John Swarbrick

Robert Adam And Kedleston:

Robert and James Adam, Architects of the Age of Enlightenment Ariyuki Kondo, 2015-10-06 During the second half of the eighteenth century British architecture moved away from the dominant school of classicism in favour of a more creative freedom of expression At the forefront of this change were architect brothers Robert and James Adam Kondo s work places them within the context of eighteenth century intellectual thought Robert Adam and Kedleston Leslie Harris, 1987-01-01 American Federal Furniture and Decorative Arts from the Watson Collection Philip D. Zimmerman, Catherine E. Hutchins, 2004 While demonstrating the high level of artistry attained by furniture makers of the period this selection in many ways reflects the evolving character of domestic life in America during a seminal period in the country s history The Education of the Eye Peter De Bolla, 2003 The Education of the Eye examines the origins of visual culture in eighteenth century Britain setting out to reclaim visual culture for the democracy of the eye and to explain how aesthetic contemplation may once more be open to all who have eyes to look The Architecture of Robert & James Adam (1758-1794) Arthur Thomas Bolton, 1922 The Architecture of Ruins Jonathan Hill, 2019-03-25 The Architecture of Ruins Designs on the Past Present and Future identifies an alternative and significant history of architecture from the sixteenth century to the twenty first century in which a building is designed occupied and imagined as a ruin This design practice conceives a monument and a ruin as creative interdependent and simultaneous themes within a single building dialectic addressing temporal and environmental questions in poetic psychological and practical terms and stimulating questions of personal and national identity nature and culture weather and climate permanence and impermanence and life and death Conceiving a building as a dialogue between a monument and a ruin intensifies the already blurred relations between the unfinished and the ruined and envisages the past the present and the future in a single architecture Structured around a collection of biographies this book conceives a monument and a ruin as metaphors for a life and means to negotiate between a self and a society Emphasising the interconnections between designers and the particular ways in which later architects learned from earlier ones the chapters investigate an evolving interdisciplinary design practice to show the relevance of historical understanding to design Like a history a design is a reinterpretation of the past that is meaningful to the present Equally a design is equivalent to a fiction convincing users to suspend disbelief We expect a history or a novel to be written in words but they can also be delineated in drawing cast in concrete or seeded in soil The architect is a physical novelist as well as a physical historian Like building sites ruins are full of potential In revealing not only what is lost but also what is incomplete a ruin suggests the future as well as the past As a stimulus to the imagination a ruin s incomplete and broken forms expand architecture s allegorical and metaphorical capacity indicating that a building can remain unfinished literally and in the imagination focusing attention on the creativity of users as well as architects Emphasising the symbiotic relations between nature and culture a building designed occupied and imagined as a ruin acknowledges the coproduction of multiple authors whether human non human or atmospheric and is an appropriate model for architecture in an era of increasing climate change Robert Adam's Country Houses Geoffrey Beard, Robert Adam, 1981 The life, work and influence of Robert Adam and his brothers, prize essay John Swarbrick, 1903 Robert and James Adam Joseph Rykwert, Anne Rykwert, 1985 The Furniture of Robert Adam Eileen Harris, 1973 Decorative Plasterwork in Great Britain Geoffrey Beard, Jeff Orton, Richard Ireland, 2015-10-06 Decorative plasterwork was created by skilled craftsmen and for over four hundred years it has been an essential part of the interior decoration of the British country house In this detailed and comprehensive study Geoffrey Beard has created a book that will delight the eye and inform the interested reader For those who have sometimes been puzzled by the complexities of plaster decoration it will be a most useful work of reference on a fascinating art form about which no book has been published for nearly fifty years After discussing the part that patrons played in commissioning and financing these beautiful decorations a useful chapter is devoted to materials and methods of work and here the author describes the ingredients of good plaster he has studied the work of present day English plasterers and Swiss stucco restorers in order to establish precisely how the materials of plaster and stucco were composed and used

Calcutta Krishna Dutta, 2003 In the popular imagination Calcutta is a packed and pestilential sprawl made notorious by the Black Hole and the works of Mother Teresa Kipling called it a City of Dreadful Night and a century later V S Naipaul Gunter Grass and Louis Malle revived its hellish image This is the place where the West first truly encountered the East Founded in the 1690s by East India Company merchants beside the Hugli River Calcutta grew into India's capital during the Raj and the second city of the British Empire Named the City of Palaces for its neoclassical mansions Calcutta was the city of Clive Hastings Macaulay and Curzon It was also home to extraordinary Bengalis such as Rabindranath Tagore the first Asian Nobel laureate and Satyajit Ray among the geniuses of world cinema Above all Calcutta renamed Kolkata in 2001 is a city of extremes where exquisite refinement rubs shoulders with coarse commercialism and political violence Krishna Dutta explores these multiple paradoxes giving personal insight into Calcutta's unique history and modern identity as reflected in its architecture literature cinema and music CITY OF ARTISTS Modern India's cultural capital home city of Howard Weinbrot and the Precincts of Enlightenment Kevin L. Cope, 2024-05-07 Seeking to honor and extend the critical legacy of Howard Weinbrot this volume re-examines rebuilds and upgrades the most prominent pillars of long eighteenth century scholarship The collection is divided into four thematic sections beginning with a series of chapters offering fresh analyses of Swift Dryden Hogarth and other major authors and artists of the period In the sections that follow the contributors not only explore biographies of both highly esteemed figures and notorious deviants but also investigate the very concept of Enlightenment as it has evolved from the eighteenth century to today The final section features chapters that probe the complex interaction of identity persona and place traversing the countless locales in which the British and the international eighteenth century emerged The volume ultimately covers a range of experience that extends from the gallows to the landscape garden and from heroic antiquity to Romantic era France Juxtaposing the local and particular against the grand and universal Howard Weinbrot and the Precincts of Enlightenment testifies to the complexity and ongoing significance of eighteenth century culture
