A History of Russian Literature Andrew Kahn,Mark Naumovich Lipovet'skiĭ,Irina Reyfman,Stephanie Sandler,2018 Russia possesses one of the richest and most admired literatures of Europe reaching back to the eleventh century A History of Russian Literature provides a comprehensive account of Russian writing from its earliest origins in the monastic works of Kiev up to the present day still rife with the creative experiments of post Soviet literary life The volume proceeds chronologically in five parts extending from Kievan Rus in the 11th century to the present day The coverage strikes a balance between extensive overview and in depth thematic focus Parts are organized thematically in chapters which a number of keywords that are important literary concepts that can serve as connecting motifs and case studies in depth discussions of writers institutions and texts that take the reader up close and Visual material also underscores the interrelation of the word and image at a number of points particularly significant in the medieval period and twentieth century The History addresses major continuities and discontinuities in the history of Russian literature across all periods and in particular bring out trans historical features that contribute to the notion of a national literature The volume s time range has the merit of identifying from the early modern period a vital set of national stereotypes and popular folklore about boundaries space Holy Russia and the charismatic king that offers culturally relevant material to later writers This volume delivers a fresh view on a series of key questions about Russia s literary history by providing new mappings of literary history and a narrative that pursues key concepts rather more than individual authorial careers This holistic narrative underscores the ways in which context and text are densely woven in Russian literature and demonstrates that the most exciting way to understand the canon and the development of tradition is through a discussion of the interrelation of major and minor figures historical events and literary politics literary theory and literary innovation

The Oxford Handbook of the Russian Novel Julie A. Buckler,Justin Weir,2025 The Oxford Handbook of the Russian Novel brings together top specialists in Russian literature to treat the Russian novel from the late 18th to the 21st century using a range of interpretive perspectives The Russian novel is a distinctive tradition by virtue of its formal eccentricities as well as the boldness with which these works approached the most complex philosophical political and moral questions This Handbook treats well known works and authors but also explores the much broader tradition of the Russian novel up to the present The essays in the Handbook provide cultural and historical perspectives on the Russian novel as well as showcasing emergent modes of analysis including postcolonialism ecocriticism and posthumanism

Jones,Robin Feuer Miller,1998-04-30 Many Russian novels of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries have made a huge impact not only inside the boundaries of their own country but across the western world The Cambridge Companion to the Classic Russian Novel machinery on the one hand and critiqued and challenged it on the other especially in territories that were themselves on the fault lines between the east and the west Russia's Regional Identities Edith Clowes, Gisela Erbslöh, Ani Kokobobo, 2018-01-17 Contemporary Russia is often viewed as a centralised regime based in Moscow with dependent provinces made subservient by Putin's policies limiting regional autonomy This book however demonstrates that beyond this largely political view by looking at Russia's regions more in cultural and social terms a quite different picture emerges of a Russia rich in variety with different regional identities cultures traditions and memories The book explores how identities are formed and rethought in contemporary Russia and outlines the nature of particular regional identities from Siberia and the Urals to southern Russia from the Russian heartland to the non Russian republics
