Crisis and Creativity Dick Foeken, Piet Konings, 2006-04-01 At times of economic and political crisis in Sub Saharan Africa urban dwellers display a large degree of creativity in their survival strategies by developing social networks and constructing imaginative and original practices and ideas This volume views the urban neighbourhood from two different perspectives and explores the importance of these creative processes The first approach considers the neighbourhood as a geographical domain in which people are engaged in a variety of activities to advance their material and immaterial well being making use of their wealth of opportunities assets and diverse forms of natural physical financial human and social capital The second angle sees the neighbourhood as not necessarily geographically located or bounded but as having been created and defined by human beings These neighbourhoods may take on the form of self help organizations associations or churches or may be based on gender generational ethnic or occupational identities As the contributions from all over Sub Saharan Africa show the two approaches do not necessarily exclude each other Cities in Contemporary Africa M. Murray, G. Myers, 2007-01-08 This book explains how and why cities on the African continent have grown at such a rapid pace how municipal authorities have tried to cope with this massive influx of people and how long time urban residents and newcomers interact negotiate and struggle over access to limited resources Contested Terrains And Constructed Categories George Clement Bond, 2018-02-19 Contested Terrains and Constructed Categories brings together intellectuals from a variety of fields backgrounds generations and continents to deepen and reinvigorate the theoretical and intellectual integrity of African studies Building on recent debate within African studies that has revolved around the role of Africanists in the United States as gatekeepers of knowledge about Africa and Africans this volume of interdisciplinary essays focuses on family until one day she comes across a group of protestors outside the museum. Instigating the group is an ancient woman who our heroine knows is not real. She knows too that the secrets of her past have returned. After this encounter the nameless woman finds herself living first in an attic and then in a haunted castle, her life anything but normal as her own intangible inheritance unfolds through the women who inhabit her visions. With a knowing nod to classics of the Gothic genre, Sphiwe Gloria Ndlovu weaves the threads of a complex colonial history into the present through people half broken by the stigmas of race and mental illness, all the while balancing the humanity of her characters against the cruelty of empire in a hypnotic, haunting account of love and magic.

Africa's Urban Revolution Doctor Edgar Pieterse, Susan Parnell, 2014-01-09 The facts of Africa's rapid urbanisation are startling. By 2030 African cities will have grown by more than 350 million people and over half the continent's population will be urban. Yet in the minds of policy makers, scholars and much of the general public, Africa remains a quintessentially rural place. This lack of awareness and robust analysis means it is difficult to make a policy case for a more overtly urban agenda. As a result, there is across the continent insufficient urgency directed to responding to the challenges and opportunities associated with the world's last major wave of urbanisation. Drawing on the expertise of scholars and practitioners associated with the African Centre for Cities and utilising a diverse array of case studies, Africa's Urban Revolution provides a comprehensive insight into the key issues: demographic, cultural, political, technical, environmental and economic surrounding African urbanisation.

The Gender of Piety Wendy Urban-Mead, 2015-07-15 The Gender of Piety is an intimate history of the Brethren in Christ Church in Zimbabwe, or BICC, as related through six individual life histories that extend from the early colonial years through the first decade after independence. Taken together, these six lives show how men and women of the BICC experienced and sequenced their piety in different ways. Women usually remained tied to the church throughout their lives, while men often had a more strained relationship with it. Church doctrine was not always flexible enough to accommodate expected masculine gender roles, particularly male membership in political and economic institutions or participation in important male communal practices. The study is based on more than fifteen years of extensive oral history research supported by archival work in Zimbabwe, the United Kingdom and the United States. The oral accounts make it clear, official versions to the contrary, that the church was led by spiritually powerful women and that maleness and mission church notions of piety were often incompatible. The life history approach illustrates how the tension of gender roles both within and without the church manifested itself in sometimes unexpected ways, for example how a single family could produce both a legendary woman pastor credited with mediating multiple miracles and a man, her son, who joined the armed wing of the Zimbabwe African People's Union nationalist political party and fought in Zimbabwe's liberation war in the 1970s. Investigating the lives of men and women in equal measure, The Gender of Piety uses a gendered interpretive lens to analyze the complex relationship between the church and broader social change in this region of southern Africa.

Forced Migration in Eastern Africa C. Veney, 2006-12-11 This study enriches understanding of East Africa

s refugee situation by examining the conditions that gave rise to it and how the refugees themselves sought to reconstruct their lives Focusing on the 1990s Veney compares Kenya and Tanzania two nations that did not generate many refugees but become important hosts for the general region Inequalities and Conflicts in Modern and Contemporary African History Jan Záhork,2018-11-16 The book deals with historical social economic political and international causes contexts and consequences of inequalities and conflicts in Africa In particular the book is to puts conflicts and turbulences in Ethiopia in a broader African comparative perspective It also identifies and analyzes multiple causes of conflicts which cannot be studied only as a result of one variable Inequalities and conflicts have a whole set of causes stemming from historically inherited as well as global international socio economic political and other contexts which cannot be analyzed separately This book is vital for anyone who is interested in the study of African history comparative politics and conflict in Africa Yoruba Elites and Ethnic Politics in Nigeria Wale Adebaw,2014-03-31 This book investigates the dynamics and challenges of ethnicity and elite politics in Nigeria Land in the Struggles for Citizenship in Africa Moyo, Sam,Tsikata, Dzodzi,2015-12-01 The variety of land questions facing Africa and the divergent strategies proposed to resolve them continue to evoke debates Increasingly in response to the enduring problems of land tenure there are land movements of all shapes and orientations some reformist and others quite revolutionary in their agenda However revolutionary land movements have tended to ignore the land tenure interests of women pastoralists youth and indigenous people Several of these longstanding and emerging issues in land tenure include the role of the state in land tenure reforms urban land questions the nature of land struggles and improvements and the impact of land tenure developments on particular social groups and countries An overarching concern is the extent to which land rights are being commodified through the conversion of land held under customary tenure systems into marketised systems The consequences of this include growing land concentration land tenure insecurities diminishing access to land by various sections of society including the poor women and less dominant ethno religious groups This volume brings together different studies on Africa s land questions exploring emerging land issues on the continent in terms of the wider questions of development citizenship and democratisation The chapters discuss the land question through a variety of themes Some focus on the agrarian aspects of the land questions while others elucidate the urban dimensions of the land question Black African Literature in English, 1997-1999 Bernth Lindfors,2003 This volume lists the work produced on anglophone black African literature between 1997 and 1999 This bibliographic work is a continuation of the highly acclaimed earlier volumes compiled by Bernth Lindfors Containing about 10 000 entries some of which are annotated to identify the authors discussed it covers books periodical articles papers in edited collections and selective coverage of other relevant sources
