Semiologies Of Travel From Gautier To Baudrillard:

Semiologies of Travel David H. T. Scott, 2004-09-09 Semiologies of Travel is the first book to explore comprehensively the role of semiology and signs in the encounter with foreign cultures as it is expressed in French travel writing David Scott focuses on major writers of the last two hundred years including Thophile Gautier Andr Gide Henri Michaux Michel Leiris Claude Lvi Strauss Roland Barthes and Jean Baudrillard to show how ethnology politics sociology and semiotics as well as literature are deeply bound up in travel experience and the writing that emerges from it Scott also shows how the concerns of Romantic writers and theorists are still relevant to reflections on travel in today's post modern world The book follows an itinerary through jungle desert and Utopia as well as through Disneyland and Chinese restaurants and will be of interest to specialists in French studies and cultural studies as well as to readers of travel writing

Travel and Ethics Corinne Fowler, Charles Forsdick, Ludmilla Kostova, 2013-12-13 Despite the recent increase in scholarly activity regarding travel writing and the accompanying proliferation of publications relating to the form its ethical dimensions have yet to be theorized with sufficient rigour Drawing from the disciplines of anthropology linguistics literary studies and modern languages the contributors in this volume apply themselves to a number of key theoretical questions pertaining to travel writing and ethics ranging from travel as commoditization to encounters with minority languages under threat Taken collectively the essays assess key critical legacies from parallel disciplines to the debate so far such as anthropological theory and postcolonial criticism Also considered and of equal significance are the ethical implications of the form's parallel genres of writing such as ethnography and journalism As some of the contributors argue innovations in these genres have important implications for the act of theorizing travel writing itself and the mode and spirit in which it continues to be conducted In the light of such innovations how might ethical theory maintain its critical edge

Contemporary Travel Writing of Latin America Claire Lindsay, 2010-02-15 This book takes a new approach to travel writing about Latin America by examining domestic journey narratives that have been produced by travellers from the continent itself and largely in Spanish Historically travel writing about Latin America has been written primarily from the perspective of the foreign often European traveller As such and following the large influx of military scientific and leisure travellers in the region since its colonisation much of this foreign travel writing has depicted the continent in predominantly exoticist and or imperialist terms Lindsay explores how Latin American travellers have conceived and constructed narratives about travel at home and considers how such texts many of them available in English translation or with subtitles function to counter or corroborate long standing myths about the continent Through a series of regionally and thematically oriented case studies that engage with key issues themes and debates in both Latin American and travel studies Lindsay provides the first sustained interdisciplinary study of contemporary domestic travel narratives about the region and will also comprise an important intervention into methodological debates about travel and travel writing

Asian Home: Situating Self in Western Women's Select Travel Narratives Dr. Devika S, 2023-03-09 How did the West's countercultural notions widen their zeal and zest onto the Himalayas How did Nepal turn out to be a safe haven for Western women who made their travels to different Asian countries With no direct traces of colonialism the opening of Nepal to foreigners after 1951 offered travelers a new destination for imbibing Eastern spiritual traditions The post War condition was fertile for several radical movements Many people found solace in traveling to escape from the brutal after effects of the Second World War The socio political and economic conditions of Europe and America post World War II necessitated the need to travel to overcome the trauma of the war For women travel became the means of empowerment and at the same time a spiritual endeavour The knowledge and understanding of theology and other spiritual knowledge led many travelers to be part of the hippie trail in which Nepal is the final destination This book offers a fresh outlook to women's perceptions of a second home in a foreign land

Alternative Modernities in French Travel Writing Gillian Jein, 2016-06-19 Ever since human beings first travelled cities have constituted important material and literary destinations While the city has formed a key theme for scholars of literary fiction travellers modes of writing the city have been somewhat neglected by travel studies However travel writing with its attention to difference provides a rich source for the study of representational strategies and tactics in the modern city Tracing spatial practices of French travel writers in London and New York from 1851 to the 1980s this book contributes to a body of work that analyses travel and travel writing beyond the Anglophone context and engages a variety of travel writing in questions surrounding French modalities for negotiating and establishing a nexus of meanings for life in the modern city One of the central tenets of the book is that in the way its spaces are planned encountered and represented the city is operational in the formulation of identities and ideologies and the book's guiding question is how travel and travel writing allow for the exploration of urban modernity from a perspective of exchange Bringing together the strands of theory context and poetic analysis this book examines travel writing as a spatial practice of the modern city engaging urban space in questions of nationality power and legibility and opening avenues for the exploration of urban modernity from a position of alterity where alternative imaginative geographies of the city might emerge

