Russian and Soviet Views of Modern Western Art, 1890s to Mid-1930s Ilia Dorontchenkov,2009-06-10 From the first Modernist exhibitions in the late 1890s to the Soviet rupture with the West in the mid 1930s Russian artists and writers came into wide contact with modern European art and ideas Introducing a wealth of little known material set in an illuminating interpretive context this sourcebook presents Russian and Soviet views of Western art during this critical period of cultural transformation The writings document complex responses to these works and ideas before the Russians lost contact with them almost entirely Many of these writings have been unavailable to foreign readers and until recently were not widely known even to Russian scholars Both an important reference and a valuable resource for classrooms the book includes an introductory essay and shorter introductions to the individual sections Monet, Tchaikovsky, Zola, and the World They Made Kristof Haavik,2022-06-20 This book tells the story of three young men two French one Russian all born the same year when European culture was moving from Romanticism to something else in painting music and literature Influenced by the environment from which they came all three grew to take a leading role in moving the arts in a bold new direction It was the age when Impressionism reinvented what painting could be when Naturalism changed how fiction is written and when Russia moved from the edges of European society to the vital role it has played ever since Leading guiding determining this new course were Monet Tchaikovsky and Zola Parallel biographies of these three artistic geniuses follow them from the magic year of their birth to the point when they established themselves as bold original creators in the early 1870s The book explores how they chose to follow careers in creative art how each of them came to play such a central role in their respective domains and how those arts interacted and influenced each other As they move through the cultural world of 19th century Europe a panorama appears of the rich intellectual environment of France and Russia in that period as well as the unique experiences and talents that led all three to their towering position in modern culture Often considered separately art music and literature come together in this study to offer a multifaceted view of a key era in the development of modernism in all the arts

The Fate of the New Man Claire McCallum, 2018-07-03 Between 1945 and 1965 the catastrophe of war and the social and political changes it brought in its wake had a major impact on the construction of the Soviet masculine ideal Drawing upon a wide range of visual material The Fate of the New Man traces the dramatic changes in the representation of the Soviet man in the postwar period. It focuses on the two identities that came to dominate such depictions in the two decades after the end of the war: the Soviet man's previous role as a soldier and his new role in the home once the war was over. In this compelling study, Claire McCallum focuses on the reconceptualization of military heroism after the war, the representation of contentious subjects such as the war-damaged body and bereavement, and postwar changes to the depiction of the Soviet man as father. McCallum shows that it was the Second World War rather than the process of de-Stalinization that had the greatest impact on the masculine ideal, proving that even under the constraints of Socialist Realism, the physical and emotional devastation caused by the war was too great to go unacknowledged. The Fate of the New Man makes an important contribution to Soviet masculinity studies. McCallum's research also contributes to broader debates surrounding the impact of Stalin's death on Soviet society and on the nature of the subsequent Thaw, as well as to those concerning the relationship between Soviet culture and the realities of Soviet life. This fascinating study will appeal to scholars and students of Soviet history, masculinity studies, and visual culture studies.

Views of Russia & Russian Works on Paper, From Realism to the Silver Age Margaret Samu, 2014-06-01 This volume of thirteen essays presents rigorous new research by western and Russian scholars on Russian art of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. Over more than three decades after the publication of Elizabeth Valkenier's pioneering monograph Russian Realist Art, this impressive collection showcases the latest methodology and subjects of inquiry, expanding the parameters of what has become an area of enormous intellectual and popular appeal. Major artists including Ilya Repin, Valentin Serov, and Wassily Kandinsky are considered afresh, as are the Peredvizhnik and Mir iskusstva movements and the Abramtsevo community. The book also breaks new ground to embrace subjects such as Russian graphic satire and children's book illustration, as well as stimulating aspects of patronage and display. Collectively, the essays include a range of approaches from close textual readings to institutional critique. They also develop major themes inspired by Valkenier's work: among them, the emergence and evolution of cultural institutions; the development of aesthetic discourse and artistic terminology; debates between the Academy of Arts and its challengers; art criticism and the Russian press; and the resonance of various forms of nationalism within the art world. These and other questions engage multiple disciplines: those of art history, Slavic studies, and cultural history, among others, and promise to fuel a vibrant and ascendant field. The Museological Unconscious Victor Tupitsyn, 2009 Sumario Susan Buck Morss in conversation with Victor Tupitsyn Civitas solis ghetto as paradise Communal post modernism a short history Moscow communal conceptualism Icons of iconoclasm Sun without a muzzle If I were a woman Pushmi Pullyu St Petersburg and Moscow Batman and the joker the thermidor of the bodily Body without a name Notes on the museological unconscious Negativity mon amour Post autonomous art Rublevskoe Chauss e Central Asia in Art Aliya Abykayeva-Tiesenhausen, 2016-06-20 In the midst of the space race and nuclear age, Soviet Realist artists were producing figurative oil paintings. Why? How was art produced to control and co-opt the peripheries?

of the Soviet Union particularly Central Asia Presenting the untold story of Soviet Orientalism Aliya Abykayeva Tiesenhausen re evaluates the imperial project of the Soviet state placing the Orientalist undercurrent found within art and propaganda production in the USSR alongside the creation of new art forms in Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan and Uzbekistan From the turmoil of the 1930s through to the post Stalinist era the author draws on meticulous new research and rich illustrations to examine the political and social structures in the Soviet Union and particularly Soviet Central Asia to establish vital connections between Socialist Realist visual art the creation of Soviet identity and later nationalist sentiments
