Metal Ions in Toxicology Astrid Sigel, Helmut Sigel, Roland K. O. Sigel, 2011 It is an old wisdom that metals are indispensable for life Indeed several of them like sodium potassium and calcium are easily discovered in living matter However the role of metals and their impact on life remained largely hidden until inorganic chemistry and coordination chemistry experienced a pronounced revival in the 1950s The experimental and theoretical tools created in this period and their application to biochemical problems led to the development of the field or discipline now known as Bioinorganic Chemistry Inorganic Biochemistry or more recently also often addressed as Biological Inorganic Chemistry By 1970

Bioinorganic Chemistry was established and further promoted by the book series Metal Ions in Biological Systems founded in 1973 edited by H S who was soon joined by A S and published by Marcel Dekker Inc New York for more than 30 years After this company ceased to be a family endeavor and its acquisition by another company we decided after having edited 44 volumes of the MIBS series the last two together with R K O S to launch a new and broader minded series to cover today's needs in the Life Sciences Therefore the Sigels new series is entitled Metal Ions in Life Sciences After publication of the first four volumes 2006 2008 with John Wiley a most experienced Publisher in the Sciences
