caribbean Culture Gustavo Subero,2016-04-08 Exploring the mechanisms and strategies used in different cultures across Hispano America and the Caribbean to narrativise represent and understand HIV AIDS as a social and human phenomenon this book examines a wide range of cultural artistic and media texts as well as issues of human phenomenology to understand the ways in which HIV positive individuals make sense of their own lives and of the ways in which the rest of society sees them Drawing on a variety of cultural texts from cinema television photography and literature the author considers the manner in which contemporary cultural forms have shaped a body of public opinion in response to the social and cultural impact of HIV AIDS re interpreting the condition in the light of advances in treatment With attention to both the temporality and spatiality of production this book examines whether heterosexual and homosexual and masculine and feminine bodies are narrativised in the same manner considering the question of whether representations foster discrimination of any kind The book also asks whether representations across Latin America are homogenous or varied according to national social or cultural context and explores the commonalities between the representations of HIV AIDS in Hispano America and the Caribbean and other global narratives A detailed study of the various representations of HIV AIDS and the construction of public opinion this book will appeal to scholars of cultural media and film studies the sociology of health the body and illness and Latin American and Caribbean Studies

HIV/AIDS in Memory, Culture and Society Alicia Castillo Villanueva,Angelos Bollas,2024-07-08 This volume examines the role of culture in developing social cultural and political discourses of HIV AIDS from a contemporary viewpoint In doing so the memory of HIV AIDS is a powerful tool to examine representations of the past and connect them with future debates This reassessment of HIV AIDS explores the most appropriate way to come to terms with a past that involved a negative stigmatised and marginalised representation Therefore remembering plays a key role in generating collective memory which allows for the exchange of mnemonic content between individual minds creates discourses on memory and commemoration and disseminates versions of the past that may affect the representation of HIV AIDS in the future Indeed rewriting about the past also means assessing our responsibility towards the present and the potential of transmission to future generations especially in times of pandemics

HIV in World Cultures Gustavo Subero,2016-04-22 This book analyses the way that HIV AIDS is often narrativised and represented in contemporary world cultures as well as the different strategies of remembrance deployed by different sub cultural groups affected by the illness Through a close study of a variety of cultural texts including cinema literature theatre art and photography amongst others it demonstrates the trajectory that such narratives and representations have undergone since the advent of the discovery of the disease in the 1980s Acknowledging the central yet often overlooked role that cultural products have played in the construction of public opinion towards the condition itself and those who suffer it this ground breaking volume focuses on a variety of narratives as well as strategies of coping with HIV AIDS that have emerged across the globe Bringing together research on the UK North and South America Africa and China it provides rich textual analyses of the ways in which the HIV positive body has been portrayed in contemporary culture with attention to the differences between specific national contexts whilst keeping in view a space of commonality amongst the different experiences reflected in such texts As such it will be of interest to social scientists and scholars of cultural and media studies concerned with cultural production and representations of the body and sickness AIDS and Representation Fiona Johnstone,2023-05-18 AIDS Representation explores portraits and self portraits made in response to the AIDS epidemic in America in the 1980s and 1990s Addressing the work of artists including Mark Morrisroe Robert Blanchon and Felix Gonzalez Torres through the interrelated themes of sickness and mortality desire and sexual identity love and loss Fiona Johnstone shows how the self representational practices of artists with HIV and AIDS offered a richly imaginative response to the limitations of early AIDS imagery Johnstone argues that the AIDS epidemic changed the very nature of visual representation and artistic practice necessitating a radical new approach to conceptualising and visualising the human form An extended epilogue considers the ongoing art historicization of the epidemic re contextualising the book s themes in relation to contemporary photographic works More than just a historical discussion of the art of the AIDS crisis AIDS and Representation contributes to an emergent body of scholarship on the visual representation of illness Expanding the established genre of the autopathography or illness narrative beyond the predominantly textual this important contribution to art history and health humanities sensitively unpicks the entanglements between aesthetic form and the expression of lived experiences of critical and chronic ill health

