Getting Over the Color Green Scott Slovic, 2001 Desert vistas are often deemed vacant inhospitable wastelands Don't suggest that to Joy Harjo Pat Mora or other contemporary southwestern writers In these arid stretches often devoid of green today's southwestern writers see pyrotechnic colors and Gothic shapes that excite and often overwhelm the imagination And they capture this excitement in words that fix these desert images in the minds of readers who may too often look at the world through green colored glasses This anthology of contemporary nature writing from the Greater Southwest brings together a host of writers including peers of Edward Abbey such as Charles Bowden and Ann Zwinger and representatives of a new generation of writers such as Rick Bass and Terry Tempest Williams The book is an eclectic blend of nonfiction and fiction field notes and poetry through which artists of diverse backgrounds both celebrate and illuminate the unique vitality and complexity of southwestern literature proving that green is only one of many colors on their palette The selections included here range all across the southwestern landscape and explore adventures in the wild topics in natural history living close to the land and efforts at conservation and restoration They clearly demonstrate that there is grace and beauty in this often maligned part of the world both in the human traditions that have developed in the region and in the natural features of the desert itself
