Rivers Man Myths From Fish Spears:

Rivers, Man, and Myths Robert Edward Brittain, 1958 The story of rivers and their relationship to man from the prehistoric era to the Middle Ages Rivers, Man and Myths. From Fish Spears to Water Mills. [With Plates.]. Robert Edward Brittain, 1958 Divinity and Experience : The Religion of the Dinka Godfrey Lienhardt, 1961-01-01 The Lower Damodar River, India Kumkum Bhattacharyya, 2011-03-29 Interweaving the human aspects of river control with analysis of hydro physical data including historical data over the last few centuries this monograph is a comprehensive evaluation of the Damodar s lower reaches While the Damodar River isn t an exceptional tropical river nor does it feature classic examples of river control structures it is unusual and worthy of study due to the fact that nowhere else in the tropical world have riverine sandbars been used as a resource base as well as for permanent settlements Based on their knowledge of river stages the inhabitants have fine tuned their land use to flood events applying a concept of flood zoning to the riverbed Every available space has been utilized rationally and judiciously This rare human environmental study analyzes the remarkable way in which immigrants unfamiliar with the riverine environment have adapted to the altered hydrologic regime of the river In doing so they have demonstrated a sophisticated understanding of the flood regime and the vagaries of an unpromising environment in their land use cropping and settlement patterns Spurred on by restricted social and economic mobility and sometimes political constraints these self settled refugees have learned to adapt to their environment and live with the floods Bhattacharyya s text is particularly timely as anthropogenic processes of this kind have not been adequately studied by geographers Rivers of the World James Penn, 2001-12-12 Rivers of the World vividly written and meticulously researched is a rich and thorough treatment of some 200 of the world s rivers In this comprehensive treatment of the major rivers of the world author James R Penn s purpose is not just to feature geographic data but to tell a story of historical drama poetic significance and cultural relationships The book shows glimpses of Chairman Mao boosting his image by swimming in the Yangtze Indian middlemen residing on both sides of the Columbia River exacting tolls from travelers like Lewis and Clark and near the Dordogne in southwest France Paleolithic cave art paintings and designs in rock shelters and subterranean caverns which are textbook examples of early human creativity and artistic impulse In nearly 200 entries ranging from a few paragraphs to several pages Rivers of the World covers all of the great rivers of the world including the Nile Niger Amazon and Mississippi as well as smaller waterways that illustrate important themes or represent trends The book includes bibliographies for each river Stronger Than a Hundred Men Terry S. Reynolds, 1983 Like many apparently simple devices the vertical water wheel has been around for so long that it is taken for granted Yet this picturesque artifact was for centuries man s primary mechanical source of power and was the foundation upon which mills and other industries developed Stronger than a Hundred Men explores the development of the vertical water wheel from its invention in ancient times through its eventual demise as a source of power during the Industrial Revolution Spanning more than 2000 years Terry Reynolds's account follows the progression of this labor saving device from Asia to the Middle East Europe and America covering the evolution of the water wheel itself the development of dams and reservoirs and the applications of water power Managing and Transforming Water Conflicts Jerome Delli Priscoli, Aaron T. Wolf, 2010-02-04

What is the one thing that no one can do without Water Where water crosses boundaries be they economic legal political or cultural the stage is set for disputes between different users trying to safeguard access to a vital resource while protecting the natural environment Without strategies to anticipate address and mediate between competing users intractable water conflicts are likely to become more frequent more intense and more disruptive around the world In this book Delli Priscoli and Wolf investigate the dynamics of water conflict and conflict resolution from the local to the international They explore the inexorable links between three facets of conflict management and transformation Alternative Dispute Resolution ADR public participation and institutional capacity This practical guide will be invaluable to water management professionals as well as to researchers and students in engineering economics geography geology and political science who are involved in any aspects of water management The Nature of Modernism Elizabeth Black, 2017-11-22 This book presents the first extended study of the relationship between British modernist poetry and the environment Challenging reductive associations of modernism as predominantly anthropocentric in character and urban in focus the book's central argument is that within British modernist poetry there is a clear and sustained interest in the natural world which has yet to receive adequate critical attention Whilst modernist studies continues to emphasize the plurality of the movement and the breadth of voices and concerns within it the environmental consciousness of modernist literature and its response to changes to human nature relations following the experience of war and modernity remain largely unexamined Exploring British modernist poetry from an ecocritical perspective offers a fresh approach to the movement and its context and produces original readings of both canonical and more marginalized modernist voices This book opens by discussing the relationship between modernism and ecocriticism and the benefits of creating a dialogue between the two It then presents new readings of Edward Thomas T S Eliot Edith Sitwell and Charlotte Mew that reveal a shared preoccupation with environmental issues and a common desire to find new ways of achieving physical psychological and artistic reconnection with nature Building on the continuing growth of ecocriticism this book demonstrates how green approaches to modernist studies can produce new insights into both individual poets and the modernist movement as a whole making it an essential resource for students of modernism ecocriticism and early twentieth century literature Myths of the Modocs Jeremiah Curtin, 1912 Catalog of

The Arakmbut--mythology, Spirituality, and History Andrew Gray,1996 The Arakmbut are an indigenous people who live in the Madre de Dios region of the southeastern Peruvian rain forest Since their first encounters with missionaries in the 1950s they have shown resilience and a determination to affirm their identity in the face of many difficulties During the last fifteen years Arakmbut survival has been under threat from a goldrush that has attracted hundreds of colonists onto their territories This trilogy of books traces the ways in which the Arakmbut overcome the dangers that surround them their mythology and cultural strength their social flexibility and their capacity to incorporate non indigenous concepts and activities into their defence strategies Each area is punctuated by the constant presence of the invisible spirit which provides a seamless theme connecting the books to each other Following the Arakmbuts recommendation the author uses their three greatest myths to introduce social cultural and historical aspects of their lives He ends with a discussion of the relationship between myth and history showing how the Arakmbut recreate their myths at the dramatic moments of their history Buy all three volumes for 20% discount