A Visual History of HIV/AIDS Elisabet Björklund, Mariah Larsson,2018-07-04 The Face of AIDS film archive at Karolinska Institutet Sweden consists of more than 700 hours of unedited and edited footage shot over a period of more than thirty years and all over the world by filmmaker and journalist Staffan Hildebrand The material documents the HIV AIDS pandemic and includes scenes from conferences and rallies and interviews with activists physicians people with the infection and researchers It represents a global historical development from the early years of the AIDS crisis to a situation in which it is possible to live a normal life with the HIV virus This volume brings together a range of academic perspectives from media and film studies medical history gender studies history and cultural studies to bear on the archive shedding light on memories discourses trauma and activism Using a medical humanities framework the editors explore the influence of historical representations of HIV AIDS and stigma in a world where antiretroviral treatment has fundamentally altered the conditions under which many people diagnosed with HIV live Organized into four sections this book begins by introducing the archive and its role setting it in a global context The first part looks at methodological legal and ethical issues around archiving memories of the present which are then used to construct histories of the past something that can be particularly controversial when dealing with a socially stigmatized epidemic such as HIV AIDS The second section is devoted to analyses of particular films from the archive looking at the portrayal of people living with HIV AIDS the narrative of HIV as a chronic illness and the contemporary context of particular films The third section looks at how stigma and trauma are negotiated in the material in the Face of AIDS film archive discussing ideas about suffering and culpability The final section contributes perspectives on and by the filmmaker as activist and auteur This interdisciplinary collection is placed at the intersection of medical humanities sexuality studies and film and media studies continuing a tradition of studies on the cultural and social understandings of HIV AIDS

New Body Politics Therí A. Pickens, 2014-02-05 In the increasingly multi racial and multi ethnic American landscape of the present understanding and bridging dynamic cross cultural conversations about social and political concerns becomes a complicated humanistic project How do everyday embodied experiences transform from being anecdotal to having social and political significance What can the experience of corporeality offer social and political discourse And how does that discourse change when those bodies belong to Arab Americans and African Americans Ther A Pickens discusses a range of literary cultural and archival material where narratives emphasize embodied experience to examine how these experiences constitute Arab Americans and African Americans as social and political subjects Pickens argues that Arab American and African American narratives rely on the body s fragility rather than its exceptional strength or emotion to create urgent social and political critiques The creators of these narratives find potential in mundane experiences such as breathing touch illness pain and death Each chapter in this book focuses on one of these everyday embodied experiences and examines how authors mobilize that fragility to create social and political commentary Pickens discusses how the authors focus on quotidian experiences complicates their critiques of the nation state domestic and international politics exile cultural mores and the medical establishment New Body Politics participates in a vibrant interdisciplinary conversation about cross ethnic studies American literature and Arab American literature Using intercultural analysis Pickens explores issues of the body and representation that will be relevant to fields as varied as Political Science African American Studies Arab American Studies and Disability Studies

New Queer Cinema Michele Aaron, 2019-06-01 This is an introduction to New Queer Cinema NQC covering themes such as genre gender and race politics media and the relationship between NQC and the mainstream

We Are Having This Conversation Now Alexandra Juhasz, Theodore Kerr, 2022-08-08 We Are Having This Conversation Now offers a history present and future of AIDS through thirteen short conversations between Alexandra Juhasz and Theodore Kerr scholars deeply embedded in HIV responses They establish multiple timelines of the epidemic offering six foundational periodizations of AIDS culture tracing how attention to the crisis has waxed and waned from the 1980s to the present They begin the book with a 1990 educational video produced by a Black health collective using it to consider organizing intersectionally theories of videotape empowerment movements and memorialization This video is one of many powerful yet overlooked objects that the pair focus on through conversation to understand HIV across time Along the way they share their own artwork activism and stories of the epidemic Their conversations illuminate the vital role personal experience community cultural production and connection play in the creation of AIDS related knowledge archives and social change Throughout Juhasz and Kerr invite readers to reflect and find ways to engage in their own AIDS related culture and conversation Asking the Audience Adair Rounthwaite,2017-02-21

The 1980s was a critical decade in shaping today's art production While newly visible work concerned with power and identity hinted at a shift toward multiculturalism the 80s were also a time of social conservatism that resulted in substantial changes in arts funding In Asking the Audience Adair Rounthwaite uses this context to analyze the rising popularity of audience participation in American art during this important decade Rounthwaite explores two seminal and interrelated art projects sponsored by the Dia Art Foundation in New York Group Material's Democracy and Martha Rosler's If You Lived Here These projects married issues of social activism such as homelessness and the AIDS crisis with various forms of public participation setting the precedent for the high profile participatory practices currently dominating global contemporary art Rounthwaite draws on diverse archival images audio recordings and more than thirty new interviews to analyze the live affective dynamics to which the projects gave rise Seeking to foreground the audience experience in understanding the social context of participatory art she argues that affect is key to the audience's ability to exercise agency within the participatory artwork From artists and audiences to institutions funders and critics Asking the Audience traces the networks that participatory art creates between various agents demonstrating how since the 1980s leftist political engagement has become a cornerstone of the institutionalized consumption of contemporary art The Body in History, Culture, and the Arts

