Mathematics in the Secondary School Classroom Gerald R. Rising, Richard A. Wiesen, 1972 Teaching Reading in the Secondary School Wilma H. Miller, 1974 Polynomials E.J. Barbeau, 2003-10-09 The book extends the high school curriculum and provides a backdrop for later study in calculus modern algebra numerical analysis and complex variable theory Exercises introduce many techniques and topics in the theory of equations such as evolution and factorization of polynomials solution of equations interpolation approximation and congruences The theory is not treated formally but rather illustrated through examples Over 300 problems drawn from journals contests and examinations test understanding ingenuity and skill Each chapter ends with a list of hints there are answers to many of the exercises and solutions to all of the problems In addition 69 explorations invite the reader to investigate research problems and related topics Teaching Mathematics in Grades 6 - 12 Randall E. Groth, 2012-08-10 Teaching Mathematics in Grades 6 12 by Randall E Groth explores how research in mathematics education can inform teaching practice in grades 6 12 The author shows preservice mathematics teachers the value of being a researcher constantly experimenting with methods for developing students mathematical thinking and connecting this research to practices that enhance students understanding of the material Ultimately preservice teachers will gain a deeper understanding of the types of mathematical knowledge students bring to school and how students thinking may develop in response to different teaching strategies New York State Mathematics Teachers Journal, 1977 Resources in Education, 2001-10 Identity, Social Class and Learning in the 'Bottom' Reading Group Jess Anderson, 2025-02-28 The common practice of ability grouped reading in UK schools often termed guided reading influences children s sense of identity feelings and progress as readers Drawing on a rich ethnographic study of three primary classrooms this book reopens a critical inquiry into ability grouped reading that has been quiet since the 1990s when guided reading in literacy education became established practice in the UK and the US Through the lens of children s agency in accommodating resisting and at times transforming such reading pedagogy the book shows how readers are shaped by ability grouped reading and by the more egalitarian reading pedagogies introduced in the study Children s individual and collective experiences are brought to life through extended narratives that attend as closely to gesture posture visage silences and prosody of speech as to spoken words The book ends with a provocation how literacy pedagogy might change if reflexive noticing and dismantling of hierarchies become the compass of pedagogical change This demands attention to structural inequalities around race gender and class and a turn towards deep listening to children As well as being a valuable read for scholars of the sociology of childhood and education it should appeal to anyone concerned with making education more equitable including teachers school leaders parents carers and policymakers Research in Education, 1974
