Rick Horne, 2012-03-31 This is a book about transformation sometimes sooner and sometimes later of an angry defiant teen More immediately though it's about transformation of that teen's fearful exasperated and hurting parents There is no silver bullet that will transform an angry teen into a respectful responsible young adult However there is a God who can transform us the way we parent and the atmosphere we allow to develop in our home This book draws parents attention to their need to pursue and be satisfied with God's glory which in turn allows them to seek change in their teenager's heart. It shows parents how to reestablish godly family leadership and helps them to find the joy of the Lord even if their teen doesn't change.

I'm Finally a Man Rhona Green, 2012-08-06 Born in the small town of Orangeburg SC there was little for the youth to do and limited opportunity for growth. Demetrius turned to drugs, crime, and alcoholism as a means for excitement. At the point of no return and the brink of insanity, incarceration became his wake up call. After serving four years in prison, Demetrius returned to society determined to live a positive and more productive life. With a renewed spirit and a better outlook on life, Demetrius had a mission to jump start his career. Through life lessons, Demetrius was able to rise above the stereotypes of recidivism statistics to be a successful leader and mentor to many whom he comes in contact with. As he continues to coach and develop his staff, Demetrius has been blessed with the opportunity to further his career and personal development as well. Demetrius is currently the District Manager of the North Carolina and South Carolina regions of a popular urban retailer. Demetrius is married and has two beautiful daughters and a nephew whom he has embraced as his own. He and his family reside in the North Carolina area. Demetrius is active in his church and participates in the local community outreach programs. Demetrius is resilient in his unwavering message of eliminating excuses and teaching others to focus on what you could do differently to change the outcome.
