Digital Nation Edgar Simpson,2014-08-14 Missing from the ongoing conversation about the titanic forces reshaping national journalism is the meaning of daily professional journalism in communities where the majority of Americans live

Edgar Simpson spent a year intimately engaged with all the news streams available in two Midwest counties one where a daily newspaper had closed and one where a daily newspaper continues to operate to better understand and illuminate national news trends and translate them to specific communities News Public Affairs and the Public Sphere in a Digital Nation Rise of the Audience outlines the clear implications for representative democracy in the face of a daily professional journalism in retreat If the U S system is to thrive more resources at the community level must be marshaled to support journalism Further citizens will have to become increasingly sophisticated in understanding the type of content they are consuming and more importantly what information they are not consuming This book not only puts the problems in stark terms but offers unique community based solutions

Science, Technology and Society Wenceslao J. González, 2005 The emphasis on the realm of Science Technology and Society or Science and Technology Studies may have the same degree of relevance that the historical turn had in the past It is a social turn which affects philosophy of science as well as philosophy of technology It includes a new vision of the aims processes and results of scientific activities and technological doings because the focus of attention is on several aspects of science and technology which used to be considered as secondary or even irrelevant This turn highlights science and technology as social undertakings rather than intellectual contents According to this new vision there are several important changes as to what should be studied the objects of research how it should be studied the method and what the consequences for those studies are The new focus of attention can be seen in many changes and among them are several of special interest a from what science and technology are in themselves mainly epistemic contents to how science and technology are made largely social constructions b from the language and structure of basic science to the characteristics of applied science and the applications of science c from technology as a feature through which human beings control their natural surroundings a step beyond technics due to the contribution of science to technology as a social practice and an instrument of power and d from the role of internal values necessary for mature science and innovative technology to the role of contextual or external values cultural political economic of science and technology Wenceslao J Gonzalez is professor of logic and philosophy of science at the University of A Coru a Spain He has been vicedean of the School of Humanities and president of the Committee of Doctoral Programs at the University He has been a visiting researcher at the Universities of St Andrews M nster and London London School of Economics as well as Visiting fellow at the Center for Philosophy of Science University of Pittsburgh He has given lectures at the Universities of Pittsburgh Stanford Quebec and Helsinki The conferences in which he has participated include those organized by the Universities of Uppsala New South Wales Bologne and Canterbury New Zealand He has edited 20 volumes and published 70 papers He is the editor of the monographic issues on Philosophy and Methodology of Economics 1998 and Lakatos s Philosophy Today 2001 His writings include Economic Prediction and Human Activity An Analysis of Prediction in Economics from Action Theory 1994 On the Theoretical Basis of Prediction in Economics 1996 Rationality in Economics and Scientific

Gonzalez, 2025-03-20 Now that cinema is offline and online the capacity of cinema to relate to philosophy and science has increased In this regard this book seeks to deepen the relationship between philosophy science and cinema in terms of bilaterality This analysis leads to several successive levels of analysis First between philosophy and cinema where the philosophical perspective bifurcates in several directions depending on the philosophical branch used This affects in both directions from the philosophical orientation to the cinematographic activity and from cinema towards the philosophical line used Second the relations between science and cinema also go in both directions Thus they are modulated by the type of scientific research used and by the film genre employed Thus bilaterality is altogether a network of bidirectional relations modulated by various possibilities of analysis New Perspectives on
