METACLASSES AND THEIR APPLICATION Wolfgang Klas, Michael Schrefl, 1995 Metaclasses and Their

Application Wolfgang Klas, Michael Schrefl, 1995-07-14 Conventional object oriented data models are closed although they allow users to define application specific classes they usually come with a fixed set of modelling primitives This constitutes a major problem as different application domains e g database integration or multimedia need special support Using an extended metaclass concept this book provides for the solution of this problem a simple but extendible open object oriented data model a so called RISC model By introducing the basic concepts of the open object oriented database management system VODAK it demonstrates how the extended metaclass concept can be integrated homogeneously into object oriented data models Database and Expert Systems Applications Roland R. refereed proceedings of the Second International Conference on Meta Level Architectures and Reflection Reflection 99 held in St Malo France in July 1999 The 13 revised full papers presented were carefully selected from 44 submissions Also included are six short papers and the abstracts of three invited talks The papers are organized in sections on programming languages meta object protocols middleware multi media work in progress applications and meta programming The volume covers all current issues arising in the design and analysis of reflective systems and demonstrates their practical applications

Business Process Management Wil M.P. van der Aalst, Boualem Benatallah, Fabio Casati, Francisco Curbera, 2005-08-18

This volume contains the proceedings of the 3rd International Conference on Business Process Management BPM 2005 organized by LORIA in Nancy France September 5 8 2005 This year BPM included several innovations with respect to previous editions most notably the addition of an industrial program and of co located workshops This was the logical result of the significant and still growing industrial interest in the area and of the broadening of the research communities working on BPM topics The interest in business process management and in the BPM conference was demonstrated by the quantity and quality of the paper submissions We received over 176 contributions from 31 countries accepting 25 of them as full papers 20 research papers and 5 industrial papers while 17 contributions were accepted as short papers In addition to the regular industry and short presentations invited lectures were given by Frank Leymann and Gustavo Alonso This combination of research papers industrial papers keynotes and workshops all of very high quality has shown that BPM has become a mature conference and the main venue for researchers and practitioners in this area We would like to thank the members of the Program Committee and the reviewers for their efforts in selecting the papers They helped us compile an excellent scientific program For the difficult task of selecting the 25 best papers 14% acceptance rate and 17 short papers each paper was reviewed by at least three reviewers except some out of scope papers

Transaction Management Support for Cooperative Applications Rolf A. de by, Wolfgang Klas, J. Veijalainen, 2012-12-06 Transaction Management Support for Cooperative Application is a comprehensive report on a successful international project called TRANSCOOP carried out from 1994 to 1997 by a group of European scientists But the book is also much more than that namely an ambitious attempt to integrate Computer Supported Cooperative Work CSCW Workflow Management Systems WFMS and Transaction Processing TP technologies The very term cooperative transactions is in itself contradictory Cooperation technologies such as CSCW aim at providing a framework for information exchange between cooperating human participants In contrast traditional transaction technologies allow concurrent users to operate on shared data while providing them with the illusion of complete isolation from each other To overcome this contradiction the TRANSCOOP researchers had to come up with a new and original notion of correctness of concurrent executions based on controlled exchange of information between concurrent users Merging histories in accordance with prespecified commutativity rules among concurrent operations provides transactional guarantees to activities such as cooperative designing which until now had to be carried out sequentially As an interesting consequence it also provides a basis for management of consistency between disconnected or mobile users who operate independently and yet must occasionally reconcile their work with each other

The Evolution of Conceptual Modeling Roland Kaschek, Lois M.L. Delcambre, 2011-02-04 Conceptual modeling represents a recent approach to creating knowledge It has emerged in response to the computer revolution which started in the middle of the 20th century Computers in the meantime have become a major knowledge media Conceptual modeling provides an answer to the difficulties experienced throughout the development of computer applications and aims at creating effective reasonably priced and sharable knowledge about using computers in business Moreover it has become evident that conceptual modeling has the potential to exceed the boundaries of business and computer usage This state of the art survey originates from the International Seminar on the Evolution of Conceptual Modeling held in Dagstuhl Castle Germany in April 2008 The major objective of this seminar was to look into conceptual modeling from a historical perspective with a view towards the future of conceptual modeling and to achieve a better understanding of conceptual modeling issues in several different domains of discourse going beyond individual modeling projects The book contains 14 chapters These were carefully selected during two rounds of reviewing and improvement from 26 presentations at the seminar and are preceded by a detailed preface providing general insights into the field of conceptual modeling that are not necessarily discussed in any of the chapters but nevertheless aid in conceptualizing the inner structure and coherence of the field The chapters are grouped into the following three thematic sections the evolution of conceptual modeling techniques the extension of conceptual modeling to a service oriented peer to peer or Web context and new directions for conceptual modeling Java Programming Tanushri Kaniyar,2025-01-03 This comprehensive guide is perfect for anyone aiming to master data structures and algorithms in Java Even without prior knowledge readers will find themselves equipped with essential skills by the end of the book We ensure that you ll not only read and understand these concepts but also apply them effectively in Java Focusing on different aspects of data structures and problem solving this book offers detailed explanations of all key concepts We emphasize practical aspects helping you improve gradually with time and practice This is not a book to skim through but one to work with actively The text begins with fundamental terms variable comparisons and types of analysis It then progresses to topics like recursion backtracking linked lists stacks queues and trees all with a practical approach Our goal is to cover all topics thoroughly using numerous examples to enhance understanding Each chapter includes an introduction to ensure a smooth flow of topics making the book engaging and interesting to work with We hope this book meets your highest expectations and provides a solid foundation in Java programming Advances in Object-Oriented Information Systems Jean-Michel Bruel,Zohra Bellahsene,2003-08-02 For the rst time four workshops have been held in conjunction with the 8th Object Oriented Information Systems conference OOIS 2002 to encourage teraction between researchers and practitioners Workshop topics are of course inline with the conference s scienti c scope and provide a forum for groups of researchers and practitioners to meet together more closely and to exchange opinions and advanced ideas and to share preliminary results on focused issues in an atmosphere that fosters interaction and problem solving The conference hosted four one day workshops The four selected workshops were fully in the spirit of a workshop session hosted by a main conference Indeed OOIS deals with all the topics related to the use of object oriented techniques for the development of information systems The four workshops are very speci c and contribute to enlarging the spectrum of the more general topics treated in the main conference The rst workshop focused on a very speci c and key c cept of object oriented development the specialization generalization hierarchy The second one explored the use of non traditional approaches at the edge of object oriented techniques such as aspects AI etc to improve reuse The third workshop dealt with optimization in Web based information systems And nally the fourth workshop investigated issues related to model driven software development
