

Bob wants to send Alice the message, "DOG," which he plans to encrypt using Alice's RSA cypher with public key $(pq, e) = (55, 3)$. To encrypt the message, Bob uses the method described in Example 8.4.9. He encodes one letter at a time using $A = 01, B = 02, C = 03, \dots, Z = 26$. Next, he applies the encrypting formula

$$C = M^e \bmod pq,$$

where M is a plaintext letter and C is a block of ciphertext. Because 55 is a two-digit integer, each block of ciphertext is a two-digit integer with 0, 1, 2, ..., 9 represented as 01, 02, 03, ..., 09. (Enter your answers using a fixed number of digits: 01 for 1, 02 for 2, ..., 09 for 9, 10, 11, etc.)

(a) When the first letter of the message is encoded, the result is  . Bob then applies the encrypting formula to find that the first two-digit block of the encrypted message is  $^3 \bmod 55 =$  .

(b) The second two-digit block of Bob's encrypted message is  $^3 \bmod 55 =$  .

(c) What is the fully encrypted message that Alice receives? (Enter the message as a sequence of integer doubles separated by a single space, where each double is written using a fixed number of digits: 01 for 1, 02 for 2, ..., 09 for 9, 10, 11, etc.)

The Mathematical Neighborhoods of School Mathematics Hyman Bass, 2023-07-27

The Mathematical Neighborhoods of School Mathematics visits regions beyond but proximal to and accessible from school mathematics. Its aim is to give readers a glimpse of not just the rich diversity and adaptability of mathematics but most importantly its interconnections and overall coherence, a perspective not easily available from the school curriculum. This aim entailed assembling a variety of substantial mathematical domains that do not typically cohabit the same volume. The book begins with an in-depth treatment of topics in the school curriculum often with novel approaches and connections. A unifying thread is the group theoretic study of addition and multiplication in the various number systems of school mathematics. The exposition is mathematically rigorous, including proofs of many fundamental theorems not otherwise easily available in mathematically accessible form. The Mathematical Neighborhoods of School Mathematics is intended to be a conceptual contribution to mathematics education. It will be a valuable resource in professional development of mathematics teachers and in mathematical enrichment programs for both students and teachers. In this regard, many of the chapters are relatively self-contained. It could also serve as a text for undergraduate mathematics majors with an interest in teaching. The exceptional Chapter 11 presents some novel instructional designs for problem-solving activities meant to cultivate connection-oriented mathematical thinking. Hyman Bass is the Samuel Eilenberg Distinguished University Professor of Mathematics and Mathematics Education at the University of Michigan. He is a member of the National Academy of Sciences and of the National Academy of Education. Jason Brasel, a former high school mathematics teacher, is a mathematics educator and researcher in secondary mathematics who works at TeachingWorks, University of Michigan.

Erotic Performance and Spectatorship Katy Pilcher, 2016-11-10

Erotic dance is one of the most contentious issues in feminist debates today and a source of fascination in media and popular cultural representations. Yet why is it that we currently know so little about those who perform erotic dance for female customers or the experiences of these spectators themselves? The result of a unique investigation within two of the UK's leisure venues, Erotic Performance and Spectatorship, seeks to rectify the aforementioned lack of insight. Through vivid ethnographies of a lesbian leisure venue and a male strip show, Pilcher's research advances key debates about the gender and sexual politics of erotic dance whilst simultaneously relating these to debates about the sex industry more widely. This book also subverts previous assumptions that only women perform erotic dance and only men spectate. Thus, this book stands out amongst other academic accounts developing the debate beyond the established focus on erotic dance as either empowering or degrading. This new contribution to the study of erotic dance, which provides a fresh theoretical perspective combining queer and feminist theorising in addition to rich empirical evidence, will appeal to academic researchers and both undergraduate and postgraduate students within the fields of sociology, gender studies, sexuality studies, gay/lesbian studies, feminism, and other neighbouring disciplines It will also be of interest to feminist and sex work activists policy makers and practitioners