Justyna Jajszczok,Aleksandra Musiał,2019-03-27 The aim of this book is to explore the body in various historical contexts and to take it as a point of departure for broader historiographical projects The chapters in the volume present the ways in which the body constitutes a valuable and productive object of historical analysis especially as a lens through which to trace histories of social political and cultural phenomena and processes More specifically the authors use the body as a tool for critical re-examination of particular histories of human experience and of societal and cultural practices thus contributing to the burgeoning area of body history in terms of both specific case studies as well as historiography in general Mediated Deviance and Social Otherness Kylo-Patrick R. Hart,2009-01-14 If in fact Lizzie Borden took an axe and gave her step mother forty whacks why from a representational standpoint did her stepmother deserve it If older gay men in Internet chat rooms regularly provide much needed acceptance and advice to younger gay males during the coming out process how is it that they continually reinforce racist ideologies and powerless subjectivities while doing so What sorts of media images are commonly presented of individuals and groups that are regarded as being deviant in society and whose interests do they ultimately serve The answers to these important questions and many others are provided in the pages of Mediated Deviance and Social Otherness Interrogating Influential Representations which explores provocative representations of deviance in various media forms including books films musical offerings news accounts television programs and Internet sites and their substantial cultural political and social consequences for the lived realities of individuals of different backgrounds and lifestyles The eye opening chapters of this book enable readers to more fully realize the regularity with which media representations continuously contribute in powerful ways to the formation and perpetuation of influential social constructions of deviance and otherness as they pertain to delinquents criminals and individuals of all ages classes genders races sexual orientations and health dis ability statuses Mediated Deviance and Social Otherness Interrogating Influential Representations is a thought provoking anthology that offers fresh insight and new approaches to critically analyzing social constructions of deviancy across a variety of media forms While scholars have long examined the relationship between media and deviancy this collection of essays features a range of theoretical perspectives through which to investigate deviancy and its various interpretations in original ways In the process it deepens our understanding of how deviancy has been constructed across time and in differing social cultural milieus The essays in this anthology reflect the diverse disciplines of their contributing scholars At the same time the anthology does not waver from its clear focus on deviancy lending it substantial coherence and readability The book is expertly structured and edited Each of the essays draws inspiration from a refreshing variety of sources and fields of study The anthology is accordingly divided into six distinct yet related sections that mark its coherence and readability Simultaneously the essays within each section are quite different from one another allowing the reader to make thought provoking connections between representations of deviancy both within sections and among them Mediated Deviance and Social Otherness Interrogating Influential Representations is an important text Considering the growth of new media forms its investigation of both old and new media in relation to social constructions of deviancy represents a timely and topical contribution to the field of media and cultural studies Given its breadth and scope the anthology represents a highly significant scholarly contribution that will greatly benefit scholars students and interested individuals of all levels It offers eye opening insights to anyone with an interest in cultural studies disease and disability studies film and television studies LGBT studies criminal justice sociology and related fields

Brief Reviewer Bio Metasebia Woldemariam Ph D is an associate professor of communication and media studies at Plymouth State University who specializes in media representations of deviancy and otherness Mediated Deviance and Social Otherness Interrogating Influential Representations is an erudite collection offering critical and cultural analysis of media representations within various media forms including journalism film documentary television fiction music and the Internet The book is divided into six sections that highlight the categories of deviance and otherness the contributors emphasize

- 1 Age
- 2 Crime and Criminals
- 3 Disease and Disability
- 4 Gender Race and Class
- 5 Sexual Orientation
- 6 Other Forms of Deviance which include masochism carnival spectacles and cultures of violence

