The Creation of Half-Broken People Siphiwe Gloria Ndlovu, 2025-04-08 Stupendous African Gothic by the winner of Yale University's Windham Campbell Prize Showcasing African Gothic at its finest The Creation of Half Broken People is the extraordinary tale of a nameless woman plagued by visions She works for the Good Foundation and its museum filled with artifacts from the family's exploits in Africa the Good family members all being descendants of Captain John Good of King Solomon's Mines fame Our heroine is happy with her association with the Good family until one day she comes across a group of protestors outside the museum Instigating the group is an ancient woman who our heroine knows is not real She knows too that the secrets of her past have returned After this encounter the nameless woman finds herself living first in an attic and then in a haunted castle her life anything but normal as her own intangible inheritance unfolds through the women who inhabit her visions With a knowing nod to classics of the Gothic genre Siphiwe Gloria Ndlovu weaves the threads of a complex colonial history into the present through people half broken by the stigmas of race and mental illness all the while balancing the humanity of her characters against the cruelty of empire in a hypnotic haunting account of love and magic The Gender of Piety Wendy Urban-Mead, 2015-07-15 The Gender of Piety is an intimate history of the Brethren in Christ Church in Zimbabwe or BICC as related through six individual life histories that extend from the early colonial years through the first decade after independence Taken together these six lives show how men and women of the BICC experienced and sequenced their piety in different ways Women usually remained tied to the church throughout their lives while men often had a more strained relationship with it Church doctrine was not always flexible enough to accommodate expected masculine gender roles particularly male membership in political and economic institutions or participation in important male communal practices The study is based on more than fifteen years of extensive oral history research supported by archival work in Zimbabwe the United Kingdom and the United States The oral accounts make it clear official versions to the contrary that the church was led by spiritually powerful women and that maleness and mission church notions of piety were often incompatible The life history approach illustrates how the tension of gender roles both within and without the church manifested itself in sometimes unexpected ways for example how a single family could produce both a legendary woman pastor credited with mediating multiple miracles and a man her son who joined the armed wing of the Zimbabwe African People's Union nationalist political party and fought in Zimbabwe's liberation war in the 1970s Investigating the lives of men and women in equal measure The Gender of Piety uses a gendered interpretive lens to analyze the complex relationship between the church and broader social change in this region of southern Africa

African Studies in Geography from Below Ben Arrous,Lazare Ki-Zerbo,2009-11-01 The doctrine of international relations inter state indeed territorial ideologies the logic of autochthony and its ramifications ethnic cleansing are all hinged at different levels upon the same pseudo fact to every society a closed and exclusive territory demarcated by fixed and linear borders This way of thinking totally foreign to African societies for a long time has generated today more contradictions than it can ever solve The authors of this book make a clear distinction between territory formation from the top as being a deliberate political project and its formation from below as being a more diffused historical process which is determined by the scheme of antagonisms and compromises between social forces In lieu of a stark opposition between the top and below the authors unveil the interdependence and mutual influence which form the basis of a dual system within which legal formation by the colonial authorities first then by the postcolonial one is confronted with a host of subaltern spatial dynamics neglecting thereby the legitimacy which only they can provide As an essential read for anyone who is interested in the relationship between knowledge and power this book offers stimulating perspectives on the issue of African unity and its epistemological and political challenges It renews profoundly our approaches to human security citizenship borders and mobility Contributions are in English and in French
