Research Funding and Resource Manual Harold Alan Pincus, 1995 The Research Funding and Resource Manual Mental Health and Addictive Disorders is a compendium of information on where and how to get funding for mental health and addictive disorders research This manual contains a comprehensive listing of funding sources available to junior and senior researchers in psychiatry psychology neuroscience and behavioral sciences It addresses a broad array of topics to assist investigators and trainees in developing resources to support research projects and career development activities and in responding to science policy issues The manual contains unique information about grant writing and the grants process research training research ethics and animal research as well as lists of federal state and industry research contacts It also contains detailed descriptions and publication policies for over 120 scientific journals Each chapter includes narrative information related to research and policy issues as well as comprehensive resource sections

Evidence-Based Practice Manual Albert R. Roberts, Kenneth Yeager, 2004-01-15 This book provides an interdisciplinary approach summarising the key elements issues concepts and procedures in developing and applying evidence based practice Discussions include programme evaluation quality and operational improvement strategies research grant applications utilising statistical procedures and more

The Research Funding Guidebook Joanne B. Ries, Carl G. Leukefeld, 1998 Although the landscape of research funding is continually changing over the past several years one feature has remained consistent people who are young in their careers are expected to take on not only the responsibility of applying for external funding but are also required to get it manage it and renew it in order to keep their research programs projects and careers viable The Research Funding Guidebook begins at the point many grant seekers can identify with rejection Part I emphasizes how to resubmit unfunded applications to make them more competitive The material contained in this section is invaluable especially since funding sources are now limiting the number of times the same application can be resubmitted Part II goes on to highlight the practical issues of a project after funding has been obtained Here the authors provide a map of the people and places that must become part of a researcher's daily and weekly routine The guidance provided in this part of the book includes a checklist that can be used to aid the newly funded investigator's progress Time management an essential but often overlooked feature of research funding is also dealt with in this section The subjects of other sections of this volume include the small business aspects of maintaining funding for a project and the process of targeting continued funding by determining the next fundable step of a project This is a hands on guide that will never be far from the reach of those using it Topics like what to include in a project proposal tips for competitive writing and how to select funding sources are easily accessed In addition helpful checklists and samples are provided along the way These practical features and the comprehensive up to date information presented make The Research Funding Guidebook an indispensable reference for new and experienced investigators alike Anyone interested in research funding in any academic discipline will find this book useful Handbook of Research Methods in Experimental Psychology Stephen F. Davis, 2008-04-15 The Handbook of Research Methods in Experimental Psychology presents a comprehensive and contemporary treatment of research methodologies used in experimental psychology Places experimental psychology in historical context investigates the changing nature of research methodology experimental design and analytic procedures and features research in selected content areas Provides an excellent source of potential research ideas for advanced undergraduate and beginning graduate students Illustrates the range of research methodologies used in experimental psychology Contains contributions written by leading researchers Now available in full text online via xreferplus the award winning reference library on the web from xrefer For more information visit www.xreferplus.com Handbook of Research in Pediatric and Clinical Child Psychology Dennis Drotar, 2013-11-11 The professional development of researchers is critical for the future development of the fields of pediatric and clinical child psychology In order to conduct research in pediatric and clinical child psychology researchers need to work with a wide range of populations and master an increasingly wide range of skills many of which are either not formally taught or considered in sufficient depth in clinical training Such skills include the development of resources for research by writing grants to government agencies and foundations skills in preparing research for publications concerning original research review articles or case reports scientific presentation skills the ability to review and edit scientific manuscripts and to implement and manage research in applied settings Moreover the increasing complexity of research in pediatric and clinical child psychology requires successful researchers in these fields to develop their expertise with a wide range of new specialized methodologies data analytic methods models of data analysis and methods of assessment Finally to enhance the relevance of their research to practice researchers in pediatric and clinical child psychology need to integrate their work with clinical service delivery programs that are based on empirical research The necessity to train researchers in pediatric and clinical child psychology in such multifaceted knowledge and skills places extraordinary burdens on professional training programs Professional researchers in pediatric and clinical child psychology also are challenged to develop new knowledge and skills through continuing education and faculty development programs Research Training in Psychiatry Residency Committee on Incorporating Research into Psychiatry Residency Training., 2003-12-23 The number of psychiatric researchers does not seem to be keeping pace with the needs and opportunities that exist in brain and behavioral medicine An Institute of Medicine committee conducted a broad review of the state of patient oriented research training in the context of the psychiatry residency and considered the obstacles to such training and strategies for overcoming those obstacles Careful consideration was given to the demands of clinical training The committee concluded that barriers to research training span three categories regulatory institutional and personal factors Recommendations to address these issues are presented in the committee's report including calling for research literacy requirements and research training curricula tailored to psychiatry residency programs of various sizes The roles of senior investigators and departmental leadership are emphasized in the report as is the importance of longitudinal training e g from medical school through residency and fellowship As there appears to be great interest among numerous stakeholders and a need for better tracking data an overarching recommendation calls for the establishment of a national body to coordinate and evaluate the progress of research training in psychiatry Grants Jean M. Fromm,2007 Grants are available from thousands of sources both private and public To the grantseeker however this wealth of sources appears like an impenetrable jungle Where are the grants I need and what do I need to do to submit my ideas and proposals This book is designed to answer these questions by aiming the grantseeker to both the grant givers and by providing a bibliography of book for further research
