SACRIFICED LIVES

KRISTEVA ON WOMEN AND VIOLENCE
MARTHA J. REINEKE

"An important and exciting contribution to the field of feminist theory, social theory, and continental philosophy . . . that will interest not only students of Kristeva, but those who are interested in all forms of social violence, feminist theory, and women's issues as well." —Tamzin Lorraine, Swarthmore College

Why did medieval women mystics starve themselves? What caused the European witch hunts, and why were its victims tortured and killed? Why has the Christian West regularly found maternal figures threatening? To answer these questions, Martha Reineke advances a theory of sacrifice, inspired by Julia Kristeva and René Girard, that attempts to account for violence in Western culture, the human proclivity for bodily mutilation and abuse, and women's special vulnerability to violence.

Reineke understands sacrifice as an effort to counter unrest and disorder in society. She gives special attention to two especially perplexing questions: Why must victims die in order for the sacrificial gesture to be effective? What accounts for the ritual probing, mutilation, and slow death of the victim? With Kristeva, Reineke traces the logic of sacrifice to the infant's struggle to separate from the maternal body and acquire its own place in the world. During times of crisis, humans recall those long-forgotten efforts and ritually reinvoke them, often with lethal consequences. Reading the stories of mystics, witches, and mothers in light of this scenario, Reineke explains how the pattern of violence described here has placed women especially at risk — and why religion has played a pivotal role.

A challenging and controversial book, Sacrificed Lives constructs an important bridge between "esoteric," postmodern theory and "ordinary" human life, as it furthers a vital philosophical debate on the question of violence.

MARTHA J. REINEKE is Associate Professor of Religion and Director of the Graduate Program in Women's Studies at the University of Northern Iowa.

Sacrificed Lives Kristeva On Women And Violence:

Sacrificed Lives Martha J. Reineke, 1997-10-22 Why did medieval women mystics starve themselves What caused the European witch hunts and why were its victims tortured and killed Why has the Christian West regularly found maternal figures threatening To answer these questions Martha Reineke advances a theory of sacrifice inspired by Julia Kristeva and Rene Girard that attempts to account for violence in Western culture the human proclivity for bodily mutilation and abuse and women s special vulnerability to violence A challenging and controversial book Sacrificed Lives constructs an important bridge between esoteric postmodern theory and ordinary human life as it furthers a vital philosophical debate on the question of violence

The Cruellest of All Mothers Mary Dunn, 2015-10-01 In 1631 Marie Guyart stepped over the threshold of the Ursuline convent in Tours leaving behind her eleven year old son Claude against the wishes of her family and her own misgivings Marie concluded God was dearer to me than all that Leaving him therefore in His hands I bid adieu to him joyfully Claude organized a band of schoolboys to storm the convent begging for his mother s return Eight years later Marie made her way to Quebec where over the course of the next thirty three years she opened the first school for Native American girls translated catechisms into indigenous languages and served some eighteen years as superior of the first Ursuline convent in the New World She would also maintain over this same period an extensive and intimate correspondence with the son she had abandoned to serve God The Cruellest of All Mothers is fundamentally an explanation of Marie de l Incarnation s decision to abandon Claude for religious life Complicating Marie s own explication of the abandonment as a sacrifice carried out in imitation of Christ and in submission to God s will the book situates the event against the background of early modern French family life the marginalization of motherhood in the Christian tradition and seventeenth century French Catholic spirituality Deeply grounded in a set of rich primary sources The Cruellest of All Mothers offers a rich and complex analysis of the abandonment

Women, Ideology and Violence Cheryl Anderson, 2006-01-01 Cheryl Anderson examines the laws relating to women that are found in the Book of the Covenant and the Deuteronomic law She argues that the laws can be divided into those that treat women similarly to men defined as inclusive laws and those that treat women differently exclusive laws She then suggests that the exclusive laws which construct gender as male dominance female subordination do not just describe violence against women but are inherently violent toward women As a non historical critique of ideology critical theory is used to offer analytical insights that have significant implications for understanding gender constructions in both ancient and contemporary settings

Teaching Religion and Violence Brian K. Pennington, 2012-05-24 Teaching Religion and Violence is designed to help instructors to equip students to think critically about religious violence particularly in the multicultural classroom

Kristeva's Fiction Benigno Trigo, 2013-09-17 With published work spanning more than forty years Julia Kristeva s influence in psychoanalysis and literary theory is difficult to overstate In addition to this scholarship Kristeva has written several novels however this portion of her oeuvre has received comparatively scant attention In this book Kristeva scholars from a number of disciplines analyze her novels in relation to her work in psychoanalysis interrogating the relationships between fiction and theory The essays explore questions including what is the value of experimental writing that escapes easy definition and classification putting ideas at the same level as character pacing plot suspense form and style And how might such fiction help its readers overcome the psychological maladies that affect contemporary society The contributors make a compelling case for understanding Kristeva's fiction as a crucial influence to her wider psychoanalytic project

Tragic Novels, René Girard and the American Dream Carly Osborn, 2020-05-14 This book draws on the philosopher Ren Girard to argue that three twentieth century American novels Jeffrey Eugenides's The Virgin Suicides Rick Moody's The Ice Storm and Richard Yates's Revolutionary Road are tragedies Until now Girardian literary analysis has generally focused on representations of human desire in texts and neglected both other emotions and the place of tragedy Carly Osborn addresses these omissions by using Girardian theory to present evidence that novels can indeed be tragedies The book advances the scholarship of tragedy that has run from Aristotle to Nietzsche to Terry Eagleton proposing a new way to read modern novels through ancient traditions In addition this is the first work to examine the place of women as victims or in Girardian terms scapegoats in twentieth century fiction specifically by considering the representation of women's bodies and ambivalence about their identities In deploying a rich and vivid array of tragic tropes The Virgin Suicides The Ice Storm and Revolutionary Road participate in a deep rooted American tragic tradition Tragic Novels the American Dream and Ren Girard will be of interest to those working at the intersection of philosophy and literature as well as Girard specialists

The Politics to Come Arthur Bradley, Paul Fletcher, 2011-11-03 The Politics to Come brings together an international collection of thinkers to consider the meaning of liberal democratic modernity at a moment when its future has never been less certain It examines the explosive threats the liberal order confronts today financial meltdown religious extremism environmental catastrophe Yet it also seeks to place these singularly modern crises within a much longer history For the contributors to this collection it is the ancient religious tradition called the messianic that provides the critical lens through which modernity may be interrogated In its ongoing struggles with the messianic liberal modernity confronts the promise and threat of a radically new Politics to Come So what are the Politics to Come How do they manifest themselves throughout history Why does the possibility of a messianic judgement continue to haunt the western political imaginary This collection offers a series of political philosophical and theological perspectives from which the future of liberal modernity if it has one can be imagined
