Sacred Citizens And The Secular City:

The Sacred in the City Liliana Gómez, Walter Van Herck, 2012-02-09 This book reflects the way in which the city interacts with the sacred in all its many guises with religion and the human search for meaning in life As the process of urbanization of society is accelerating thus giving an increasing importance to cities and the metropolis it is relevant to investigate the social or cultural cohesion that these urban agglomerations manifest Religion is keenly observed as witnessing a growth crucially impacting cultural and political dynamics as well as determining the emergence of new sacred symbols and their inscription in urban spaces worldwide The sacred has become an important category of a new interpretation of social and cultural transformation processes From a unique broader perspective the volume focuses on the relationship between the city and the sacred Taking a multidisciplinary approach combining the expertise of philosophers historians architects social geographers sociologists and anthropologists it draws a nuanced picture of the different layers of religion of the sacred and its diverse forms within the city with examples from Europe South America and the Caribbean and Africa

Theologies of Power and Crisis Stephen Pavey, 2011-07-01 Theologies of Power and Crisis provides a case study for Eric Wolf's research directive to better comprehend the interplay of cultural webs of meaning and material webs of power forms of social life More specifically the book demonstrates how theological discourse and practice engage with historical and material relations of power It has been normative to speak of power in terms of political and economic processes and theology in terms of interpretive and symbolic experiences This work breaks new ground by linking theological ideas with political economic processes in terms of the structural relations of power Ethnographically this research investigates the theological processes of Hong Kong Chinese Christians during a period of significant social change and crisis precipitated by the return of Hong Kong to China in 1997 It shows how local Christians and Christian institutions mediated the significant regional national and transnational forces of political economic change by connecting theological practice to the structural relations of power The Christian response was a contested process closely intertwined with the broader contested processes of social organization This study develops an understanding of Christianity that goes beyond ecclesiastical hegemony to encompass struggles over human practice meaning and representation in relation to the changing political economic context These findings implicate religious ideas and practice as significant to an understanding of social inequalities and powerlessness by connecting ideologies to material conditions Christian ideas may be used to legitimize an oppressive social order or they may be used to liberate those who are oppressed Issues related to the policies and practice of development should take seriously the role of religious beliefs and practices

The Charismatic City and the Public Resurgence of Religion N. Wariboko, 2014-09-11 Two powerful and interrelated transnational cultural expressions mark our epoch Charismatic spirituality and global city This book demonstrates how these two forces can be used to inform ethical design of cities and their common social lives to best support human flourishing spirituality and social and ecological wellbeing of their residents Changing Church and State Relations in Hong Kong, 1950-2000 Beatrice Leung, Shun-hing Chan, 2003-08-01 The transition of the Churches from the traditional colonial setting of Hong Kong in the aftermath of World War II to the mature Christian community of post industrial post colonial Hong Kong is analysed with considerable skill by Beatrice Leung Kit fun and Shun hing Chan The two authors add significantly to our understanding of the dilemmas which confronted not only the Churches in adjusting to the transition from British rule but the wider community as well The book gave detailed account of Hong Kong s church state relationship in metamorphosis It should be an important text for students in both political science and China studies and especially in the history of Hong Kong A timely effort to fill a major gap in the study of Hong Kong society church state relations Students of Hong Kong research will find it most informative and useful But its relevance goes beyond Hong Kong this is a major reference for those who are interested in the areas of sociology of religion civil society political science and East Asian studies The book is the first piece of substantial research to analyze Church State relations in Hong Kong during the critical period of the handover from British to Chinese governance It is certainly an original contribution in such scale to raise the attention on an under studied controversial and important area which may critically affect the changing socio political dynamics in Hong Kong This manuscript is an informative insightful and timely study of Church State relations in Hong Kong over the past 50 years

