and the State in Soviet and Post-Soviet Russia Stephen Wegren, 2010-11-23 Winner 1999 Edward A Hewett Book Prize from AAASS A comprehensive original and innovative analysis of the social economic and political factors affecting contemporary Russian reform the book is organized around the central question of the role of the state and its effect on the course of Russian agrarian reform In the wake of the collapse of the USSR contemporary conventional wisdom holds the Russian state is weak Stephen Wegren feels that the traditional approach to the weak strong state suffers from measurement and circular logic problems believing that the Russian state thought weaker than in its Soviet past is still relatively stronger than other actors The state s strength allows it to intervene in the rural sector in ways that other power contender cannot Specifically as a measure of state intervention Wegren analyzes how the state has influenced urban rural relations rural rural relations and the nonstate private agricultural sector Several dilemmas arose that have complicated successful agrarian reform as a result of the nature of state interventions how reform policies were defined and the incentives that arose from state sponsored policies During contemporary Russian agrarian reform urban rural differences have widened marked by a deterioration in rural standards of living and increased alienation of rural political groups from urban alliances At the same time within the rural sector reform failed to reverse rural egalitarianism In addition the nature of state interventions has undermined attempts to create a vibrant productive private rural sector based on private farming Wegren s research is based upon extensive field work interviews archival documents and published and unpublished source material conducted over a six year period and he demonstrates the link between agrarian reform and the success of overall reform in Russia This learned and often controversial volume will interest political scientists policy makers and scholars and students of contemporary Russia Foreign Agriculture ,1951 Agricultural Wage Stabilization in World War II Arthur Julius Holmaas,1950 Family Urban Agriculture in Russia Louiza M. Boukharaeva, Marcel Marloie, 2015-02-27 The book results from research carried out by the authors since 1999 on urban gardening collectives in Russia then from the extension of this research towards collective urban gardening in France with some investigations in other European Union Member States and Brazil This research was carried out within the framework of Kazan University currently the Institute of Administration and Territorial Development of the Federal University of Kazan and the French National Institute for Agricultural Research INRA It enabled the creation of an international research network entitled Sustainable Development of Cities the Relationship between City Dwellers and Nature This research was developed with help from a three year research contract October 2009 September 2012 with the GESSOL programme of the French Ministry of Ecology on the theme of the use of urban and peri urban soils for the sustainable development of cities The final report of this research contract provides the basis for the book Land Reform in Russia, 1906-1917 Judith Pallot, 1999-05-20 Since the collapse of the USSR there has been a growing interest in the Stolypin Land Reform as a possible model for post Communist agrarian development Using recent theoretical and empirical advances in Anglo American research Dr Pallot examines how peasants throughout

Russia received interpreted and acted upon the government's attempts to persuade them to quit the commune and set up independent farms. She shows how a majority of peasants failed to interpret the Reform in the way its authors had expected with outcomes that varied both temporally and geographically. The result challenges existing texts which either concentrate on the policy side of the Reform or if they engage with its results use aggregated official statistics which this text argues are unreliable indicators of the pre-revolutionary peasants' reception of the Reform.

The Blackwell Encyclopedia of the Russian Revolution Harold Shukman, 1994-12-05 This single volume is an authoritative and accessible guide to the background and progress of the Revolution written by a team of over forty specialist contributors. Beginning with the radical movements of the mid-nineteenth century, the Encyclopedia covers the development of the revolutionary movement created by the intelligentsia, the condition of the peasants, that of the working class and of the army, the role of the Tsarist secret police, the agents provocateurs, the revolutionaries' own underground. A substantial section is devoted to the emergence of liberation movements among the national minorities of the borderlands. The Encyclopedia also considers the formation of Soviet institutions and examines too the emergence of revolutionary culture well before 1917, the avant-garde in art and theatre and the relationship to the revolution of three major Russian writers: Blok, Gorky and Mayakovsky.

Russia in the Age of Modernisation and Revolution 1881 - 1917 H. Rogger, 2014-07-30 Hans Rogger's study of Russia under the last two Tsars takes as its starting point what the Russians themselves saw as the central issue confronting their nation: the relationship between state and society and its effects on politics, economics and class in these critical years.