Aller(s)-Retour(s) Loïc Guyon, Andrew Watts, 2014-03-17 If the eighteenth century was the age of reason and enlightenment the nineteenth century was undeniably the age of movement This tumultuous period in French history bore witness to the rise and fall of countless political movements from revolutions and coups d'état to popular protests and the first workers strikes It was an age of economic movements as France embraced the new world of finance and banking and underwent its own industrial revolution Social mobility increased as a dynamic commercial bourgeoisie began to challenge the system of aristocratic privilege that neither the 1789 Revolution nor the Napoleonic Empire had dismantled entirely The era was one of artistic ferment as Romanticism gave way to Realism Naturalism Impressionism and Symbolism Intellectual and philosophical movements from Liberalism to Saint Simonianism sought both to reconcile the country with its past and construct the framework for a progressive more harmonious future Through seventeen thematic essays Aller's Retour's seeks to understand nineteenth century France as a society in perpetual motion Recognising the instability that is key to the very concept of movement this volume explores how the intellectual shifts and cross currents of the nineteenth century responded to and impacted upon each other Finally it asks why questions of motion and movement dominated this period as every sphere of French life confronted its own extremes of progress and renewal stagnancy and regression

Ghost-Watching American Modernity María del Pilar Blanco, 2012-03-01 In Ghost Watching American Modernity María del Pilar Blanco revisits nineteenth and twentieth century texts from Spanish America and the United States to ask how different landscapes are represented as haunted sites Moving from foundational fictions to Westerns Blanco explores the diverse ways in which ghosts and haunting emerge across the American hemisphere for authors who are preoccupied with evoking the experience of geographical transformations during a period of unprecedented development The book offers an innovative approach that seeks to understand ghosts in their local specificity rather than as products of generic conventions or as allegories of hidden desires Its chapters pursue formally attentive readings of texts by Domingo Sarmiento Henry James Jos Mart W E B Du Bois Juan Rulfo Felisberto Hernandez and Clint Eastwood In an intervention that will reconfigure the critical uses of spectrality for scholars in U S Latin American Studies narrative theory and comparative literature Blanco advances ghost watching as a method for rediscovering haunting on its own terms

Postcolonial Eyes Aedín Ní Loingsigh, 2009-01-01 Over the past two decades interest in travel has developed significantly Critical engagement with imperialism postcolonialism diasporas ethnography and cultural anthropology has led to increasingly sophisticated readings of the travel writing genre and a growing acknowledgement of its complex history Postcolonial Eyes is the first study of its kind to identify a specifically Sub Saharan African lineage within the broader tradition of travel writing As well as exploring the reasons for Africans exclusion from the genre the book examines the important relationship between ethnicity and travel and identifies the concerns and preoccupations that define African writers approaches to travel

Isabelle Eberhardt and North Africa Lynda Chouiten, 2014-11-12 As a woman who traversed the North African Orient in male costume who spoke Arabic as well as French and who professed Islam while transgressing many of its instructions Isabelle Eberhardt seems to fit within Mikhail Bakhtin s definition of the carnivalesque as the impulse to blend that which is usually kept separate by artificial boundaries and hierarchies Nevertheless this study demonstrates that her evolution in the Maghreb is carnivalesque only in appearance Despite her transvestism the writer left unquestioned the traditional definitions of masculinity and femininity it is her subscription to the patriarchal equation of maleness with power and womanhood with weakness which makes her borrow a masculine identity In a similar way her appropriation of several elements of Oriental culture does not prevent her from reproducing age old Orientalist stereotypes As portrayed in her texts the natives are either aestheticized as picturesque figures from a bygone age or denigrated as uncivilized dark minded creatures And because Orientalism as Edward Said has famously argued is but a textual manifestation of colonialism Eberhardt s Orientalist texts make her the accomplice of the colonialist project a project which she also served by acting as a mediator between General Lyautey and native tribes In discussing Eberhardt s involvement in the colonial mission and her perpetuation of the patriarchal and Orientalist traditions this study questions the image of rebel figure that is usually assigned to her Instead it shows the writer s literary and political gestures to be embedded in a marked quest for empowerment through the double literary and political conquest of the Orient

Transnational Writing on Italy Lynn Mastellotto, 2025-03-18 Relocation narratives form a distinct subgenre of contemporary travel memoirs concerned with the experiences of travellers who become settlers in foreign locales and narrate their experience of cultural accommodation in serial autobiographical accounts This book seeks to understand the discourse of identity alterity in relocation writing which focuses on the topos of everyday life from a transnational perspective one which embraces a cosmopolitan orientation of openness to cultural difference Focusing on three transnational writers in Italy and their respective relocation trilogies Frances Mayes's Tuscan memoirs Annie Hawes's Ligurian memoirs and Tim Parks's Verona memoirs the study examines the sustained engagement with place and place based practices given narrative voice through multipart works which trace the authors migrating identities These nonfiction accounts contribute to a broader polyphonic literature in which transnational writers give voice to personal stories shaped by intercultural experiences which provide a powerful localised lens to examine how identities are dialogically transformed through contact with difference in a globalised world By giving readers an opportunity to reflect on identity and diversity in local global contexts transnational literature contributes to a better understanding of cultural change in late modernity and provides an important space for critical creative and transcultural exchange