Urban Change and Citizenship in Times of Crisis Bryan S. Turner, Hannah Wolf, Gregor Fitzi, Jürgen Mackert, 2020-04-07 Urban Change and Citizenship in Times of Crisis addresses the fact that in the beginning of the twenty first century the majority of the world s population is urbanised a social fact that has turned cities more than ever into focal sites of social change Multiple economic and political strategies employed by a variety of individual and collective actors on a number of scales constitute cities as contested spaces that hold opportunities as well as restrictions for their inhabitants While cities and urban spaces have long been of central concern for the social sciences today classical sociological questions about the city acquire new meaning Can cities be spaces of emancipation or does life in the modern city entail a corrosion of citizenship rights Is the city the focus of societal transformation processes or do urban environments lose importance in shaping social reality and economic relationships Furthermore new questions urgently need to be asked What is the impact of different historical phenomena such as neo liberal restructuring financial and economic crises or migration flows as well as their respective counter movements on the structure of contemporary cities and on the citizenship rights of city inhabitants The three volumes address such crucial questions thereby opening up new spaces of debate on both the city and new developments of urbanism The contributions to Theories and Concepts offer new theoretical reflections on the city in a philosophical and historical perspective as well as fresh empirical analyses of social life in urban contexts Chapters not only critically revisit classical and modern philosophical considerations about the nature of cities but no less discuss normative philosophical reflections of urban life and the role of religion in historical processes of the emergence of cities Composed around the question whether there can be such a thing as a successful city this volume addresses issues of urban political subjectivities by considering the city s role in historical processes of emancipation the fight for citizenship rights and today s challenges and opportunities with regard to promoting social justice integration and diversity Consequentially theory driven empirical analyses offer new insight into ways of solving problems in urban contexts and a genuine approach to analyse the Social Quality in cities

Religious Journeys in India Andrea Marion Pinkney, John Whalen-Bridge, 2018-08-20 Explores how religious travel in India is transforming religious identities and self constructions In an increasingly global world where convenient modes of travel have opened the door to international and intraregional tourism and brought together people from different religious and ethnic communities religious journeying in India has become the site of evolving and often paradoxical forms of self construction Through ethnographic reflections the contributors to this volume explore religious and nonreligious motivations for religious travel in India and show how pilgrimages missionary travel the exportation of cultural art forms and leisure travel among coreligionists are transforming not only religious but also regional national transnational and personal identities The volume engages with central themes in South Asian studies such as gender exile and spirituality a variety of religions including Sikhism Islam Buddhism and Christianity and understudied regions and emerging places of pilgrimage such as Manipur and Maharashtra It s rare to find such diverse accounts of religious travel collected in a single volume where scholars engagements with individual places of pilgrimage in India and with the journeys surrounding them are truly in conversation with one another For readers it makes for a deeply enlightening journey It also raises an interesting question Is the reality of India powerful enough that it absorbs divergent expressions of religious tourism making of them a common fabric Here so unusually readers have the materials to decide John Stratton Hawley author of A Storm of Songs India and the Idea of the Bhakti Movement Gathered in my Name William T. Cavanaugh, 2020-12-28 This volume differs from many quincennial discussions of the Protestant Reformation and ecumenical scholarship more generally in that it shifts the focus from Europe and the West to the global South where ecumenism s promises and challenges are quite different In postcolonial and post missionary Africa the churches continue to expand competition among denominations is lively and Christian rivalry with Islam is often a reality In Latin America Protestants have severely eroded the Catholic Church s hegemony originally forged in the zeal of the Counter Reformation to combat the perceived errors of Luther and Calvin In India the Christian churches are a tiny beleaguered minority facing an increasingly militant Hindu nationalism These essays pay close attention to the different contexts of intra Christian relationships worldwide the actual situation on the ground If ecumenism will succeed it cannot be simply a matter of experts at a conference attempting to agree about doctrines abstracted from the contexts in which they were forged the contexts in which doctrinal disagreements caused ecclesial ruptures or the contexts in which Christians continue to live out our divided existence This volume attempts to be sensitive to the lived experience of divided Christians in whatever part of the world they find themselves
