 development of separate national literatures of Scotland Wales and Ireland and shifts in modes of attention and reading From the aftermath of the 2008 global financial crash to the Covid 19 pandemic of 2020 the 2010s have been a decade of an ongoing crisis which has penetrated every area of everyday life Internationally there has been an ongoing shift of global power from the US to China and events and developments such as the election of Donald Trump as US President the emergence of the Black Lives Matter movement the rise of the populist right across Europe and very gradually the incipient

 Ancuta, 2005 Gothic and Horror have been perceived as intertwined ever since their coming into existence Although initially emerging as clearly delineated literary genres in the late 20th century we can speak of their transition into more open cultural categories Gothic and Horror influences previously limited to books and films predominate in contemporary art fashion theatrical and performance art video and multimedia installations music video and computer games Gothic and Horror have invaded the language of politics and resulted in the formation of a number of subcultures styling their lives accordingly The awareness of the above makes us realise that the insistence on the treatment of Gothic and Horror as separate genres is at least limiting if not unacceptable An alternative offered by this book resulting from a thorough examination of the presence of Gothic and Horror conventions in contemporary culture calls for an introduction of two new