While some chapters feature links to topics common to media studies such as the Motion Picture Production Code what is powerful about the collection is how varied the interpretive standpoints of the contributors are An example of one such unique interpretive perspective comes from Linda K Fuller whose chapter examines the sexual political aspects of African AIDS related films based on her work in West Africa with a sexologist collating and critiquing appropriate media for Life Skills This interpretive variety inspires novel examination of media representations through the originality of varied genres of analysis the collection offers analysis of classic as well as popular literature popular as well as veiled news media award winning as well as obscure television series and outlaw country music as well as rap music Because media is so broadly interpreted within the collection readers are encouraged to view mass media as a crucial cultural landscape for meaning making Each contributor offers a timely perspective about past or contemporary society through the analysis of unique media genres and artifacts or even through analysis of representations in multiple media forms For example Annette Holba examines multiple forms of the media representations of a less emphasized person in the Lizzie Borden case Borden s stepmother Editor Kylo Patrick R Hart s own contribution examines multiple media representations of the visible physical signs of AIDS before focusing on their representation in two particularly noteworthy film melodramas Rather than focusing on stereotypical categories of deviance and otherness the contributors focus on less commonly acknowledged representations or challenge commonly acknowledged understandings of media This is evident through Christopher J P rez s ethnographic observation of instant messages from Gay com participants which dispels the notion that such online communities allow for positive expressions of gay identity Through its broad interpretation of media the collection offers an ample array of less commonly acknowledged media genres as evident in Margaret Weigel s class analysis of the electric bulb advertising sign spectaculars in Manhattan from 1892 to 1917 Wendy Korwin s visual analysis of a set of four image plates used within prescriptive literature and Amanda Klein s cinematic comparison of portrayed deviance in the 1950s juvenile delinquency teenpic and the 1990s ghetto action film Incorporated also are unique perspectives on traditional news media representations as in Thomas Grochowski s interpretation of celebrity defendant perspectives of O J Simpson Occasionally common themes thread particular chapters together allowing opportunities to understand how critics view the same or similar media differently For example David Sealy and Georges Claude Guilbert as well as Valentin Locoge offer analysis of the HBO television series OZ Additionally contemporary moral dilemmas and societal issues are covered as they appear in various media representations as when Barbara Barnett s discussion of journalistic representations of maternal infanticide and perfection appear alongside Robert Goff s analysis of the textured view of abortion provided by the film Vera Drake Hart s collection is important to expanding the scholarly understanding of media representations because it provokes thinking about what makes media mean so much to humans in particular social cultural historical and even technological contexts The issue of the detrimental effects of shared notions of deviance and social otherness is evident in chapters that highlight original perspectives useful for either scholarly analysis or challenging graduate level classroom discussions Also because the collection includes literary analysis it could serve well those with interest in literary criticism ELESIA RUMINSKI Ph D is an assistant professor of English at Indiana University of Pennsylvania with experience teaching mass communication film studies and visual communication Politics in the Corridor of Dying Jennifer Chan, 2015-03 Drawing on more than one hundred interviews conducted across eighteen countries the author documents the emergence of a diverse range of community based nongovernmental and civil society groups engaged in patient focused AIDS advocacy worldwide She also critically evaluates the evolving role of these groups in challenging authoritative global health governance schemes put in place by what she describes as overcontrolling or sanctimonious governments scientists religious figures journalists educators and corporations From publisher description

Exile is the dominant theme of our times It can be found in the forced migration of populations but also in the temporal cultural and physical alienation of the individual s experiences of the postmodern world This is a world of unstable shifting identities dominated and perhaps most acutely expressed by the fluidity of the visual image The essays in this volume examine issues such as remembering and forgetting trauma and nostalgia time and space social and sexual exclusion in relation to visual media and new technologies cinema and the visual arts The multi faceted and interdisciplinary exploration of exile and displacement whether geographical temporal corporeal or performative provides an important analysis of a significant and fascinating aspect of contemporary culture New Dimensions of Diversity in Nordic Culture and Society Jenny Björklund, Ursula Lindqvist, 2016-04-26

In the new millennium categories of identity have become particularly destabilized with the emergence of a new generation of people in the Nordic region who demand more dynamic and fluid identities New Dimensions of Diversity in Nordic Culture and Society reinvestigates the tired concept of diversity to make room for dynamic new realities as well as the ample new questions to which they give rise This volume assumes diversity to be a fundamental feature of Nordic modernity Given that the Nordic countries consistently rank among the world's wealthiest most educated and most egalitarian these case studies provide important counter narratives to prevailing local and global discourses of Nordicness The contributors not only interrogate historical categories of diversity in a Nordic context including gender sex class ethnicity and race they also show how these categories intersect They examine new forms of and platforms for diverse ideas and creative expression including fluid masculinities digital cultures new media and fashion They question the terms on which the Nordic region's indigenous peoples the Sami and the Greenlandic Inuit as well as stateless people such as the Kurds are brought into Nordic discussions of diversity citizenship and agency and analyze the implications of particular neo nationalist and patriarchal discourses that have emerged since the turn of the century The book draws from a variety of disciplinary perspectives and interdisciplinary fields and will spark productive and critical conversations among all with an interest in the national and regional cultures subcultures and social dynamics that inform modern life in the Nordic region

Discourses and Narrations in the Biosciences Brian Hurwitz, Paola Spinozzi, 2011 Discourses and Narrations in the Biosciences investigates the forms of writing in which scientific claims are formulated and announced Argumentative strategies compositional rules and figurative expressions in communication and narrativization of scientific knowledge are the focus of interdisciplinary contributions by humanities and science scholars The first part of the book dedicated to Rhetorical and Epistemological Aspects of Science Writing addresses how scientific pursuits and methods feed into multi level texts that generate responses within science society and culture The second part entitled Bioscientific Discourses and Narrations examines popularisations and fictionalizations of science in relation to diversity deviancy ageing illness reproduction the evolution of humankind mathematical models of biomedical systems and the myth of the heroic scientist Assessing the narrative impetus and command of literary and meta discursive strategies shown by contemporary science writers enhances understanding of the methods and conventions through which the biosciences produce knowledge
