The Sound Time Makes David Arnold Hughes, 2008-11-21 A collection of poems whose fixation in time and subject matter ranges from the romantic to the political to the phantasmal The images portrayed give a sense that years separate the events and emotions inspiring them Though they are based on the experiences of one person still they seem to inspire in the reader something akin to du vu which may occasionally cause the hair follicles to stand on end

Complete Poems Claude McKay, 2004-01-29 Containing more than three hundred poems including nearly a hundred previously unpublished works this unique collection showcases the intellectual range of Claude McKay 1889-1948 the Jamaican born poet and novelist whose life and work were marked by restless travel and steadfast social protest McKay's first poems were composed in rural Jamaican creole and launched his lifelong commitment to representing everyday black culture from the bottom up Migrating to New York he reinvigorated the English sonnet and helped spark the Harlem Renaissance with poems such as If We Must Die After coming under scrutiny for his communism he traveled throughout Europe and North Africa for twelve years and returned to Harlem in 1934 having denounced Stalin's Soviet Union By then McKay's pristine violent sonnets were giving way to confessional lyrics informed by his newfound Catholicism. McKay's verse eludes easy definition yet this complete anthology vividly introduced and carefully annotated by William J. Maxwell acquaints readers with the full transnational evolution of a major voice in twentieth century poetry.
