GLIDE PATH Arthur C. Clarke, 2011-05 During World War II as an RAF officer Arthur C Clarke was in charge of the first radar talk down equipment the Ground Controlled Approach during its experimental trials His novel GLIDE PATH is based on this work Glide Path Arthur Charles Clarke, 1963 Electronic saga about the development of a radar talk down system for landing planes during World War 2 All the Wonder that Would Be Stephen Webb, 2017-05-03 It has been argued that science fiction SF gives a kind of weather forecast not the telling of a fortune but rather the rough feeling of what the future might be like The intention in this book is to consider some of these bygone forecasts made by SF and to use this as a prism through which to view current developments in science and technology In each of the ten main chapters dealing in turn with antigravity space travel aliens time travel the nature of reality invisibility robots means of transportation augmentation of the human body and last but not least mad scientists common assumptions once made by the SF community about how the future would turn out are compared with our modern understanding of various scientific phenomena and in some cases with the industrial scaling of computational and technological breakthroughs A further intention is to explain how the predictions and expectations of SF were rooted in the scientific orthodoxy of their day and use this to explore how our scientific understanding of various topics has developed over time as well as to demonstrate how the ideas popularized in SF subsequently influenced working scientists Since gaining a BSc in physics from the University of Bristol and a PhD in theoretical physics from the University of Manchester Stephen Webb has worked in a variety of universities in the UK He is a regular contributor to the Yearbook of Astronomy series and has published an undergraduate textbook on distance determination in astronomy and cosmology as well as several popular science books A Study Guide for Arthur C. want to do once they get up there whether conquering the unknown establishing space colonies privatising the moon's resources reveals more than expected In this fascinating radical history of space exploration Fred Scharmen shows that often science and fiction have combined in the imagined dreams of life in outer space but these visions have real implications for life back on earth For the Russian Cosmists of the 1890s space was a place to pursue human perfection away from the Earth For others such as Wernher Von Braun it was an engineering task that combined in the Space Race the Cold War and during World War II with destructive geopolitics Arthur C Clark in his speculative books offered an alternative vision of wonder that is indifferent to human interaction Meanwhile NASA planned and managed the space station like an earthbound corporation Today the market has arrived into outer space and exploration is the plaything of superrich technology billionaires who plan to privatise the mineral wealth for themselves Are other worlds really possible Bringing these figures and ideas together reveals a completely different story of our relationship with outer space as well as the dangers of our current direction of extractive capitalism and colonisation

It Doesn't Take a Rocket Scientist John Malone, 2008-05-02 Did you know that the woman who discovered the largest and most complete T rex fossil on record was a high school dropout who became one of the world's greatest fossil hunters that the great British scientist Michael Faraday was the son of a blacksmith and had very little formal education that Gregor Mendel had time to study inherited traits in garden peas because he failed the test to qualify as a high school science teacher This is just a small sampling of the many surprises you'll find in this enlightening survey of the mavericks misfits and unschooled investigators who have been responsible for some of the greatest scientific discoveries in history It Doesn't Take a Rocket Scientist explains the achievements of each of these accomplished amateurs describes how they approached their investigations and discusses the impact of their discoveries In these amazing and inspiring stories you'll learn about Grote Reber and the birth of radio astronomy Arthur C Clarke's vision of communication satellites Joseph Priestley and the discovery of oxygen Felix d Herelle's pinpointing of bacteriophages killers of bacteria Thomas Jefferson and the science of archaeology You'll also discover which fields of science still offer great opportunities for modern amateurs eager to make a name for themselves After all it doesn't take a rocket scientist

A Study Guide for Arthur C. Clarke's "Dog Star" Gale, Cengage Learning, Collisions Alec Nevala-Lee, 2025-06-10 From the acclaimed biographer of Buckminster Fuller a riveting biography of the Nobel Prize winning physicist who became the greatest scientific detective of the twentieth century To his admirers Luis W Alvarez was the most accomplished inventive and versatile experimental physicist of his generation During World War II he achieved major breakthroughs in radar played a key role in the Manhattan Project and served as the lead scientific observer at the bombing of Hiroshima In the decades that followed he revolutionized particle physics with the hydrogen bubble chamber developed an innovative X ray method to search for hidden chambers in the Pyramid of Chephren and shot melons at a rifle range to test his controversial theory about the Kennedy assassination At the very end of his life he collaborated with his son to demonstrate that an asteroid impact was responsible for the extinction of the dinosaurs igniting a furious debate that raged for years after his death Alvarez was also a combative and relentlessly ambitious figure widely feared by his students and associates who testified as a government witness at the security hearing that destroyed the public career of his friend and colleague J Robert Oppenheimer In the first comprehensive biography of Alvarez Alec Nevala Lee vividly recounts one of the most compelling untold stories in modern science a narrative overflowing with ideas lessons and anecdotes that will fascinate anyone with an interest in how genius and creativity collide with the problems of an increasingly challenging world Blind Landings Erik M. Conway, 2006-11-04 When darkness falls storms rage fog settles or lights fail pilots are forced to make instrument landings relying on technology and training to guide them through typically the most dangerous part of any flight In this original study Erik M Conway recounts one of the most important stories in aviation history the evolution of aircraft landing aids that make landing safe and routine in almost all weather conditions Discussing technologies such as the Loth leader cable system the American National Bureau of Standards system and its descendants the Instrument Landing System the MIT Army Sperry Gyroscope microwave blind landing system and the MIT Radiation Lab s radar based Ground Controlled Approach system Conway interweaves technological change training innovation and pilots experiences to examine the evolution of blind landing technologies He shows how systems originally intended to produce routine all weather blind landings gradually developed into routine instrument guided approaches Even so after two decades of development and experience pilots still did not want to place the most critical phase of flight the landing entirely in technology s invisible hand By the end of World War II the very concept of landing blind therefore had disappeared from the trade literature a victim of human limitations Transhumanism: The Proper Guide to a Posthuman Condition or a Dangerous Idea? Wolfgang Hofkirchner, Hans-Jörg Kreowski, 2020-12-12 This book examines the contributions of the transhumanism approach to into four parts concerning philosophical military technological and sociological aspects of transhumanism but the reader is free to choose various reading patterns Topics discussed include gene editing the singularity ethical machines metaphors in context of the philosophy of technology transhumanism as a derailed anthropology and critical sociological aspects that technology Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1965 Includes Part 1
